In Memoriam.*

EDWIN RUTHVEN PURPLE, the third son of Lyman Smith Purple and Minerva Sheffield his wife, was born in the town of Sherburne, Chenango Co., N. Y., on June 30, 1831. His maternal grandfather, James (Fones) Sheffield, was born in Charlestown, R. I., April 12, 1766, and was of the medical profession. His paternal grandfather was Ansel Purple, born in Middle Haddam, Ct., in 1773, and his earlier paternal ancestor Edward Purple, of Haddam, Ct., 1674, was of English descent.

After the death of his father, which occurred May 7, 1839, and before Edwin was eight years old, he was placed by his mother and elder brother at school in Earlville, Madison Co., N. Y., where he continued until the spring of 1846. In the summer of that and the following year he was employed at farm labor, living at home during the winter months, and attending the Earlville Academy—deemed at that time one of the best and most flourishing high schools in the county. In March, 1847, he came to the City of New York and secured employment as a clerk in a drygoods importing house. Here he remained about three years, until the spring of 1850. In 1848 he became a member of the Laight Street Baptist Church, to which his family belonged, and to which he remained attached while in the city.

In 1850 his employer arranged to close his business in New York, and established himself in San Francisco, Cal.—the land of great promise and of great attraction—and made such favorable overtures as to induce Edwin to follow him to that El Dorado; and accordingly, April 13, 1850, he embarked, on the steamship Cherokee, for Chagres, and went thence to Panama, where he took a sailing vessel (the bark Winthrop) for San Francisco, where he arrived on the 12th of July following, taking up three months, instead of a six months' passage around Cape Horn. On arrival he found that his employer, who had preceded him, had sold the stock of merchandise to arrive, and had abandoned the idea of setting up business for himself in California, having found that it was easier to sell goods at a profit than to secure a store at a moderate rent, or have any assurance against disaster. Remaining in San Francisco a few days, he went to Sacramento City, where, through the introduction of a friend, he hired an ox-team and wagon, loaded it with flour and other provisions, and started on a trading tour across the Sierra Nevada mountain range, to meet the incoming emigration across the plains. This expedition proved successful, and to him was both romantic and adventurous. Soon after his return to Sacramento, late in August, 1850, the cholera broke out there, and for days the principal business houses and public places of that city were closed, and the streets nearly deserted. On this calamitous account he left for San Francisco, and from thence went to Stockton, where, in December, 1850, he fell back to his former quiet position, and obtained a clerkship in the store of Seneca Dean, formerly of Orange Co., N. Y. There were many in that region from the Empire State.

In February, 1851, he commenced mining at Carson's Creek and Murphy's Camp, in Calaveras Co., and in October of that year formed a copartnership with Edwin T. Lake, an old trader in mining supplies, on the North Branch of the Calaveras River, and remained in this business two years. In the fall of 1853 he dissolved copartnership with Mr. Lake, designing to return to New York; but, being detained longer than he expected in the settlement of his business, he commenced the study of law in the office of William Jeff. Gatewood, Esq., of San Andreas, two miles from North Branch. His practical observance of rules as an accountant made the study of law as a science less difficult to him. In September, 1854, he was elected one of the justices in the Fifth Township, then one of the most populous in Calaveras Co. At that time the jurisdiction of justices of the peace extended to all actions, and in civil cases where the amount involved did not exceed five hundred dollars, and they had original jurisdiction in all actions to determine the right to mining claims. The business of the office, both civil and criminal, was large, and during his term was increased by disability, by reason of sickness of Judge Spencer, the other Township Justice. His mind and talents, to say nothing of his patience, were fully exercised. In the fall of 1855 he was elected one of the three supervisors of Calaveras County, and served in that capacity one year. In November, 1855, he was admitted to practise as an attorney at law in the county courts of Calaveras County. From 1855 to 1860 he was one of the nine proprietors, and was the secretary and treasurer of the San Antonio Ridge Ditch and Mining Company, which, in addition to supplying water for mining and agricultural purposes in the central portion of Calaveras Co., was also extensively engaged in the manufacture and sale of lumber in that region.

In May, 1860, he removed to Fort Yuma, California, where he was employed as Agent of the Butterfield Overland Mail Company, until the mail service between St. Louis and San Francisco on the southern route was discontinued in April, 1861. At that date, a contract having been made by the company with the government to carry a daily overland mail between St. Joseph's, Missouri, and Placerville, California, commencing July 1, 1861, the stock and stages of the company from Tucson in Arizona to Los Angeles in California were ordered to the new route between Placerville and Great Salt Lake City. On the 8th of May, 1861, in charge of one hundred and thirty horses and eighteen stages, with thirty men, he left Los Angeles for Salt Lake City, where he arrived, without the loss of an animal, on the 16th of June; the distance being about eight hundred miles, and half of which was through a desert country, inhabited only by roving bands of Indians. Here, as the Agent of the Overland Company, he remained until June, 1862, and then left there with a small company, principally old Californian acquaintances, for the Salmon River Gold Diggings in Oregon. Their heavy wagons loaded with supplies and drawn by oxen, were compelled to travel slowly, while the unusual falls of rain that season along the route greatly increased the difficulty and labor of crossing the mountain streams and very much retarded their progress. On the 30th of July they reached the Beaver Head, the main stream of the Jefferson Fork of the Missouri River, which they prospected for gold. Not finding the precious metal in paying quantities, they pushed on north to Gold Creek, in Deer Lodge Valley, where they arrived on the 7th of August. Here they concluded to abandon the idea of going to the Salmon River Mines, near Fort Walla Walla, 425 miles distant, and, owing to the shortness of the season, made preparations to go into winter quarters at Stuart's ranche, located at the mouth of Gold Creek, and owned by two brothers, James and Granville Stuart (afterward called American Fork). This was a favorite winter resort of the early trappers and pioneers. After leaving the Beaver Head they met a party of seven men, John White and others, on their way from Deer Lodge to Willard's Creek (a tributary of the Beaver Head) for the purpose of prospecting it for gold. These were undoubtedly the first white men that found gold in Willard's Creek (or Grasshopper, as it was called by them), the discovery of which peopled that country, till then a mountain wilderness, with at least fifteen thousand inhabitants in the spring and summer following. They contended with the rocks for subsistence and for wealth, and not with each other in arms, and, finding other rich placers in that region, fixed the status of Montana as one of the richest and most valuable of the western gold and silver producing Territories.

In December, 1862, Mr. Purple opened a store at Bannack City, where these new discoveries of gold were made, his stock in trade consisting principally of provisions and mining utensils, which had been brought with him from Salt Lake City. Having disposed of these, in December, 1863, he left the Territory of Montana for New York, where he arrived in February, 1864, after an absence from his native State of nearly fourteen years. Here he entered into a business connection with Gov. James Duane Doty, ex-Gov. of Wisconsin, and others, for the sale of mining property, in which they were mutually interested in Montana. In April, 1864, he left again for that territory, but was taken seriously sick, and returned in December following to New York. His many exposures had impaired his health.

In 1869 he became a member of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society—the first year of the existence of the Society. On the 10th of December, 1870, he read before the Society his first paper, being extracts from the MS. autobiography of William Gowans, the antiquarian bookseller and publisher then but recently deceased. On the 13th of May, 1871, he read a paper on the Biography of Cadwallader Colden, a Colonial Governor, Physician, and Philosopher. He gradually acquired an interest in genealogical investigations and a taste for family history. He took up the Colden papers, in possession of his brother, and prepared for the NEW YORK GENEALOGICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL RECORD the "Notes Biographical and Genealogical of the Colden Family, and some of its Collateral Branches in America," which were published in the number for October, 1873. These notes were, perhaps, kept back too long, to give place to others less important and less attractive. An edition of fifty copies, in book form, of this article was privately printed in 1873.

The number of the RECORD for January, 1875, contained from his pen an elaborate Biographical and Genealogical Sketch of David Provoost of New Amsterdam, and some of his Descendants. An edition of one hundred copies of this article, in book form, was privately printed in 1875.

From early youth he exhibited a deep-rooted fondness for exact knowledge, particularly mathematics and history. This in after years led him, in genealogical pursuits, to examine carefully the source of New Netherland family history; and his attention was soon directed to the changing forms of Dutch family nomenclature. His careful and untiring application to this class of difficult investigations soon made him an expert in tracing with certainty the descendants of the first settlers of New Amsterdam.

The first instalment of his "Contributions to the History of the Ancient Families of New York" appeared in the RECORD for April, 1876, containing four generations of the Stillé, Woretendyk, Van Schaick, Somerendyk, Siecken, alias Dey family, Brevoort, Grevenraet, De Reimer, and Zyperus families. In the July number, Wouterszen Van Breestede, Peterzen Van Alcmaer, Santvoort, Echerson, Sammans, Stridles, Wanshaer, Tymens, and Van der Veen families. In the October number, the first three generations of the Leisler family, correcting many previous errors, and with a note embracing the De Kleyn family. An emended edition, consisting of seventy-five copies, in book form, was privately printed in 1877, with the following title: Genealogical Notes Relating to Lieut. Gov. Jacob Leisler and his Family Connections in New York. In the January number for 1877 appeared the Loockermans and Varicks; in the April and July numbers, the Kip family (much more full and exact than any we had before), with two corrections. An emended edition of seventy-five copies, in book form, was privately printed in 1877 with the following title: "Contributions to the History of the Kip Family of New York and New Jersey."

In the numbers of the RECORD from January, 1878, to January, 1879, appeared the Meyer, De Meyer, and Varleth families, with various family connections, such as the Hermans, Brockholst, French, Philipse, Teller, Schuyler, Bayard, and others. There also appeared in the number for January, 1879, his very important and instructive list of "Dutch Aliases." To him are the readers of the RECORD indebted for the laborious indexes to names of several of the volumes of that work.

These varied and important contributions to the family history of New Amsterdam (or New Netherland) and New York, much of the material for which are derived from the unpublished as well as published records of the Reformed Dutch and other churches, are herewith reprinted, with extensive emendations and additions, as a memorial by his surviving brother.

It perhaps need not be said—nor is it to be supposed—that all he has written has been published. In the preparation of this personal history we have been permitted to consult the MS. history of the Purple Family, prepared, with much labor, by him and his only surviving brother,

He died at 47 years of age, and his travels and labors are ended. His style, like that of a truthful genealogist, was as free from surplusage, embellishment, or ornament, as that of an accountant's ledger. He had something biographical to say, but no one would discover by what he said that he had travelled far, or that he had ever visited California. His notes of travels, which are preserved, are both interesting and important. He wrote about such a notable character as Lieut.-Gov. JACOB LEISLER, so that few, whether friendly or hostile, had any reply or complaint; and in his writings there are exhibitions of depth and strength of thought and sentiment deserving of particular notice.

In 1876, the New York Academy of Medicine, having purchased a building for its use, and having received from his brother, who was then its President, a gift of over three thousand volumes of medical works, the value of which has been estimated at ten thousand dollars, Mr. Purple was selected to the important position of assistant or acting librarian, and, in the language of Dr. Laurence Johnson, his biographer before the Academy, he entered upon the duties of the office in the autumn of that year. He brought to the task before him not only a love for books, but an inexhaustible fund of patience. He began his work with the same painstaking care that characterized his labors as a genealogist, and of the work he here performed but little will ever have to be undone. He labored zealously and hopefully. He believed in a great and successful future for this library, and had an unbounded faith in its ultimate success. He continued to arduously labor in the library until February, 1878, when a sudden and alarming hemorrhage from the stomach suspended, for a time, his work. His progress toward recovery was slow. He visited the library from time to time, but his active labors were over. When satisfied that he would never be able to resume active duty as librarian, he tendered his resignation, and presented the sum due him as salary, which he had never drawn from the beginning of his work, to the library fund of the Academy, initiated by his brother. This generous and graceful act, on the part of one not a member, was without precedent in the history of the Academy. It deserved a special recognition. To provide for this and any future contingency of like character, the Academy created the honorary title of Benefactor, and Mr. Purple was the first elected to that title. His gift formed the nucleus of the Academy's present library endowment, which has grown, as the library has grown, to respectable dimensions. His death from pneumonia occurred on the 20th of January, 1879. To us of the New York Academy of Medicine, his life was full of promise and usefulness. He began here a work which is left to others to carry on toward completion. It is peculiarly fitting in this new Library Hall, which has just been dedicated under such brilliant auspices, that we pause for a moment from the usual labor which engages us to pay the tribute of respect to the memory of one whose last years were consecrated to its service.

He was the recipient of distinguished honors from various historical and other learned societies, none of which did he value more than that of honorary member of the Historical Society of Montana, located at Helena City, Montana.

On the 13th of February, 1868, he married MARY FRANCES, daughter of Charles HAWLEY and of Mary Van Antwerp (Lynch) Close of New York. Five children were born to them—three survive him, all daughters. His wife's descent was brought out briefly in the History of the Kip Family, and this was written when his little child was fatally sick. The dedication of it, as separately printed, was to the memory of this child as follows :

ANCIENT FAMILIES OF NEW YORK.

A proper respect for the memory of ancestors is not only laudable, but deeply implanted in the hearts of the good and wise of all civilized nations. To affect indifference to matters that pertain to family history is but to acknowledge the weakness of conceit, and to ignore the well-established law "that the past is the parent of the future." The founders of the new world, whatever may have been their ancestral origin in the old, joined hands and hearts in a common issue—the planting of a nation whose influence is now felt to the remotest parts of the earth. To trace the origin and disclose the somewhat obscure relations of some of the ancient families of the colony and State of New York is the purpose of the following pages.

STILLE. WOERTENDYK. SOMERENDYK.

(FIRST FOUR GENERATIONS.)

CORNELIS JACOBSEN, alias CORNELIS JACOBSEN VAN VREELANDT, alias CORNELIS JACOBSEN STILLE, the ancestor of the Somerendyck and Woertendyk families, was in New Amsterdam as early as May, 1639, and may have been the junior Cornelis Jacobsen, who, with Cornelis Jacobsen, Senior, of Mertensdyk, leased, on the 14th of May, 1638, from Barent Dircksen, baker, the bouwery or farm called Walenstyne. He and Jan Jacobsen Stille, probably his brother, were farmers and leased together 15th August, 1639, from Jonas Bronck, a lot of land with dwelling-house and stock. His brother was probably the Jan Jacobsen of Vrelant, who made a marriage contract, August 15, 1639, with Maritje Pieters, of Copenhagen, and who conveyed, July 29, 1644, to Lambert Valckenburgh, a house on the island of Manhattan with 25 morgens of land adjoining. He probably left the country soon after or died without issue.

On the 29th July, 1641, Cornelis Jacobsen Stille deeded to Lambert Huybertsen Mol a house and plantation next to Hans Hansen [Bergen] on Long Island, and May 13th, 1643, leased of Cornelis Van Tienhoven his bouwery in the Smiths Valley. On the 18th March, 1647, he obtained from Gov. Kieft a patent for bouwery No. 6, previously occupied by Wolfert Gerritsen [Van Couwenhoven], containing 28½ morgens of land.¹ This estate, says Mr. Valentine,² lay between Division Street and the East River, extending eastward nearly to Corlear's Hook, and on the south-west included Wolfert's Meadows, through which ran the stream which carried the waters of the Kalkhook, or Fresh Water pond, to the East River. The original Stille farm house was situated at the head of Chatham Square, on the north-west corner of the present East Broadway; the kitchen stood on the opposite side of East Broadway. Before 1668 Stille conveyed one-half of this farm to Augustine Hermans, which portion was again conveyed, January 10th, 1685, to Wolfert Webbers and Hendrick Cornelisen [Van Schaick] by Francisca Hermans, as attorney for her father.¹ The premises were later known as the Rutgers farm, but have for many years comprised one of the most densely populated portions of the city.

CORNELIS JACOBSEN [Stille¹], j. m., (young man or bachelor) from Vreelandt; m. 1st, Aug. 24, 1642, Claesje Theunis, j. d., (young daughter or maid) from Amsterdam; m. 2^d, July 26, 1659, Tryntje Walings, from Amsterdam. He was living Jan. 20, 1683, and probably was the Cornelis Jacobse, of the city of New York, naturalized June 7, 1684.² His widow, Teuntje [Tryntje] Walings, m. August 6, 1686. 10. JACOB CORNELISZEN STILLE,² (2) bap. Sept. 27, 1643. It was a custom of great antiquity in Holland, and of common practice among the early settlers of New Netherland, to add to the name given to a male at his birth or baptism that of his father's first name with the addition thereto of zen, zoon, se, or sen, meaning son. To the female's name was added her father's Christian name, with the addition usually of s, and sometimes (though paradoxical) zen or se. His name appears more frequently in the records as Jacob Corneliszen, i. e., Jacob son of Cornelis, than as Jacob Corneliszen Stille or Jacob Stille. His sisters Neeltje and Janneken are called Neeltje Cornelis, Jannetie Cornelis, and rarely Neeltje and Jannetie Stille. His sons took the surnames of Somerendyk and WOERTENDYK, finally retaining the latter as their family name. He m. 1st, March 5, 1671, Aeltje Fredericks from Brasiel. VAN SCHAICK.

(FIRST FOUR GENERATIONS.)

Besides the two families of Goosen Gerritse and Claas Van Schaick, who early settled on the upper Hudson, and are referred to by Prof. Pearson, in the RECORD, vol. 2, p. 191, there was another of the same name, of which Cornelis Aertszen, who settled in New Amsterdam prior to 1641, was the head. In January, 1669-70, Ariaen Cornelissen, Hendrick Cornelissen, and Lysbeth Cornelissen, described as the lawful heirs of Cornelis Aertsen, conveyed to Capt. John Berry, of Bergen, in New Jersey, two parcels of land on the Island of Manhattan; "the first, lying and being on east end of Cornelis Jacobsen (Stille), and on the west end of Corlears plantation, &c;" the second, "lying against land formerly belonging to Hans Kierstede, beginning from the first marsh, over against Augustine Hermans' land, from thence to the fence of Bastiaen, the negroes land, and so to the fence of Thomas Hall's land; which said two parcels of land were confirmed unto the said heirs of Cornelis Aertsen, by a patent from Rt. Hon. Gov. Francois Lovelace, bearing date, 16th Sept., 1669, &c." Of his personal history but little is known; Mr. Valentine in his History of the City of New York, says he was at one time the tenant of Gov. Stuyvesant's farm, on the Bowery, and long supplied the families of the city with country produce; he was afterwards a tenant on the old Damen farm, east from Broadway, a short distance above the city gate. He probably came to New Amsterdam with his wife Belitje Hendricks, there being no record of their marriage here. He was sponsor at the baptism of his gr-dau. Belitje, Oct. 1, 1663, and in 1665 was living without the land gate; he died between the year 1665, and Sept. 1669. About the year 1680, his sons began to use the surname of VAN SCHAICK. At his 2d marriage, July 10, 1662, to Weyntie Elberts, widow of Aert Willemszen, he is called the widower of Belitje Hendricks. By his 2d wife had no issue.

WOUTERSZEN—BREESTEDE.

EGBERT WOUTERSZEN from Yselstein, a town in Holland, was residing June 20th, 1640, at Jan de Lachers Hook, (at present Mill Creek Point, Jersey City,) at which date he gave a receipt for three imported milch cows and three mares hired from the West India Company. He took the lease of a bouwery, Dec. 1, 1646, on Manhattan Island, and May 10, 1647, obtained a patent for a tract of land called in Indian Apopcalyck, lying across the North River, west of the Manhattans.¹ He was enrolled a small burgher of New Amsterdam, April 17, 1657, and married, Sept. 1, 1641, Engel Jan Van Breestede, widow of Jan Janszen. He died about 1680, without issue. It appears that his wife had by her first husband the following named children, who are described in a deed dated May 20, 1683, as the children and co-heirs of Egbert Wouterse, late of the city of New York, deceased.²

1. JAN JANSZEN VAN BREESTEDE who m. Nov. 1, 1647, Marritje Lucas j. d. of New Amsterdam. In the New York D. C. Baptismal records she is called Marritje Andries. They had a large family of children who comprised the third generation of the BREESTEDE family of New York.

2. TRVNTJE JANSZEN VAN BREESTEDE who m. June 3, 1646, Ruth Jacobsz. of Renselaerswyck, (Rutger Jacobse Van Schoenderwoert or Van Woert), and whose descendants assumed the surname of RUTGERS.

3. DOROTHEA JANS VAN BREESTEDE who, m. April 19, 1650, Volckert Janszen from Fredrickstadt, and whose descendants comprise the Douw family of New York.³

4. ELSJE JANS VAN BREESTEDE, who m. 1st, May 17, 1643, Adriaen Peterszen Van Alcmaer, widower of Grietje Pieters, of whom presently. She married 2d Hendrick Jochemse of Esopus.

ADRIAEN PIETERSZEN VAN ALCMAER.

On the 3d of Feb. 1640, Adriaen Petersen of Alcmaer, purchased of Hendrick Petersen of Wesel, a plantation near the reed valley, hard by Sappokanican (Greenwich) on the Island of Manhattan. This is the first notice found of him. On the 7th September, 1645, he obtained a patent for a lot of land north of the fort, and April 13, 1647, another for a tract near Sappokanican. He married May 17, 1643, ELSJE JANS VAN BREESTEDE, dau. of Jan Janszen and Engel Jans Van Breestede, and the step-dau. of Egbert Wouterszen. At the time of his marriage he was the widower of Grietje Pieters. Some incidents of the manner in which he wooed and won his second wife, have come down to us in the record of the Council Minutes of that period. It appears that Elsje was in the service of Cornelis Melyn, of Staten Island, who brought suit against Egbert Wouterszen, husband and guardian of Engel Jans, her mother, for damages on account of Elsje's marriage engagement before her term of service to him had expired. On the trial of the case Sept. 11, 1642, she testified that her mother and another woman had brought a young man to Staten Island whom she had never seen before, and desired her to marry him ; she declined at first, as she did not know him, and had no inclination to marry, but finally consented. She concluded her testimony by returning in court the pocket-handkerchief she had received as a marriage present. On the 16th October following, she made a declaration that she sent for Adrian Pietersen, and that on his coming to Staten Island she accompanied him on board his yawl. A week later, Melyn and the Fiscal had Pietersen before the court charged with Elsje's abduction. Pietersen was ordered to bring her into court, deliver her to Melyn, and receive her again from him on giving security for the payment of any damages that Melyn may have suffered.

He died prior to July 3, 1664, on which day Jan Janse from Breeste, (Jan Janse Breestede) guardian of his orphan children, petitioned for compensation for part of a lot belonging to his estate at the Marketfield in New Amsterdam.* His widow married Hendrick Jochemse of the Esopus, prob. the Hendrick Jochemse of Beverwyck, 1654-1669. Adriaen Pieterszen Van Alcmaer and Elsje Jans Van Breestede had issue :

He was a shoemaker, and when the forced loan was levied by Gov. Colve in 1674, on the inhabitants of New Orange, his property was valued at 2,500 guilders. In the Baptismal records it rightly appears WILLIAM WALTON. He was probably the son of Thomas Walton and ——— Lawrence, whose m. l. is dated Dec. 16, 1671. Thomas Walton resided at Staten Island, and was arrested July 8, 1689, and confined in the fort at New York for having said that he would retake the fort (from Leisler) with 200 men. He deceased prior to Dec. 12, 1689, at which date an order was issued to Obadiah Holmes, justice of Richmond County, to assist Capt. Thomas Lawrence in taking an inventory of his estate.* Thomas Walton prob. another son of the above married Mary Stillwell; m. l. dated Dec. 23, 1698; of him we have no further account. † He was probably a son of Gysbert Uytten Bogert and his wife Willemetje Klaas; the latter with Isaac Stoutenburg was sponsor at the baptism of Dirck's first son, Gysbert. It appears to have been a universal custom among the early Dutch settlers to give the eldest son his (paternal) grandfather's name, and this custom affords an almost unerring rule in tracing the line of descent. The father of Dirck Uytten Bogaert, was probably the Gysbert Uytten Bogaert who on the 26th of May, 1684, obtained an Indian Deed for a tract of land, lying on the north bank of the Catskill, extending from Boomties Hook, (at the mouth of the Catskill), up the Hudson River to a small Kill, opposite Vastrix Island, thence west to Dirck Teunissen's mill; thence south to the first little Kill that flows into Hans Vossen Kill; thence along the same to where it falls into the Catskill, and thence along the Catskill to Boomties Hook. — (Calendar of Land Papers, p. 28). Besides Dirck, he prob. had Aeltje, who m. 1st, Zacharias Zluys, and m. 2d, Nov. 14, 1695, Jacobus Van Duersen, j. m. from Albany; Neeltje, who m. The head of this family was in New Amsterdam as early as 1644, following the vocation of Pilot. In the record of his marriage, Jan. 17, 1649, to Baertje Hendricks Kip, j. d. from Amsterdam, he is called Jan Janszen, j. m. Van Tubingen, probably the town of that name in Suabia, in Germany. At the baptism of his children his name is variously recorded, Jan Janszen Van St. Cubis, Van St. Ubus, Van St. Obyn, Jan Van Sara, Jan Wanshaer Van St. Benen, JAN WANSHAER¹ (sometimes written Manshaer), and Jan de Caper, i. e. in English Jan the Sailor. He was admitted to the rights of a small burgher April 18, 1657, and appears to have been one of the substantial and respectable citizens of the city. His name and that of his wife is recorded in the list of Old Members of the Dutch Church, or of those who joined the church between 1649 and 1660. He resided on Brouwer Straat, now that part of Stone street between Broad and Whitehall streets.

His widow married 2d, Dec. 12, 1677, Jan Dirckszen Meyer, widower of Tryntje [Andriesse] Grevenraet.* She survived her second husband, by whom she had no children, and was living July 12th, 1702. TYMENS—VAN DER VEEN.

There is nothing more perplexing to one engaged in tracing the pedigrees of the early Dutch settlers, than the changes sometimes found in the name of the same individual. Among these will be noted those which occur in the children of a widow upon her remarriage, who frequently bear the name of their stepfather, as well as their proper Dutch patronymic. Thus the name of Elsje Elberts, daughter of Elbert Janszen and Elsje Jans, after her mother's second marriage to Otto Grim, is sometimes recorded Elsje Grim. So we find Elsje Tymens, after the third marriage of her widowed mother to Govert Loockermans, called Elsje Loockermans, as though she was his putative daughter instead of his step daughter.

ELSJE TYMENS (Thymens) wife of PIETER CORN. VAN DER VEEN and daughter of Thymen and Marritje Janszen, was born in New Amsterdam. Her father was a ship carpenter and must have come to New Netherland as early as 1633, perhaps with Director General Wouter Van Twiller in April of that year. On the 16th of April 1639, then aged 36 years, he made before Secretary Cornelis Van Tienhoven, with Jacob Hoffelsen (Stoffelsen?), overseer, aged about 37 years, and Gillis Petersen Van der Gouw, house carpenter, aged 27 years, a deposition in regard to the dilapidated state of the Fort, and the bad condition of affairs generally at New Amsterdam, at the time of the arrival, March 28, 1638, of Director William Kieft in the ship Haring.* In 1642, he obtained a patent for land on Mespas Kill, L. I., and July 3, 1643, one for land on Manhattan Island, and another, July 13, the same year for land on Long Island. He died soon after. Her mother, Marritje Janszen, was a daughter of Tryn Jonas (Jansen?) midwife at New Amsterdam, and a sister of Anneke Jans who married—first, Roelof Janszen, and second, the Rev. Everardus Bogardus. She married her second husband, Dirck Corneliszen j. m. van Wensveen, Aug. 28, 1646, by whom she had Cornelis (Dirckszen), baptized March 17, 1647; he married Nov. 17, 1672, Grietje Hendricks of New York, daughter of Hendrick Willemszen, and had son Dirck, baptized March 2, 1674. Cornelis Dirckszen, above named, deceased before May 1678, and his widow, Grietje Hendricks, married October, 1678, John Robinson, merchant of New York, and had Marie, baptized July 18, 1683, and Grietje baptized October 12, 1684. Dirck Corneliszen, the second husband of Marritje Janszen, was living in August, 1647, but had deceased before August, 29, 1648, at which date his widow gave a power of attorney to William Turck and Seth Verbrugge to receive certain accounts, &c., in the hands of Wouter Van Twiller at Amsterdam.¹ She married, third, Govert Loockermans,² by whom she had son Jacob, baptized March 17, 1652; he was a physician and settled in the county of St. Mary, Province of Maryland. For an account of his descendants see Vincent's History of Delaware, vol. 1, p. 474. Govert Loockermans died about 1670, and his widow was buried Nov. 20, 1677.³ In her will, dated May 7, 1677, with codicil, dated Nov. 1, she is styled Mrs Mary Jansen, widow of Govert Lockermans, and names the three children of her daughter Elsce Lysler by Peter Cornelis Van der Veen deceased, as follows: Cornelius, Timothy, and Margaretta, to whom she gives the sum of one hundred guilders ($40) in beavers, at eight guilders a piece; to Anna, daughter of William Bogardus, the sum of fifty guilders in beavers. Names as her universal heirs, her children Elsie Tymans, married with Jacob Leysler; Cornelis Dirkse married with Grietie Hendrickse, and Jacob Lockermans not married. Makes a small bequest to Mary Van Brugh, daughter of Mr. Johannes Van Brugh, and to Susannah Leysler, her said daughter's daughter. ELSJE TYMENS m. 1st Jan. 7, 1652, PIETER CORN. VAN DER VEEN j. m. from Amsterdam. The first notice of him is found in the record of his marriage. He was a merchant in New Amsterdam, admitted to the rights of a small burgher April 11, 1657, and in 1658 was appointed one of the Commissioners to treat with the Esopus Indians. Soon after his marriage he erected the first brick house built in this city, and situated on the present westerly side of Whitehall between Pearl and State Streets. He was the principal projector in company with Cornelius de Potter, of the first ship, the "New Love," known to have been built at this port.⁴ He died in 1661, and his widow married Jacob Leisler, of whom hereafter. LEISLER.

(FIRST THREE GENERATIONS.)

I. JACOB LEISLER¹ (Loyseler, Leysler, Leydsler, Leydser, Lysler), from Frankfort, came to New Netherland a soldier in the West India Company's service in 1660. He embarked in the ship Otter from Amsterdam, the 27th of April of that year. There was a tradition among his descendants that he came originally from France, and a vague report, a hundred years or so ago in New York, that he was a Swiss.¹ It is more likely that he was born in Frankfort, and was, therefore, a native of Germany. A Susanna Leydser was one of the sponsors at the baptism, Feb. 10, 1664, of Susanna, his eldest daughter. The conjecture is a fair one that she was his mother. He joined the Dutch Church in New Amsterdam Oct. 2, 1661, and married, April 11, 1663, Elsje Tymens, widow of Pieter (Cornelisen) Van der Veen, who was, in his day, a reputable and wealthy merchant of this city. He probably succeeded to the business left by Van der Veen, as a few years after his marriage we find him engaged in mercantile pursuits, through which, and by his marriage, he acquired a large estate, and was ranked among the wealthiest citizens of his time. In 1678, while on a voyage to Europe, he was taken prisoner by the Turks, to whom he paid a large ransom for his freedom. On the 10th of Sept., 1684, he was commissioned Captain of a Militia Company in New York. He purchased for the Huguenots, Sept. 20, 1689, of John Pell and Rachel his wife, six thousand acres of land within the manor of Pelham, now the township of New Rochelle, in Westchester Co., New York.²

Early in 1689 news reached New York of the overthrow of James the Second, and the accession of William, Prince of Orange, to the English throne. The people having determined to seize Fort James, in the interest of King William and Queen Mary, they selected Capt. Jacob Leisler to carry their design into effect. On the 3d of June, 1689, the day following its seizure, Lieut.-Governor Nicholson left New York for England. The same day Leisler issued a proclamation declaring that his intention in holding the fort was to preserve the Protestant religion, and that he should hold it only until the arrival of a Governor with orders from his Royal Highness, the Prince of Orange, then daily expected, into whose hands it would be immediately delivered up. But this expectation, unfortunately for him, and the peace of the Province, was not realized until the arrival of Gov. Sloughter, in March, 1691. In the meantime, Leisler, on the 16th of August, 1689, was commissioned Commander-in-Chief, by a Committee of Safety, who represented a majority of the community.

In Dec., 1689, a messenger arrived in New York, bearing a letter from the English Government, addressed "To Francis Nicholson, Esq., or in his absence, to such as for the time being, takes care for preserving the peace and administering the laws in His Majesties province of New York." This letter gave authority to the person addressed to take chief command as Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, and to appoint a Council to assist him in conducting the government. By the advice of the Committee of Safety Leisler, on the 11th Dec., 1689, assumed the style of Lieutenant-Governor, and selected as his Council, Pieter De La Noy, Samuel Staats, Hendrick Jansen (Van Feurden), Johannes Vermelje, for the city and county of New York; Capt. Gerardus Beeckman, for Kings County; Samuel Edsall, for Queens County; Capt. Thomas Williams, for Westchester County; and William Lawrence, for the County of Orange. They appointed Jacob Milborne Secretary of the Province and Clerk to the Lieutenant-Governor and Council. On the 28th Jan., 1691, Capt. Richard Ingoldsby arrived in New York, bearing their Majesties' Commission as Captain of Foot, and, without producing any legal authority, he demanded of Leisler the possession of the fort, which was refused. Henry Sloughter, who had been appointed Governor in Chief of the Province, arrived on the 19th of March following, late in the day, and Leisler, "having notice thereof, that same night (though very late) took care to deliver the fort to his order, which was done very early the next morning." Sloughter immediately ordered the arrest of Leisler, and his friends with him, and called a special Court of Oyer and Terminer, which was held for their trial in April following. By this court, composed of some of his most virulent enemies, and which from the first, had prejudged him and his associates,¹ Leisler, and Jacob Milborne, his son-in-law, were convicted and attainted of high treason, for not delivering the possession of the fort to Capt. Richard Ingoldsby, and sentenced to death. They were executed together near the site of the present Hall of Records,² on Saturday, May 16, 1691, while the populace was overawed by military force, and their enemies "were carousing in beastly triumph and drunkenness." After execution (by hanging), they were beheaded and their bodies buried in ground belonging to Leisler, east of the Commons, and near the corner of a street called George street, supposed to be in the rear of the present "Tribune Building," between Spruce and Frankfort streets. They were reburied, with great solemnity by a large concourse of citizens, in the Old Dutch Church, in Garden street, now Exchange Place, Oct. 20, 1698. The British Parliament, in 1695, passed an act reversing their attainder, and restoring their estates to their families, thus virtually censuring the illegality of their execution. Hoffman, in Sparks' American Biography, Vol. 13; Collections of the N. Y. Historical Society, for 1868; Valentine's History of New York.*)

Elsje Tymens, the widow of Jacob Leisler, survived him some 13 or 14 years. She was living Sept. 17, 1704, at which date she was a sponsor at the baptism of Elizabeth, dau. of Barent Reinders. Issue.

2. i. SUSANNAH², bap. Feb. 10, 1664; joined the Dutch Church in New York, Dec. 3, 1681, and removed with certificate some time after to Bergen (N. J.). The date and place of her first marriage are not known. She m. 1st, Michiel Vaughton (called Farton in the Dutch Church Baptismal records), an Englishman and a protégé of Gov. Thomas Dongan, with whom he came to New York in August, 1683. He was a half-brother of John Spragg, Esq., who was a member of the Legislative Council in 1683, and subsequently Secretary of the Province of New York.

Governor Dongan describes Vaughton as having been "a volunteer two or three years on board ship with Captain Temple," etc., and "a pretty ingenious young man," who, happening to be in London when he came away, offered his services, which the Governor accepted and promised to aid him with money when in need of it "for to put him into some way." On the 11th of May, 1684, he was commissioned Clerk of the Market of New York, and in December following we find him Commander of the Sloop James, and authorized by warrant to proceed to the Sound and seize and send to the city all vessels that may seem to be engaged in unlawful traffic. Edward Antill was part owner of the vessel he commanded, Vaughton's share in it having been purchased with money loaned him by Gov. Dongan. In the spring of 1685, Hugh Riddle, a Scotchman and "poor Gentleman," coming into the Province from New Jersey, brought with him, without entry at the Custom House, a small parcel of linen of the value of three to five pounds. Some time after, Riddle and one of the Custom officers "drinking drunk together," fell to quarrelling, on which the officer went out, about one or two in the morning, and, meeting Vaughton, also a Custom House officer, compelled him to go with him to seize uncustomed goods, at Riddle's lodgings. Arrived there, they broke open the door, and Riddle, "still drunk," in endeavoring to keep them out, stabbed Vaughton, wounding him severely. For this offence he was thrown into prison, where he remained a long time awaiting Vaughton's recovery. Being in a starving condition, he was finally liberated upon the application of Mr. Vaughton, Mr. Spragg, and others, the Council ordering his goods to be released upon his paying the physicians their charges for attending Vaughton. These being more than the value of the goods, and Riddle a poor man, Mr. Spragg, in charity to him, paid the surgeons their demand, amounting to ten pounds.¹

On the 24th of January, 1702, Susanna Vaughton, his widow, petitioned for a patent of 300 acres of land, lying in the vicinity of the Crom Elboogh (Crum Elbow Creek), in Dutchess County, "which she alleges to be part of a purchase made by Henry Pawling (Sheriff of Esopus in 1684), under a license granted to her husband, in company with said Pawling, and for which no patent has as yet been granted."

The last notice of Michiel Vaughton where his identity is certain is found in the record of the baptism of his son Michiel, September 9, 1688. The sponsors at this baptism were John Spragg, Robbert Walters, and Catharina Leydser. He probably died soon after. His widow m. 2d, March 12 1704, Leonard (Huygen) de Kleyn,* by whom she had no issue.

* LEENDERT (LEONARD) HUYGEN OR KLEYN (de Cleyn, Cleyn) Van Buuren, was a son of Hugh Barentsen de Clein, who, with his wife and seven children, embarked from Amsterdam for New Netherland, in May, 1661, in the Beaver. Hugo Barents (de Kleyn) and his wife Mayken Bartels joined the Dutch Church in New Amsterdam, October 2, 1661. Leendert joined May 28, 1679, and m. 1st, April 25, 1683, Magdalena Wolsum (Wolsing, Wolsen), widow of Cornelis Van der Veen. He was a shop-keeper in New York for many years, but removed in the latter part of his life to New Rochelle, Westchester Co., N. Y., where he died in 1735, having survived his second wife, Susannah Leisler, a number of years. The latter part of his name is frequently dropped in the Dutch Records, and he appears simply as Leendert Huygen or Huygens. Issue:

† Elizabeth Rodenburg, dau. of Lucas Rodenburg and Catrina Roelofs, was born on the Island of Curaçoa, her father being vice director there from about 1646 to 1657, the year of his death. Her mother was a dau. of Roelof Jansen and Anneke Jans, and after the death of her first husband married 2d, April 24, 1658, Johannes Pieterszen Ver Brugge [Van Brugh] from Haerlem, a prominent merchant and magistrate of New Amsterdam.

Elizabeth Rodenburg m. 1st, September 3, 1679, Ephraim, son of Augustyn Hermans and Janneken Verleth. He was bap. September 1, 1652. In August, 1673, when the Dutch fleet under command of Benckes and Evertsen captured New York, he was a Clerk in the Secretary of State's Office, and was commissioned with others, by the Dutch Council of war, to administer the oath of allegiance to the inhabitants on Long Island. Removing to the Delaware, he was appointed, in 1676, Clerk of the courts of New Castle and Upland, the court giving him in 1678 a certificate for his excellent conduct while in office. After his marriage in New York he returned to Delaware, and was appointed Surveyor (to which profession his father belonged) June 22, 1680, for the counties of New Castle and St. Jones. About this time he joined the Labadists, a short-lived religious sect, of which Jean de Labadie was the founder, and whose followers Dankers and Sliuyter had with slight success sought to colonize on the Delaware. (Hazard's Annals of Penn., 426-51-72. Memoirs L. I. Hist. Soc., Vol. 1, xxxi., xxxiv., xxxv.) He died in 1689. His widow returned from New Castle and rejoined the Dutch Church in New York, September 1, 1689. They had issue bap. in New York: Augustinus, bap. July 7, 1680; Augustina, bap. 4. iii. JACOB,³ bap. Nov. 13, 1667. He was active in procuring from Parliament the reversal of the attainder of his father and brother-in-law Jacob Milborne, and for this purpose visited England in 1694-5. After his return he resided in the South Ward of New York, where he was living in Nov., 1731. He died without issue.

5. iv. MARV,² bap. Dec. 12, 1669; joined the Dutch Church in New York, Sept. 2, 1688, and afterwards removed to Bergen. In Feb., 1690 (m. l. dated Feb. 3 of that year), she married JACOB MILBORNE (Milburne, Melborn), the active Secretary of her father, and one of the leading spirits of his administration. He was born in England about 1648, and was a brother of Rev. William Milborne, who settled as minister of the church at Saco, Maine, in May, 1685, and prob. died at Boston, August, 1699.¹

It is alleged that he was convicted of clipping the Kings coin, and sold as a servant in the Barbadoes, and afterwards bought by a Hartford man.² If this story be true, he must have been a mere child at the time of the commission of the offence for which he was transported to Barbadoes. He was living in Hartford in 1663,³ came to New York in 1668, being then twenty years old, and was employed by Thomas Delavall, a leading merchant, as clerk and bookkeeper, in whose service he remained until 1672. In October of that year he was admitted to plead with John Sharp and Samuel Edsal, Attorneys for the Plaintiff, in the trial of a suit in the Court of Assizes, at New York, on appeal from the Court on the Delaware, brought by Armigart Pappegoya (dan. of the Swedish Governor Printz) against Andrew Carr, for the recovery of Tinnicum Island.⁴ He soon after engaged in trade as a merchant in New York, his commercial enterprises causing his frequent absence from the province. Returning from England on the 25th of August, 1689, he was appointed in December following Secretary of the Province and Clerk to Lient.-Gov. Leisler, with whom his subsequent history and sad fate is identified.

It is probable that Mary Leisler⁵ was the second wife of Jacob Milborne. In the list of members of the Dutch Church in New York, under date Nov. 29, 1688, appears the name of Johanna Edsal, h. v.⁵ Jacob Melborn. Opposite her name, Overst is written, but the date of her decease is not given. She was probably the dan. of Samuel Edsal and Jenneke Wessels, and bap. in Bergen, N. J., Sept. 4, 1667.

In the second preamble of the Act of Parliament in 1695, reversing the attainder of Jacob Leisler and others, the following is recited: "And whereas the said Jacob Leisler, also Jacob Milborne, Abraham Gouverneur, and several others, were arraigned in the Supreme Court of Judicature at New York aforesaid, and convicted and attainted of high treason and felony, for not delivering the possession of the said fort to the said Richard

The above is the only statement we have found, that Jacob Milborne left issue surviving him. This son (if the name is not an accidental interpolation in the above bill) was probably the fruit of Milborne's first marriage with Johanna Edsal, who, being in England at the time of his father's tragic death, afterwards remained there.

She is mentioned in the petition of her mother, brother, and sisters to the Queen (1694?), praying for the reversal of the Attainders pronounced against her father and Jacob Milborne.² No other notice is found of her, and it is probable that she was the step-daughter of Jacob Leisler, Margaret Van der Veen, who married Isaac Stephenszen. LOOCKERMANS.

AMONG the early settlers of New Netherland were five* persons bearing this name—Govert, Jacob and Pieter Janse Loockermans, and their sister Anneken, and a Balthus Loockermans. The modern form of the name is Lockerman, but in the early records of the family it is spelt Lookermans.

BALTHUS or BALTHAZER LOOCKERMANS was perhaps a cousin of the others, the exact relationship being difficult to determine, from the meagre records that have come down to us concerning him. He and his wife Engeltje Hendricks, had two children baptized in the Dutch Church in New Amsterdam, viz., Jacob, May 28, 1662, and Jannetie, Oct. 14, 1663.

PIETER JANSE LOOCKERMANS was in New Amsterdam in January, 1642, and we find traces of him here as late as Oct. 1648. In 1656 he was a citizen of Beverwyck (Albany,) and purchased there, Nov. 16, of that year, a house lot of Hendrik Gerritse (Van Wie or Verwey). In April, 1658,

* Anthony Loockermans with his partners Messrs. (Paulus Leendertsen) Van der Grist, (Cornelis) Schutt and (Cornelis) Stenwyck, on the 26th Nov., 1654, made an agreement with the Director (Stuyvesant) and Council, for the charter of the ship Golden Shark, for a voyage to the West Indies. Of him we have no other notice, and suppose that Govert Lookermans is the person alluded to. (Cal. N. Y. Hist. MSS. Dutch, p. 143.)

he was a boatswain in the West India Company's service. He probably had the following children :

- i. PIETER LOOCKERMANS, who probably had two daughters, viz. : Marritje, married at Albany, Dec. 5, 1694, to Johannes Fonda, and Lammertje, married at the same place, Nov. 3, 1700, to Ariaen Oothout.
- ii. MARIA LOOCKERMANS, who married, 1st, Pieter Van Alen, of Kinderhook, widower of Maria Teller, and, 2d, in 1677, Gerrit Van Nes, of Greenbush.
- iii. HILLETJE LOOCKERMANS, who married, prior to 1682, Cornelis Stephense Muller, of Greenbush, 1663; of Claverack, 1720.
- iv. CAATJE LOOCKERMANS, who married, prior to 1683, Jan Salomonse Goewey, of Albany.
- v. ANNA LOOCKERMANS, who married, 1st, prior to 1684, Adam Winne, of Albany, and, 2d, Oct. 18, 1691, Jacob Teunise Van Woert, widower of Catryn Claas, of the same place.*

JACOB JANSE LOOCKERMANS also settled in Beverwyck, as early as 1657. On the 28th of July, in that year, the Sheriff brought a suit against him for having assaulted Meuwes Hogenboom, and split his face open from his forehead to his under lip with his knife; he was fined 300 guilders ($120), and ordered to pay for loss of time, board, and surgical attendance. In May, 1664, he and John Davits were Commissioners to negotiate a treaty of peace between the Mohawks and the Northern Indians, or Abenakis, which they successfully concluded at Narrington, on the 24th of that month. In April, 1667, he purchased a house and lot in Albany, of Willem Jansen Schudt, and another July 25, 1684, of Laurence Van Alen. On the 24th of August, 1685, he obtained a license to travel, trade, and hunt among the Indians, as far as the Waggonasse and Attawaasse (Ottawas), with a company of thirty men. He was probably the Captain Loquerman, who, with Arian Abrahamse Schuyler and Jean Blaquerd, were detained as hostages in Canada by Gov. Denonville, while awaiting a reply to his letter to Gov. Dongan, dated Oct. 2, 1687, in which he complained of the infraction of the late treaty of peace by the English. He was living Aug. 18, 1700, at which date he was a sponsor at the baptism, in Albany, of his grandson Jacob, the son of Wessels Ten Broeck and Caatje Loockermans, who were married in Albany, April 2, 1684.†

ANNEKEN [ANN] LOOCKERMANS, j. d. Van Turnhout, married Feb. 26, 1642, OLOFT STEPHENSZEN [VAN CORTLANDT] j. m. Van Wyck in Duurstede. She probably came out with her brother Govert, on his return to New Netherland in Nov., 1641, her name first appearing in the records as one of the witnesses at the baptism, Dec. 1, 1641, of his eldest dau. Marritje. In the Members Book of the Dutch Church in New York, her husband's name is recorded Adolph Stephensen Van Courtlt, and at the baptism of their children, Olof Stephensen Van Courtlant and Van Courtlandt. The name is now spelled, we believe, by the family, Van Cortlandt.

Olof Stephenszen Van Cortlandt came to New Amsterdam in the ship Haring in 1637, a soldier in the West India Company's Service. He was promoted by Gov. Kieft, and in July, 1639, appointed Commissary of Cargoes, at a salary of thirty guilders ($12) per month. In 1645 was elected one of the Board of Eight men to adopt measures against the Indians, and in 1649, one of the Board of Nine men, of which body the following year he was President. He was elected Schepen of the City in 1654, and in 1655 was advanced to the higher position of Burgomaster, an office he held during the years 1656-58-59, 1662-63 and 1665. He was Alderman in 1666-67, 71, and succeeded Mr. Isaac Bedlow, upon the death of that gentleman, in the same office in 1673. His place of residence was in the Brouwer Straat, now Stone Street, where he was also engaged in business as a Brewer, in which occupation he became wealthy. "He had the character of being a worthy citizen and a man most liberal in his charities."* He died April 4, 1684, having survived his wife about a year.

Van Twiller in the ship Soutberg, which captured on her voyage a Spanish caravel, the St. Martin, to which vessel he was transferred, and which was brought safely into port. With him came Jacob Wolfertsen (Van Couwenhoven), whose first wife, Hester Jans, was a sister of Loockerman's first wife. Upon his arrival he was taken into the service of the West India Company, as clerk, but he soon left this employment and engaged in business on his own account.

In 1640 he went back to Holland, where he married 1st, in Amsterdam, Feb. 26, 1641, Ariaentje Jans, with whom he returned to New Amsterdam in the ship King David, Job Arentsen, Master, arriving here Nov. 29, 1641.

On the 20th Jan., 1642, he purchased of Isaac Allerton the yacht Hope, in which he was engaged in trade between New Amsterdam and Fort Orange (Albany), and intervening points along the river, also to the South or Delaware River, and up the Sound to the mouth of the Connecticut. In July, 1644, while his vessel was passing Beeren Island, on the Upper Hudson, he was hailed by Nicholas Coorn, Commander at Rensselaer's Stein, and ordered to lower his colors. On being asked for whom, Coorn replied, "for the Staple right of Rensselaerswyck." But Loockermans refused with an oath to strike his flag "for any individual save the Prince of Orange and the Lords, his masters," whereupon Coorn fired several shots at his vessel, one of which "went through the sail, and broke the ropes and the ladder," and another "perforated the princely colors, about a foot above the head of Loockermans, who kept the colors constantly in his hands."

On the night of the 27th of Feb., 1643, Maryn Adriaensen and Govert Loockermans, by order of Gov. Kieft, led the attack of a company of citizens upon a party of Indians who had encamped with their women and children, at Corlears Hook. Thirty of the savages were killed while asleep and unsuspecting of danger from those they had deemed their friends. It is said that the recollection of this terrible and needless massacre, though approved by the general sentiment of that time, gave him much disquietude during the later years of his life.

His trading and shipping operations kept pace with the growth of New Amsterdam and the river towns, and before 1649 he had two or three times visited Holland, and established an extensive commercial correspondence with that country. He also carried on a large brewing business in Pearl Street, near the present Hanover Square, where he resided. In Sept., 1651, he was sentenced to be banished for three years on a charge of violating the revenue laws, but this sentence was not enforced, and he afterwards held some of the highest positions of honor in the Colony. He was one of the Board of Nine Men in 1647-9 and 1650, Schepen in 1657 and 1660, appointed one of the Orphan Masters Sept. 10, 1663, in place of Johannes Van Brugh, Indian Interpreter in 1658, and Commissioner in 1663, with Martin Cregier, to extinguish the Indian title to the lands from Barnegat to the Raritan. To the honor of the Dutch Settlers, be it said that they always pursued an honest course with the Indians in obtaining their lands by fair purchase. He was also a Commissioner, in May, 1653, with Johannes De La Montagne and David Provoost, appointed to attend the investigation of an alleged conspiracy of the Dutch and Indians against the English.

In 1666 he became a resident of Long Island in the vicinity of New Utrecht, his wife (by his second marriage) remaining in New York, where it appears she was engaged in shop-keeping, an occupation not uncommon for the thrifty Dutch women of that period. There is no doubt that he married his 2d wife Marritje Jans in the Dutch Church at New Amsterdam, July 11, 1649.

On the 13th of July, 1670, he was commissioned Lieutenant of a company of foot in New York, and probably died late in the autumn of that year.*

He possessed a superior education, for the times in which he lived. Bold, adventurous, enterprising, not much troubled with scruples, either in his trading intercourse with the Indians, or the more extensive traffic in which he afterwards engaged to the Netherlands, he amassed a large fortune, and was at his death probably the wealthiest citizen in New York. Dying intestate, it became a fruitful source of contention between his heirs for many years after. Like his friend, David Provoost, he was a thorn to the English, who hated him for the influence he wielded over the Indians, and his success among them as a trader, by what they termed a "crooked & perverse waye." It is recorded that Govert Aertsen, a small trader, was obliged to carry, in 1648, for his better protection when visiting the Connecticut Settlements, a certificate from the Magistrates of New Amsterdam that he was not Govert Loockermans. Our New England friends have since learned to discriminate better.

VARICK.

THIS name appears indifferently in the Dutch Church Records as Varick and Van Varick, from 1687 down to about the beginning of the present century.* Mr. Valentine has asserted that the Rev. Rudolphus Van Varick, of Long Island, was the common ancestor of the Varick family in this State†—an obvious error. Jan Varick, of New York, 1687—1702-3, and Hackensack, N. J., 1720, probably his brother (if not the common?), was the ancestor of the largest branch of the family bearing this name, both in New York and New Jersey.

REV. RUDOLPHUS VARICK came from Holland about 1685, in which year he succeeded the Rev. Casparus Van Zuren as minister of the Long Island churches, his residence being at Flatbush; he also occasionally ministered on Sunday in the Churches at Bergen and Hackensack, N. J. "During the Leislerian troubles, in 1689, Mr. Varick, as well as the other Dutch ministers, stood out against the authority of Leisler, and was treated with much harshness, being dragged from his home, cast into the jail, deposed from his ministerial functions, and fined heavily. These severities, which were heaped upon him for alleged treasonable utterances against Leisler, undoubtedly hastened his death.‡ His congregation also were divided, and many of them refused to pay his salary according to the terms upon which they called him from Holland—especially, as he says in a petition to the Governor, Sept. 11, 1691, for the six months of his imprisonment. The Court ordered the arrears of salary due him by his congregation to be collected, by distress, if necessary." §

His will is dated October 20, 1686; proven November 9, 1694. In it he styles himself Rev. Domine Rudolphus Van Varick, "Minister of the Reformed Dutch Congregation on Long Island;" alludes to his children, but names only his wife, Margarita Visboom.

His widow's will is dated October 29, 1695, with codicil, Nov. 15, 1695; proven January 2, 1695-6. She directs that her body be buried by the side of her husband, "if possible, in the Church of Midwout alias

* In the New York Marriage Licenses, Albany, 1860, it frequently appears as Varck and Van Varck.

The same authority says that he was suspected by the people of conspiring to seize the fort in New York, was arrested, and released, after a time, upon his submission to Leisler; that he favored the execution of the latter, 'made intolerable sermons' against him, and cherished animosity even to his dying day."—*Stiles' Hist. KIP.

It is proposed in the following sketch to trace particularly the pedigree of Gerrit Kip⁵, son of Abraham Kip⁴ and Maria Vanden Berg, who was born in New York May 11, 1746, and married Feb. 12, 1768, Ellenor or Nelletje Brouwer, and also to give some account of their descendants. We shall, as far as our information enables us, notice as fully as possible the first four generations of the Kips in this country; to extend our researches further, except in the instance above stated, would render this sketch too voluminous, and therefore at variance with the original plan of these contributions to the history of the ancient families of New York.

The transatlantic pedigree of the Kip family has appeared in various American publications within the last thirty years, and while generally agreeing in the account given of Ruloff De Kype, the first known ancestor of the family in Europe, the statements in reference to the immigrant ancestor to America, Hendrick Hendrickszen Kip, have not always been in accord with each other. It is impossible that the latter was the son of Ruloff De Kype², anglicized to Kip, for had he been, his name would have appeared in our early records as Hendrick Ruloffszen Kip, instead of as we now find it, Hendrick Hendrickszen Kip. From this fact and for the reason that no authority for the European pedigree has been given in the publications referred to, it must with all such of like character, be regarded with suspicion.* It has been the intention in these contributions, to confine our researches chiefly to the immigrant ancestors of old New York families and their immediate descendants, drawing the materials therefor, when not otherwise indicated, from the Records of the Reformed Dutch Church in New York, and from New York wills and conveyances.

I. HENDRICK HENDRICKSZEN KIP¹ (Kype), the ancestor of the Kip family of New York, came to New Amsterdam prior to 1643, with his wife, probably Tryntje † (anglicized Catharine), and five children who were born in Amsterdam. It is probable that his sixth child Femmetje was born here, his name appearing at her baptism, April 19, 1643, as Mr. Hendrick Hendricksz. He was perhaps of noble lineage, as it is related that the arms of the family were painted on the stained-glass windows of the first church erected in New Amsterdam. They were also carved in stone over the door of the Kip's Bay house, which is said to have been built in 1655 ‡, by his son Jacob.§ They are described as follows: "Azure, a chevron or, between two griffins sejant and a sinister gauntlet apaumē (tinctures not given). Crest, a demi-griffin holding a cross. Motto, 'Vestigia nulla retrorsum.'" Hendrick Hendrickszen Kip was a tailor, his name appearing sometimes in the records simply as Hendrick the tailor, and again as

* The following is the pedigree referred to. The first ancestor of the Kip family of New York, of whom there is any notice in history, was Ruloff De Kype of Bretagne, France, who was born about 1520-20. He was a warm partisan of Francis Duke of Guise, the furious and bigoted leader of the Catholic party against the Huguenots. On the triumph of the Protestants, which occurred soon after the general massacre of the inhabitants of Vassy in Champagne, in 1562, he fled to Holland with his three sons, where they lived for several years under an assumed name. In 1569, he returned to France with his son Henri, joined the army of the Duke of Anjou, and fell in battle near Jarnac, March 13, of that year. He was buried by his son Jean Baptiste, in a small church near Jarnac, where an altar tomb was erected to his memory. "The inscription on the tomb mentioned him as RULOFF DE KYPE, ECUYER (this title designating a gentleman who had a right to coat armor), and was surmounted by his arms, with two crests, one a game-cock, the other a demi-griffin holding a cross, both of which crests have been used by different branches of the family in this country." He left issue

- i. HENRI², who after his father's death entered the army of one of the Italian princes, and died unmarried.
- ii. JEAN BAPTISTE², a priest in the Church of Rome.
- iii. RULOFF², born 1544; he remained in Holland, became a Protestant, and settled at Amsterdam. He seems to have dropped from his name the French prefix De. He died in 1596, leaving issue:
 - i. HENDRICK³ (in English Henry), born 1576. "On arriving at manhood, he took an active part in the 'Company of Foreign Countries,' an association formed for the purpose of obtaining access to the Indies, by a different route from that pursued by Spain and Portugal. They first attempted to sail round the northern seas of Europe and Asia, but their expedition, despatched in 1594, was obliged to return on account of the ice, in the same year. In 1609, they employed Henry Hudson to sail to the westward, in the little Half Moon, with happier results." He came to New Amsterdam in 1635, with his children, and some years after returned to Holland, where he died. [He did not return to Holland, but lived and died in New York.] His sons remained in New Amsterdam, and rose to important positions as citizens and landed proprietors. He m. Margaret de Marneil, and had issue:
 - i. HENDRICK⁴, who married Anna, dau. of Nicasius De Sille.
 - ii. JACOBUS⁴, born May 15, 1631; m. Feb. 14, 1654, Maria, dau. of Johannes De La Montagne.
 - iii. ISAAC⁴, who married 1st Feb. 8, 1653, Catalina de Suyers; m. 2d Sept. 18, 1675, Maria Vermilye, widow of Johannes De La Montagne, Jr. (Compiled from Holgate's American Genealogy; Lossing's Field Book of the Revolution; Duyckinck's Cyclopædia of American Literature, vol. 2, p. 551; Historical Notes of the Family of Kip of Kipsburg and Kip's Bay, New York. [By Rt. Rev. Dr. William Ingraham Kip.] Privately printed, 1871; Corwin Genealogy, p. 49.)

† Bishop Kip gives her name Margaret de Marneil; Margaret was not a family name among the early Kips, and does not appear in the family before the first quarter of the last century. The name of Tryntie Kip is recorded in the list of old members of the Dutch Church of New Amsterdam, on the second line below that of Hendrick Kip, in the original record. As Tryntje, or Catharine, was a common name among the Kips, I have thought it probable that Tryntie Kip above alluded to, was the wife of Hendrick Kip, and that perhaps her family name was DROOGH, as Jacob Hendricksen Kips, son of Hendrick Hendricksen Kip, in 1647, gave to his uncle Harman Hendricksen Droogh, a power of attorney to receive money due him by the West India Company at Amsterdam. (Calendar N. Y. Hist. MSS. Dutch, page 40.)

‡ Holgate and Lossing say it was built in 1641, but Jacob Kip, the Secretary of the Council of New Netherland, and reputed builder, was then a ten-year-old lad.

Hendrick Snyder Kip. To a "resolution adopted by the Commonalty of the Manhattans" in 1643, he signs his name, Heindrick Heindricksen Kype. On the 28th April, 1643, he obtained a patent for a lot east of the fort, in the present Bridge Street near Whitehall, where he erected his dwelling-house and shop.* He appears to have been a man of marked individuality and to those he loved not, bitter and unrelenting, a quality of character his wife seems to have shared with him. The indiscriminate massacre of one hundred and ten defenceless Indians, men, women and children at Corlears hook, and Pavonia, on the night of February 25, 1643, instigated and ordered by Director-General Kieft, aroused in the breast of Hendrick Kip a feeling of extreme hatred for that official, and he boldly urged that he should be deposed and sent back to Holland.† On the 30th August, 1645, the Court Messenger (Philip de Truy) was ordered to notify the inhabitants to assemble in the fort when the colors are hoisted and the bell rung, to hear the proposals for a treaty of peace about to be concluded with the Indians. The Messenger reported that all the citizens on the Manhattans "from the highest to the lowest," would attend as they all had answered kindly, except one Hendrick Kip, the tailor.‡ While the entire community were willing to show some respect for Kieft on this public occasion, the sturdy old burgher alone exhibited contempt for the "man of blood," and refused to do him honor.

After the departure of Gov. Kieft for Holland, which he was destined never again to reach,§ Hendrick Kip became at once one of the leading men in New Netherland. He was appointed by Gov. Stuyvesant's Council, Sept. 25, 1647, one of the board of Nine Men, selected "from the most notable, reasonable, honest, and respectable" of the citizens of the commonalty, to assist the Director, or Governor, and Council; this office he also held in 1649, and 1650. He was a Schepen in 1656, appointed Feb. 2d, of that year, and was admitted to the rights of a great burgher April 11, 1657.¶ He was probably the Hendrick op Kippenburg who was a witness, March 24, 1664, in a suit between Govert Loockermans and Burger Joris, respecting the title to land in the Smith's Valley.¶ After the surrender of New York he took the oath of allegiance to the English in October, 1664. The name of Hendrick Kip, Senior, appears in the list of citizens who were assessed April 19, 1665, to pay the board and lodging of soldiers belonging to the city garrison. This is the last mention found of him. The names of Hendrick and Tryntie Kip, probably his wife, are retorded in the list or register †† of old members of the Dutch Church of New Amsterdam. Opposite his name Domine Selyns has written "obyt op Kippenburg," but the date is not given. In what part of Manhattan Island, Kippenburg was located is not known; perhaps Incleuburg, or Fire Beacon Hill, † May 6, 1643, Samuel Chandelaeer made affidavit, that he heard Hendrick the tailor say: The Kivit (meaning the director), ought to be packed off to Holland in the Peacock, with a letter of recommendation to Master Gerrit (the public executioner), and a pound flemish, so that he may give him a nobleman's death. On the 27th September following, the vessel was cast away on the coast of Wales near Swansea, and eighty-one persons, men, women, and children, perished, including Kieft, Fiscaal Cornelius Van der Huyghens, and the Rev. situated near 36th Street and Fourth Avenue, and in the vicinity of the old Kip farm, was so called at the period referred to.

Concerning his wife the following is taken from the Court proceedings at New Amsterdam, Sept. 29, 1644. William de Key vs. Hendrick Kip: action for slander; ordered that defendant's wife appear next Thursday, and acknowledge in court, that what she said to the prejudice of the plaintiff is false, and not to repeat the offence on pain of severe punishment.* She probably acknowledged her fault, whatever it may have been—as ordered by the court, as we find no further account of the matter. On Dec. 17, 1646, the Schout-Fiscal (Cornelius Van der Huyghens) charged her before the court with calling the Director (Kieft) and Council false judges, and the Fiscal a forsworn Fiscal. Hendrick Kip states that his wife has been so upset, and so out of health, ever since Maryn Adriaensen's attempt to murder the Director General (March 21, 1643), that when disturbed in the least she knows not what she does. Mrs. Kip denies the charge, and the parties are ordered to produce evidence on both sides.† What further proceedings, if any, in the case were taken, the records fail to disclose. She and her husband were sponsors, July 4, 1657, at the baptism of Anthony, son of Jan Janszen Van St. Obyn (alias Jan Wanshaer), which is the last notice found of her, where her identity can be clearly established. They probably had issue.

6. v. HENDRICK KIP, JR.,² (27) born in Amsterdam.

7. vi. FEMMETJE KIP,³ she was probably bap. April 19, 1643, her father's name being recorded at the baptism, as Mr. Hendrick Hendricksz. She joined the Church in New Amsterdam Jan. 2, 1661, and was a sponsor, July 13, 1667, at the baptism of Jacomyntie, dau. of Jan de Caper alias Wanshaer, which is the last notice found of her.

8. ISAAC HENDRICKSZEN KIP² (3), born in Amsterdam. He was admitted to the rights of a great burgher with his father, April 11, 1657. On the 21st June, 1656, he and his brother Jacob obtained each a patent for a lot of land in the sheep pasture at New Amsterdam. This locality, used for the purpose indicated during nearly the whole period of the Dutch possession, is described by Mr. Valentine* as lying south of the city ramparts (which stretched across the Island about forty feet above the present line of Wall Street), and "covering the present Wall Street and the block between Wall Street, Exchange Place, Hanover Square, and Broad Street." Nassau Street between Ann and Spruce was originally called Kip Street after one of the family.† Mr. Valentine says it was that part of Nassau Street below Maiden Lane, and so called in compliment to Jacob Kip the Secretary. Isaac Kip was a Yacht Captain, engaged in the river trade between New Amsterdam and the settlements at Esopus (Kingston) and Fort Orange (Albany).‡ In 1665 he was living in De Brouwer Straat, now Stone Street. He married first, Feb. 8, 1653, Catalyntje Hendrick Snyers (Snyder?). She was probably the dau. of Hendrick Janszen Snyder, or Hendrick Janszen the tailor, and his wife Geertje Scheerburch. Mr. Valentine§ says she was a daughter of Gillis Pietersen (Meyer), but he has mistaken the relationship. She was probably the sister-in-law of Jillis or Gillis Pietersen (Meyer) who married July 6, 1642, Elsje Hendricks, dau. of Hendrick Janszen Snyder above named. Isaac Kip married second, Sept. 26, 1675 at New Harlem, Maria Vervelje (Vermilyc), widow of Joh. (Jean) de La Montagne. By his second wife he had no issue. He was living, in December, 1675, at New Harlem, and then belonged to the first corporalship of night watch in that place.¶ He died prior to October 6, 1686. Issue:

9. i. HENDRICK,³ hap. Feb. 8, 1654. Mr. Holgate in his American Genealogy, pages 110-112, says that he and Jacobus (Jacob) Kip, his brother, were co-patentees of the Manor of Kipsburg, a tract of land on the east side of Hudson river where Rhinebeck now stands, extending four miles along the river and several miles inland. This patent dated June 2, 1688, confirmed an Indian title to the land given July 28, 1686. He was probably the Lieut. Hendrick Kip of Capt. Baltus Van Kleeck's Company of Foot, in 1700, one of the eight Militia Companies in the counties of Ulster and Dutchess.¶ He married and had a number of children who settled in the vicinity of Rhinebeck.

10. ii. TRYNTIE,⁴ hap. Sept. 13, 1656; m. Jan. 5, 1676, PHILIP DE FOREEST, son of Isaac and Sarah (du Trieux) De Foreest; hap. July 28, 1652. He was buried at Albany, June 28, 1731, and his wife, Feb. 9, 1748. They had issue baptized in Albany as follows: Isaac,⁴ Nov. 18, 1688; Anna,⁴ Dec. 20, 1691, died young; Anna,⁴ June 17, 1694; m. at Albany, Nov. 29, 1716, Johannes Evertse Wendel; Catelyntie,⁴ Aug. 8, 1697; m. 1719 (?) her cousin, Anthony Kip⁴ (30); Jacob⁴ and Cornelia,⁴ twins, July 20, 1701. 13. v. JACOB³ bap. Nov. 19, 1664; died young.

14. vi. JACOB³ bap. Aug. 29, 1666. He is probably the Jacobus Kip born Aug. 25, 1666, mentioned by Holgate as the co-patentee with Hendrick³ (9) of the Manor of Kipsburg, and who died Feb. 28, 1753. Mr. Holgate makes a mistake which is followed by Bishop Kip in saying that he was twice married, and first to Mrs. Henrietta (Hendrickje) Wessels, widow of Gulian Verplanck. It was his cousin Jacobus³ (18) who married this lady. He married Rachel Swartwout, and though Bishop Kip calls her the daughter of John Swarthout (Swartwout), Esq., I think it more probable that she was the dau. of Roeloff Swartwout, first Sheriff of Wiltwyck, at the Esopus, and commissioned Dec. 24, 1689, a Justice of Ulster County. Both Bishop Kip and Mr. Holgate give the date of her birth April 10, 1669, and her death Sept. 16, 1717. She was living Oct. 2, 1726, and with her husband, then called Jacob Kip, Senior, was sponsor at the baptism of Rachel, daughter of their son Isaac.

power of attorney to receive money due him from the West India Company at Amsterdam. The same year he was a clerk in the provincial Secretary's office at New Amsterdam, and, as early as Dec., 1649, was acting clerk to Director Stuyvesant's Council.* He was appointed, Jan. 27, 1653, the first Secretary of the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens of New Amsterdam. Upon his resignation of that office June 12, 1657, he engaged in Brewing, combining with this business that of a general trader or store-keeper.† He was a member of the board of Schepens in 1659, 1662, 1663, 1665, 1673, and president of the board in 1674. "On the 1st of March, 1660, Aert Anthonissen Middagh, Teunis Gysberts Bogart, Jean Le Clerc, Gerrit Hendrick Backer, Philip Barchstoel, Christina Cappoens, JACOB KIP, and Joris Rapalje, all residents of the Waal-boght neighborhood, petitioned the Director for permission to form a village 'on the margin of the river between the lands of said Bogart and KIP, so that,' as they expressed it, 'we may be in sight of the Manhatans, or Fort Amsterdam.' The position selected was probably the elevated point of land which jutted into the river about the foot of South Fourth Street, in the present Eastern District of Brooklyn, and which was known in the ancient time as the 'Keike' or 'Lookout.' "‡ There is no evidence, remarks the learned historian of Brooklyn, that Jacob Kip ever resided on the lands above referred to, and "it was probably owing to his desire to improve the value of his real estate, by securing the establishment of a village thereon, that this petition was made," and through his influence with the authorities, was granted.

In early times some member of the Kip family—was it Jacob or his father?—obtained a patent for a farm of 150 acres, on the East River, on what is still known as Kip's Bay. It is said that Jacob Kip in 1655, the year after his marriage, erected on this farm a house which was rebuilt in 1696, and was, for a short time during the Revolution, Washington's headquarters.§ It stood upon the line of [East] 35th Street, and was demolished in 1851. His house in the city was built in 1657, and situated in the present Exchange Place. He owned a number of city houses and lots, and in 1655 resided in the present Broad Street, near Exchange Place, and was there probably as late as 1674.¶ In 1686 he was living "Beyond the Fresh Water," the Kip's Bay farm doubtless being the place alluded to.¶

The following paper, dated 1657 (?), imperfect and unexecuted, gives an interesting description of a Dutch house at that period: "Conditions and terms on which Jacob Kip, proposes to sell publicly, to the highest bidder, his house, kitchen, hen or hog yard, and lot lying in the city of [New] Amsterdam, over against the house of Heer Oloff Stevensse [Van Cortland], as the same is occupied by him. The house two and thirty feet long and twenty feet broad, inclosed with thick planks and a glazed pantile roof, has a garret and floor, cellar walled up three, four or five feet with stone, and has a brick chimney in the front room, also a shop, the partition walls of bricks, the inner room built up with brick all around (rondtom), bedstead, counting house, and larder therein; besides the aforesaid house, there is a kitchen eight or nine feet wide and seventeen or eighteen feet long, on the side of the house, with a brick chimney, in use by him, together with a hen or hog yard in the rear, and the place paved with bricks, and an apple tree therein, also a common gangway on the west side of the house six feet wide, and a common well, and what more is thereon and fast in earth and nailed, except the andirons (handizer) and hearth stone. . . . " * This house and lot was probably situated in the present Stone Street.

Jacob Kip married March 8, 1654, Maria dau. of Dr. Johannes De La Montagne and Rachel Monjour. The record of their marriage states that she was from Amsterdam. She was born Jan. 26, 1637, at sea off the island of Madeira, on the voyage of her parents to New Netherland.† Her father, born in 1592, was a Huguenot physician—a man of great and varied learning—who was, soon after his arrival here, appointed by Gov. Kieft a member of the Council, in which office he was continued by Gov. Stuyvesant, until the 28th of Sept., 1656, when he was appointed Vice-director at Fort Orange (Albany). Jacob Kip died about the year 1690, and the last notice found of his widow is on the 21st May, 1701, at which date she was a sponsor at the baptism of Maria dau. of Dirck Hooglant.

‡ DR. HANS KIERSTEDÉ from Maegdenburg (perhaps Magdeburg, the capital of the province of Saxony) was one of the earliest practising physicians and surgeons settled in New Amsterdam, and came here with Gov. William Kieft in March, 1638. He m. June 29, 1642, Sara Roelofs, born in Amsterdam; dau. of Roelof Jansen and Anneke Jans of Trinity Church celebrity. His wife is said to have been more proficient in the Indian language than any other person in the colony, and in May, 1664, acted as interpreter in the great treaty made at New Amsterdam between Gov. Stuyvesant and the neighboring Indian tribes. Having often acted in that capacity, she was presented with a large tract of land on the west side of the North River, by Oritany, the chief of the Hackinsack and Tappan Indians (Broadhead's Hist. N. Y., 1, p. 731.)

Dr. Kierstede died about 1667, and his widow m. Sept. 1, 1669, Cornelius Van Borsum, of the Brooklyn Ferry, and removed to New Amersfort. She m. again at the latter place, July 21, 1683, Elbert Elbertsen [Stoothoof] widower of Aeltje Cornelis. She survived her last husband and died in New York about 1693, having on the 2d Sept., 1692, rejoined the Ref. Dutch Church here, with certificate from the church at Midwout. She had no children by her third husband, and probably none by her second. Dr. Hans Kierstede and Sara Roelofs had issue : 1. Jans, alias Hans, bap. Sept. 21, 1644; m. I., Oct. 31, 1702, and of record in liber Wills, 7, p. 38, New York Surrogate's office. In March, 1695, he was a merchant, engaged in trade in New York. He survived his wife, and died without issue, leaving his estate to his brothers and sisters, and to the heirs of his deceased wife. He is described in his will as "of the county of New Town"—a clerical error—Newtown, L. I., being the place referred to, and where he probably resided at the time of his death.

Johannes Ryckman joined the Dutch Church in New York, by letter or certificate from Albany, Sept. 4, 1697, and died before Dec. 23, 1736.† It is probable that he became a widower and married second, June 17, 1717, Cornelia, dau. of Isaac Van Vleck and Catalina de Lanoy; she was bap. Jan. 3, 1692. By his first wife had issue:

27. HENDRICK KIP, Jr.² (6.), born in Amsterdam; m. Feb. 29, 1660, Anna de Sillen (De Sille) from Wyck, dau. of Nicasius De Sille,* First Counsellor to Director General Stuyvesant. He was admitted to the rights

* NICASIVS DE SILLE was the son of Laurens De Sille, the latter being described in December, 1654, as the late Advocate Fiscal of the States General, or United Netherlands. Laurens was probably the son of Nicasius De Sille, who was originally from Mechlin, in Belgium, and came to Amsterdam soon after the revolt of the United Provinces against Spain, was chosen Pensionary of that city, and sent in 1587, with others, on an Embassy to Queen Elizabeth of England : was Ambassador to Denmark, and afterwards to Germany, and was repeatedly sent a Deputy to the States General, and was twice Commissioner to the army whilst in the field; he died Aug. 22, 1600, aged 57 years, and was buried in the choir of the Red church at Amsterdam. Nicasius of New Netherland was a native of Arnhem, the chief town of Guelderland, and came to New Amsterdam in the summer of 1653. In his commission as First Counsellor to Director General Stuyvesant, he is described as a "man well versed in the law and not unacquainted with military affairs, of good character and satisfactory acquirements." He was directed to reside at Fort Amsterdam, and to deliberate with the Governor "on all affairs relating to war, police, and national force;" to keep inviolate and increase all alliances of friendship and commerce: to assist in the administration of justice, criminal and civil, and to advise the Governor in all events and occurrences that might transpire in the Colony. He superintended the preparation of the Fleet and accompanied it with Gov. Stuyvesant in the expedition to the South or Delaware river, against the Swedes in 1655. In May, 1656, he was appointed Schout-fiscal in place of Cornelis Van Tienhoven, who had been ignominiously dismissed from the public service. In June following, he was commissioned city Schout of New Amsterdam, in which office he was succeeded by Pieter Tonneman in April, 1660. In the meantime he had become one of the proprietors of New Utrecht, L. I. where, in 1657, he built the first house erected in that town, which was demolished in 1850. The first records of the town are still preserved, in his handwriting. He resided at New Utrecht as late as 1674, and probably until his death, of which event we have found no mention. (Doc. Rel. to Col. Hist. of New York, vol. 2, p. 440; Cal. of N. Y. Hist. Dutch; O'Callaghan's Hist. of New Netherland, vol. 2, p. 236; Brodhead's Hist. of N. Y., vol. 1; Anthology of New Netherland.) NICASIVS DE SILLE was twice married. The name of his first wife, who probably died before he came to New Amsterdam, is not known. In the record of his second marriage, the fact of his being a widower, is not entered, as was usual in such cases. He married second, May 26, 1655, Tryntje Crougers (Cregier) from the Hague, an alliance which proved the source of great unhappiness to both parties. By his second wife, from whom he separated by mutual agreement in 1668-9, he had no family. By his first wife he had issue :

- i. LAURENCE DE SILLE, who married a dau. of Capt. Martin Cregier. "From Laurence De Sille," says Dr. O'Callaghan, "proceed all the branches of that family now in this country. They reside chiefly in the neighborhood of New York and Albany, having dropped the de before the name. The Rev. G. W. Sill, one of the descendants, is at present a clergyman in the State of Missouri." There is, however, another branch of the Sill family, descendants of John Sill who settled in Cambridge, Mass., in 1637, among whom, singularly, there was a Rev. G. W. Sill, an Episcopal Clergyman, who resided some years ago in Missouri. (See Sill Family Genealogy.)
- ii. GERDIENTJE DE SILLE, m. Jan Gerretse Van Couwenhoven, of Brooklyn ferry; he was born in 1639. (See Bergen Genealogy.)
- iii. ANNA DE SILLE, m. Hendrick Kip, Jr.,² as noticed in the text.

There was a Walbrug De Sille who if not a daughter, was a near relative of Nicasius De Sille. She married first, Feb. 29, 1660, Frans Kregier (Cregier) from Borcken, son of Capt. Martin Cregier, and had Elisabeth bap. July 5, 1662. She married second about 1668, William, son of Rev. Everardus Bogardus and of a great burgher in New Amsterdam, April 17, 1657,* and soon after removed to New Amstel on the Delaware. In a letter † dated at Amsterdam, 22d April, 1659, the Commissioners of the Colony on the Delaware, inform Vice Director Alrichs that "the brewers Kettle for Hendrick Kip, will be sent you by the first opportunity," from which we infer that he was engaged in business there, as a Brewer. In Sept., 1659, he was one of the Council, and June 29, 1660, was appointed by D'Hinoyossa one of the Commissaries at New Amstel. ‡ In a deed of Augustine Heerman, conveying to him a house and lot in New Amsterdam, dated Sept. 17th, 1662, he is described as "Mr. Hendrick Hendricksen Kip, the younger, residing on the South [Delaware] River in New Netherland." How long he remained there is not known, but it is probable he had two sons, Nicasius and Petrus, born on the Delaware. It is supposed that he afterwards settled at Pollifly, near Hackensack, N. J. § Hendrick Kip and Anna de Sille, were sponsors at the baptism in New York, March 21, 1703, of Hendrikus, son of Petrus Kip. This is the last notice found of Anna De Sille, and if the Hendrick Kip, who was sponsor, with her, was her husband—which is probable—it is also the last notice of him.

They had two daughters bap. in the Dutch Church at New York, Cornelia,³ June 12, 1661, and Catharina,³ Nov. 9, 1664. Cornelia Kip (prob. dau. of Hendrick²), wife of Mathys Lyster, was a sponsor at the baptism in New York, of Petrus, son of Petrus Kip and Immetie Van Dyck, Dec. 26, 1709. Nicasius [Nicholas] Kip,³ probably a son || of Hendrick² and Anna (De Sille) Kip, with his wife Antie Breyant ¶ (Bryant), joined the First Reformed (Dutch) Church at Hackensack, Sept. 22, 1694. He died about 1711. They had issue, all bap. at Hackensack: 1. Hendrick,⁴ born 1693 (?), m. at H. July 24, 1714, Geertruy Van Dien; 2. Pieter,⁴ born 1695 (?), m. at H., March 5, 1720, Elsie Van der Beek; 3. Isaac,⁴ bap. 1697, m. at H. March 30, 1723, Willemintie Berdan, dau. of Jan Berdan and Eva Van Sickelen; she was bap. at H., June 5, 1704; 4. Cornelis,⁴ bap. Jan. 1, 1700, m. at H., Sept. 17, 1720, Eva, dau. of Jan Berdan; she was bap. at H., Oct. 1697; 5. Jacob,⁴ bap. Dec. 14, 1702, m. at H., April 6, 1728, Helena, dau. of Jan Berdan; she was bap. at H., April 14, 1708; 6. Annatie,⁴ bap. Jan. 3, 1706, m. at Anneke Jans, by whom she had bap. in New York: Cornelia, Aug. 25, 1669; Everhardus, Dec. 4, 1675; Maria and Lucretia, twins, Sept. 14, 1678; and Blandina, Sept. 13, 1680.

Daniel De Sille who gave Oct. 13, 1654, a Power of Attorney to Nicasius De Sille, to manage his affairs in New Netherland, was perhaps a brother of Nicasius. (See Cal. of N. Y. Hist. MSS. Dutch, p. 57.)

|| Since writing the above we have been favored by Jennis G. Bergen, Esq., with the following, translated by him from the Flatbush town records. "January 29, 1678. Anna Kip (daughter of Nicasius De Sille) bound out her son Nicholas to Jan La Montangie, Master Cooper of New York, to learn said trade of Cooper, for six years, his time to commence May, 1678."

¶ In 1687—the day and month does not appear in the record—PIETER CORNELISE BREYANDT (BRYANT) and Hendrikje Arents (Aerts), had a dau. Lysbeth bap. in the church at Hackensack, N. J. It is probable he is the same Pieter Cornelise, who had by wife Hendrikje Aerts (Arents), the following named children bap. in the Dutch Church at New York, and in Bergen, N. J. 1. Annetje, bap. N. Y., Sept. 10, 1671; 2. Geertruyd, bap. N. Y., Nov. 8, 1673; 3. Cornelis, born in B., April 18, 1676 (see Winfield's Land Titles, Hudson Co., N. J., p. 363), bap. N. Y., May 3, 1676; 4. Arent, bap. B., Oct. 7, 1678; 5. Andries, bap. B., Aug. 21, 1681, d. young; 6. Andries, bap. B., June 30, 1684. Presuming that Pieter Cornelise and Hendrikje Aerts, of New York, 1671-6, and Bergen, 1676-84, are identical with Pieter Cornelise Breyandt (Bryant) and his wife, of Hackensack, in 1687, we trace their children as follows: Annetje (Antie) Bryant, m. 1st about 1692, Nicasius Kip; m. 2d at Hackensack, Oct. 10, 1713, Isaac Van Gysse, widower of Hillegond Claes Kuyper. Geertruyd Bryant, m. at H., Oct. 26, 1695, Roelof Bougart, who was born at Flatbush, L. I. He m. 2d at H., Aug. 23, 1718, Elisabet Bertholf, widow of Jan Albertse Terhuyn. Cornelis Bryant, m. at H., Dec. 7, 1700, Margrita Simonse Van Winkle, widow of Martin Wiene. Arent and Andries Bryant probably died without issue. Lysbeth Bryant, m. at H., April 12, 1707, Egbert, son of Laurens Ackerman and Geet. tie Egberts, he was bap. in N. Y., Feb. 23, 1685.

The rest of his estate he divides as follows: one-sixth part to the children of his son Anthony, deceased; one-sixth part to his dau. * HUYBERT GERRITZEN (VAN DEN BERG) and his wife Maria Lansing came from Albany, and joined the Dutch Church in New York, Dec. 2, 1696. He was probably a brother of Barent Gerritse Van den Berg of the Manor of Rensselaerswyck, in 1687, and perhaps the son of Gerrit Van den Bergh, of Albany, 1663. His wife was a dau. of Hendrick Lansing and Elizabeth Caspers, of Albany. They were married at Albany, Dec. 20, 1693, and had dau. Lysbeth bap. there July 29, 1694. * JOHANNES BROUWER (Brower), was a great-grandson of Adam Brouwer, from Ceulen, who married in New Amsterdam, March 19, 1645, Magdalena Verdon. Adam Brouwer was an early settler in Brooklyn, Long Island, and in 1661, was the owner, with Isaac De Forrest, of the old Gowanus Mill, on the Gowanus Creek, later known as Freeke's Mill, supposed to be the first erected on Long Island. (Brooklyn Manual, 1863, p. 375.) In his will, dated Jan. 22, 1693½, proved March 21, 1692, he is styled Adam Brouwer, Berkhoven, inhabitant of the town of Brookland. He left surviving him his wife, Magdalena, and the following named children: Pieter; Matthew; William; Maria; Aeltje; Fytje; Jacob²; Helena; Adam; Abraham; Anna; Sarah; Nicholas, and Rachel. * EDWARD PURPLE¹, the common ancestor of the family bearing his name in this country, was admitted an inhabitant of the town of Haddam, Ct., in May, 1674. It is probable that he was a descendant of Christopher Purple, who purchased land in Essex County, England, in 1580, and died there about 1605, leaving a son Christopher, but the connection has not yet been clearly traced. It is supposed that the first Christopher Purple was a native of France, from which country he fled to England at the time of the massacre of St. Bartholomew.

Edward Purple¹ was a Farmer, or as described in an old deed still extant, a Husbandman, and married, 1675, at Haddam, Hannah, daughter of Nicholas Ackley, one of the original proprietors of that town, and a resident. 1638-39, of Hartford. He died at Haddam, Jan. 4, 1719-20, leaving his wife surviving and three sons, Edward², John and Richard.

EDWARD PURPLE², born about 1676, died about 1727, married Mary —, and had Edward³ and Mary, twins, born March 28, 1713; Elias, born March 27, 1716; and John, born June 14, 1718.

EDWARD PURPLE³, born March 28, 1713. In early life he removed from Haddam to Middletown, Ct., where he married, 1740, Ruth Hollister, of Glastenbury. He was an active business man, and though comparatively young at the time of his decease, had accumulated a large amount of property, and was regarded wealthy. He died in August, 1752, and his widow married, September 29, 1757, Nathaniel Spencer, of Middletown. His children were Ruth, born August 1, 1741; Mary, born July 19, 1743; Edward⁴, born March 18, 1745; Dorothy, born May 9, 1747; Ezra, born January 18, 1749; Josiah, born Dec. 4, 1750.

EDWARD PURPLE⁴, born March 18, 1745, a Farmer, married in 1768, Mary Hodge. He died August, 1794. His widow married, December 31, 1795, Stephen Knowlton. The children of Edward Purple and Mary Hodge were Edward, born August 14, 1769; Polly, born May 25, 1771; Ansel⁵, born 1773; Samuel, born May 28, 1784; Ruth, baptized July 9, 1784; Deborah, born April 25, 1788; Statira, born 1790; Ann, born March 30, 1793.

ANSEL PURPLE⁵, born in Middle Haddam, Ct., 1773. He was a Farmer, and removed in 1797 to Whites-town, N. Y., and subsequently to Otsego County, where he married, Feb. 19, 1798, Dolly, daughter of Dr. Ephriam Smith and his wife Abigail Higgins. He died while on a visit to Middle Haddam, November 16, 1808. His widow married, October 5, 1809, Elisha Harris, and removed to Chenango Co., N. Y., and afterwards to Cuyahoga Co., Ohio, where she died March 25, 1857. Their children were Lyman Smith⁶, born in Burlington, Otsego Co., N. Y., Jan. 19, 1799; Ansel, Lavina, and Elisha.

LYMAN SMITH PURPLE⁶, born in Burlington, Jan. 19, 1799. Removed when young with his mother to Chenango Co., N. Y., where he married, January 27, 1820, Minerva, daughter of Dr. James [Fones] Sheffield and his wife Sarah Calkins. She was born in Northumberland, Washington Co., N. Y., July 4, 1801, and died in the City of New York March 27, 1868. He was a Tanner, Currier, and Shoemaker, and located after his marriage in the town of Lebanon, Madison Co., N. Y., and a few years after removed to the town of Sherburne, Chenango Co., N. Y. He was for many years Deacon of the Baptist Church in Earlville, N. Y., was a man of exemplary piety and singularly pure and upright in all the relations of life. He died at Earlville, May 7, 1839. Their children were: 1, Samuel Smith, born in Lebanon, June 24, 1822, a Physician for the past thirty-three years in the City of New York, and unmarried. 2, Ansel Sheffield, born in Lebanon, Nov. 15, 1825, a Farmer, and after 1846 a resident of Troy, Bradford Co., Penn., where he married Sept. 3, 1846, Mary E., daughter of Aaron Baldwin and Harriet (Lawson) his wife. He died in the U. S. Volunteer Service at Bardstown, Ky., March 4, 1862. 3, Edwin Ruthven⁷, born and married as noticed in the text.

☞ On page 47, it is stated that the last mention found of HENDRICK KIP¹, SENIOR, is April 19, 1665. It is not improbable that he is the Hendrick Kip, Sen^r, whose name appears in a Tax List made in New York, on the 10th of November, 1676, for the purpose of defraying the charges in building the New Dock, and paying the city debts, etc. This List will be found on page 36, Vol. ii. of the N. Y. Genealogical and Biographical Record, to which the reader is referred.

On the same page the statement is made, that perhaps Kippenburg was identical with Inclenburg, or Fire Beacon Hill, near 36th Street and Fourth Avenue, at the period referred to. This part of the Island was called Kipsborough in 1746, which gives additional warrant for the belief that the ancient Kippenburg was in the vicinity of the old Kip farm, from which the name was probably derived. See extract from the N. Y. Weekly Post Boy, in Valentine's Manual for 1865, p. 795.

HENDRICK KIP, JR², noticed on page 56, made an affidavit, August 1, 1662, while on the Delaware, in which he says he was then "about 29 years old." This gives the date of his birth in Amsterdam about the year 1633. See Doc. Rel. to Colonial History of New York, Vol. 12, p. 401.

MEYER—MYER—MYERS—MEIR.

THE name of Meyers (or Myer) is a very ancient and common one both in Germany and Holland, and is supposed to take its derivation from Mejer, a country Mayor, or Sheriff, sometimes, though rarely, translated Farmer; Mejery, a Manor, Mayoralty, or Lordship; or, perhaps, from Meir, a lake. Its exact designation among the individuals here given, we have not more definitely attempted to trace. The orthography varies in the same family, but the most common form of the name as it appears in the records is MEYER and MYER. There were four persons,* early residents of New Amsterdam, who do not appear to have been related to each other, but from whom sprung four distinct lines of this family in New York. These were JILLIS (or GILLIS) PIETERSZEN [MEYER], JAN DIRCKSZEN MEYER, MARTEN JANSZEN MEYER, and ADOLF MEYER, whom we propose to notice briefly in the order of their names, as mentioned.

I. JILLIS (or GILLIS) PIETERSZEN [MEYER¹], commonly called Jillis Pieterszen Van der Gouw, or Van der Gouda—the ancient town of Gouda, or Tergouw, in Holland, having been the place of his nativity—was a house-carpenter, and came to New Amsterdam prior to 1638, and probably as early as 1633, in company with Director General Van Twiller. On the 16th of April, 1639, then aged 27 years, in company with Jacob Stoffelsen and Tymen Janszen, he makes declaration as to the condition of the Fort, Church, Mills, and other public property, at the time of Governor Kieft's arrival in New Amsterdam.† On the 3^d of June, 1638, he was appointed Master Carpenter at Fort Orange‡ (Albany), but probably did not long reside there. He married at New Amsterdam, July 6, 1642, ELSJE HENDRICKS, born in Amsterdam, dau. of Hendrick Janszen Snyder—otherwise, Hendrick Janszen, the tailor—and his wife, Geertje Scheerburch. On the 25th of October, 1653, he obtained a patent for a house and lot in Beverwyck* (Albany), and perhaps lived there during the last years of his life. It does not appear that he was himself known by the name of Meyer, his children having adopted that as their family name, for reasons at present unascertained. His children were baptized in New Amsterdam, but probably all of them who reached years of maturity were married at Beverwyck. His residence in New Amsterdam, according to Mr. Valentine, was on the site of the present Wall Street, his house fronting the public road running along the East River, now Pearl Street. He deceased prior to 1656, and the following year his heirs sold the property above mentioned to the city, the lot then becoming a part of the public street, now Wall Street.† He owned another house and lot in Pearl Street, near the Fort, a two-thirds interest in which, owned by his heirs, Captain Hans Hendrickse and Johannes Wendel, of Albany, was conveyed by them, July 25, 1676, to his son, Hendrick Jillise Meyer; the other third part belonging to said Hendrick Jillise, "as his inheritance of the third part of all the effects of Gillis Pieterse, deceased, according to the will."‡ The division of this property, as above set forth, indicates that only three of his children survived him. Issue :

(Both names are given in the baptismal record of their children.) She was bap. Feb. 11, 1652. In 1686 they resided in Pearl, near the present Whitehall Street, in New York. He was a cordwainer, and, in 1699-1700-1, an Assistant Alderman from the South Ward. In 1703 his family consisted of 1 male, 1 female, and 3 children. Issue :

1. JAN DIRCKSZEN MEYER and his wife, TRYNTJE ANDRIESSE GREVENRAET, were residing in New Amsterdam prior to 1652, but the time of their arrival here is unknown. Their names are recorded in the list of Old Members of the Dutch Church, many of whom, it is certain, were settled here before 1649. There is reason to believe that he was by trade a Painter, and that he is the Jan Dirckszen who was admitted to the rights of a small burgher April 14, 1657. Mr. Valentine estimates his wealth, at the final cession of New York to the English in 1674, at $2,000. He then resided in the present Bridge Street, but in 1686 was living in Stone Street, between Whitehall and Broad. Tryntje or Catharine Grevenraet, his first wife, was, as her name indicates, the daughter of Andries, and probably a sister of Isaac, Metje † and Lysbeth Grevenraet, the latter of whom was the

* He was a grandson of Ruth Jacobszen, alias Rut Van Woert, of Rensselaerswyck, and his wife, Tryntje Janse Van Breestede, and the son of Harmen Rutgers, of Albany, and his wife, Catharina, dau. of Anthony de Hooges. His father and mother removed from Albany to New York, and joined the Dutch Church in the latter place, Sept. 3, 1696. Pearson says Harmen, the elder, was still living in 1720. HARMANUS RUTGERS and CATHARINA MEYER³ had issue:

3. HENDRIK RUTGERS, bap. Feb. 24, 1712; m. Jan. 29, 1732, CATHARINA, dau. of Capt. Johannes and Anna (Bancker) DE PEYSTER. She was bap. July 22, 1711. They had the following named children baptized in the Dutch Church, in New York: 1. Catharina, bap. Oct. 8, 1732; 2. Johannes, bap. Jan. 1, 1735; 3. Anna, bap. Jan. 9, 1737; 4. Harmanus, bap. Oct. 22, 1738; 5. Elizabeth, bap. Jan. 17, 1742; 6. Harmanus, bap. Nov. 27, 1743; 7. Hendrik, bap. Oct. 20, 1745; 8. Maria, bap. Nov. 1, 1747; and 9. Harmanus, bap. Oct. 4, 1749.

4. CATHARINA RUTGERS, bap. Feb. 21, 1714; m. Dec. 27, 1729, ABRAHAM, son of John and Catharina (Meyer) VAN HORNE. He was bap. Oct. 31, 1708. They had the following named children baptized in the Dutch Church, in New York: 1. Catharina, bap. May 14, 1732; 2. Abraham, bap. Jan. 9, 1737; 4. Margareta, bap. Oct. 3, 1739; 4. Elizabeth, bap. 5. MARIA RUTGERS, bap. April 11, 1716; died young.

6. ANTHONY RUTGERS, bap. June 8, 1718; died young.

7. EVA RUTGERS, bap. Aug. 30, 1719; m. about 1741, JOHN, son of Samuel and Maria (Spratt) PROVOOST. See N. Y. G. AND B. RECORD, vol. VI., p. 17.

8. JOHANNES RUTGERS, bap. Feb. 11, 1722; died young.

† METJE GREVENRAET, a widow as early as 1664, and who then occupied a small house on the east side of Whitehall, north of Stone Street, is said by Mr. Valentine to have been the mother of Isaac Grevenraet, named in the text, to whom she bequeathed considerable real estate in this city. There is reason to doubt this relationship. In the list of Old Members of the Dutch Church her name is entered Metje Andries, which seems ancestress of the De Riemer family of New York, but perhaps better known in her day as "Mother Drisius." Gestorven is written opposite Tryntje Grevenraet's name in the Church Members' book, but no clue is given to the time of her decease. The last notice found of her is on Dec. 31, 1664, at which date she was sponsor at the baptism of Dirckje, dau. of Jan Dircksen (Van Aernam). He married second, Dec. 12, 1677, Baertje, dau. of Hendrick Kip, Sen., and widow of Jan Wanshaer, by whom he had no issue. He was living Feb. 24, 1689, but had deceased before June 12, 1700. He had 3 sons and 3 daughters; the eldest son and daughter were born in Amsterdam, of which city both parents were probably natives. Issue :

2. i. ANDRIES,² born in Amsterdam; joined the Dutch Church in New York Aug. 4, 1669. His name appears sometimes in the records Andries Janszen. In 1674 he resided near his father in Bridge Street, and followed the trade of house-carpenter. He married, Nov. 5, 1671, VROUWTJE IDEN VAN DER VORST or VAN VORST, dau. of Ide Corneliszen Van Vorst and Hilletje Jans. She was bap. Aug. 24, 1653, and joined the Dutch Church in New York July 28, 1670. Her father resided at Ahasimus, now within the corporate limits of Jersey City, and is said to have been the first white male child born and married in New Netherland.* They had issue bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Catryntie,³ bap. Sept. 8, 1672; m. March 20, 1693, JOHANNES, son of Cornelis Janszen and Anna Maria (Jans), VAN HORNE. 2. Annetie,³ bap. Feb. 21, 1677; m. July 29, 1702, JAMES SEBREN [CEBRA?]. 3. Aefje,³ bap. June 4, 1679. 4. Johannes,³ bap. May 14, 1681; m. Sept. 22, 1704, SARA, dau. of Isaac and Lysbeth (Van der Spiegel, DE FOREEST; she was bap. March 10, 1686. They had 12 children bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. 5. Andries,³ bap. Nov. 24, 1686; m. Feb. 23, 1708, GEERTIE WESSELS, dau. of Laurens Wessels and Aeltje Jans Hendrickse Van Bommel, alias Aeltje Splinters. ANDRIES MEYER³ was a Cordwainer in New York, and died early in the spring of 1767, leaving his wife Geertie surviving, and naming in his will only beside her his eldest son Andries. They had 10 children bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. 6. Cornelis,⁸ bap. April 12, 1689, of whom we have no further account. It is probable that ANDRIES MEYER² and his wife Vrontje Van Vorst had beside the children above named the following, viz.: 1. Hillegond,³ who m. July 12, 1696, JOHANNES HARDENBURG, who settled in New York from Albany; 2. Elsje,³ who m. Feb. 3, 1704, EVERT DUYCKINCK; and 3. Ide,³ born about 1674; m. Oct. 25, 1704, ANNATJE, dau. of Claes Gerritszen RAVESTEYN or RAVENSTEIN and Maria Jans Van Rollegoin; she was bap. June 3, 1687. They had 10 children bap. in the Dutch Church in New York.

to have been one of the family names of the Grevenraets. In Dominie Selyn's list of the Members of the Church in 1686 her name appears as Metje Grevenraet, the widow of Anthony Jansen. Their children, if any they had, would, according to the Dutch rule, have borne the family name of Antonissen. A Dutch woman usually retained after marriage, and even in her widowhood, her maiden name, which, of course, differed from that of her children. Hence, in the absence of proof, we deem it more likely that Metje Grevenraet was the sister rather than that she was the mother of Isaac Grevenraet.

* Valentine's Manual, 1862, p. 768. A correction of this statement, as well as the one that Sara Rapalje was the first child of European parents born in the Colony of New Netherland, will be found in Dankers and Sluyter's Journal in the Memoirs of the Long Island Historical Society, Vol. I., p. 114. From the statement there made it appears that to Jean Vigne (also written Vinge) belongs the honor, so long accorded to Sara Rapalje, of being the first white child born in New Netherland, and claimed by Mr. Valentine for Ide Corneliszen Van Vorst as the first white male child born and married in the Colony. The marriage of Jean Vigne to his first wife, Emmerentia Van Nieuwerluyts, antedates the earliest records of the Dutch Church of New Amsterdam. He married his second wife, Weiske Huytes (Niesje Huytes), widow of Andries Andrieszen, in Brooklyn, in the spring of 1682 (date of betrothal in New York Feb. 15, 1682), and died, it is supposed, without issue, in 1691, aged 77 years. Gosen Vinge joined the Dutch Church in New York Sept. 4, 1673. What relation, if any, he was to Jean Vinge is unknown.

3. ii. DIRCKJE,² born in Amsterdam; sometimes called DIRCKJE JANS; joined the Dutch Church in New York January, 1660; m. June 3, 1670 (the Bergen Church record says June 20, 1670), ENOCH MICHIELSZEN [VREELAND], son of Michiel Janszen* and Fytie Hermans. His name appears indifferently in the records as Enoch Michielszen and Enoch Vreeland. He was probably that child of Michiel Janszen whose name at the baptism, Oct. 24, 1649, has been omitted from the record. They lived in Bergen, N. J. She died Oct. 5, 1688; he m. second, Sept. 16, 1691, GRIETIE WESSELS,† widow of Jan Janszen Langedyck, by whom he had no issue; she died Nov. 20, 1697; he m. third, Jan. 13, 1704, AEFJE, dau. of Joris Janszen and Maria (Rutgers) VAN HORNE; she was bap. March 16, 1680. He died Aug. 17, 1714.‡ He had issue by his first wife five sons and three daughters, bap. in New York, as follows:

1. ELSJE VREELAND, bap. Nov. 12, 1671; m. Feb. 13, 1688, EDWARD EARLE, young man from Maryland, who settled at Secaucus, N. J., in 1676. Will dated May 16, 1709, proved May 8, 1717.§ They had bap. in the First Ref. (Dutch) Church in Hackensack, N. J.: 1. Marmeduke, bap. —, 1696; m. — De Maree; 2. Willem, bap. Oct. 13, 1700; m. at Hackensack, June 14, 1723, Maria Frans (French); 3. Elsje, bap. Dec. 7, 1701; m. at Hackensack, May 24, 1728, George Simmons, from Philadelphia; 4. Philippus, bap. June 10, 1703; 5. Jammiesyn (?), bap. March 18, 1705; 6. Silvester, bap. Aug. 10, 1707; m. Magtel Zabriskie; 7. Tiodora, bap. April 10, 1709; 8. Nataniel, bap. Nov. 26, 1710; m. at Hackensack, Aug. 19, 1737, Fransintje Banta. The record of the Ref. Church in Bergen, N. J., gives the name and date of birth of some of Edward and Elsje (Vreeland) Earle's children as follows: 1. Edward, bap. April 22, 1690; m. Elizabeth Frans, and had bap. at Hackensack Edward, April 11, 1720, and Jan, June 15, 1723; 2. (Son), born May 28, 1692. (This was probably Enoch Earle, who m. a De Maree, by whom he had Anna and Mary, bap. at Hackensack, June 15, 1723); 3. Hannah, born March 26, 1695; 4. Maanedirck (Marmaduke), born Oct. 6, 1696; 5. Johannis, born Sept. 8, 1698; 6. (Son), born May 1, 1703 (prob. Philip); 7. (Daughter), born Oct. —, 1704.¶

2. CATHARINA VREELAND, bap. May 15, 1673; m. May 27, 1692, AERT ELBERTSEN. (In the Bergen Church record this name is Aert Albertse, and the date of marriage June 26, 1692.) They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Dirckje, bap. Nov. 5, 1692; 2. Elbert, bap. Dec. 17, 1693; 3. Enoch, bap. July 14, 1695; 4. Johannes, bap. March 27, 1698; 5. Abraham, bap. April 28, 1700; 6. Wessel, bap. Jan. 28, 1702; 7. Benjamin, bap. Sept. 12, 1703; and 8. Benjamin, bap. June 2, 1705.

* MICHEL JANSZEN, the common ancestor of the VREELAND family in this country, came from Broeckhuysen, and left Holland Oct. 1, 1636, in the ship Reosselaerwyck, with his wife and two children. He was a boereheusch, or farm servant, and settled at first at Greenbush, opposite Albany. He became a resident of New Amsterdam about 1644. His own and wife's name appear in the list of Old Members of the Dutch Church there. In 1646 they removed to Communipaw (N. J.). He died in 1663. His wife died Sept. 21, 1697. For a further account of them and their children see Winfield's History of Hudson County, N. J., p. 439.

† GRIETIE WESSELS was probably the dau. of Wessel Evertsen and Geertie Boute, bap. March 28, 1644, her father's name being entered at the baptism Wessel Kever (?). She married first, Aug. 15, 1666, Elbert Aertsen, and joined with him the Dutch Church in New York Nov. 4, 1670. They had two sons, Arent, bap. June 19, 1667, and Wessel, bap. April 7, 1669. She m. second, April 28, 1672, Jan Janszen [Langedyck], from St. Martin, in Holland, by whom she had no issue bap. in the Dutch Church in New York.

‡ For a fuller account of him and his descendants, particularly of his son Joris Vreeland, born Sept. 25, 1710, and bap. in the Church at Bergen, see Winfield's History of Hudson Co., N. J., pp. 443-45.

3. MICHEL VREELAND, bap. Jan. 27, 1675; died unmarried. He was non compos mentis.*

4. JOHANNES VREELAND, bap. April 7, 1677; m. June 8, 1701, Maria Beger, so says the marriage record. The right name, however, is MARIA CREGIER; she was the dau. of Ma tin Cregier, Jr., of Albany, and his wife Jannetje Hendrickse Van Doesburgh.† They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. 1. Maria, bap. Nov. 29, 1702; 2. Catharina, bap. Nov. 19, 1704; 3. Enoch, bap. Jan. 22, 1707; and 4. Martinus, bap. April 3, 1709.

5. ABRAHAM VREELAND, bap. June 22, 1678; m. at Bergen, Oct. 28, 1699, MARGRIETJE JACOBSE VAN WINCKEL.

6. FYTIE VREELAND, bap. Feb. 28, 1680; m. PERIGRINE SANDFORD, son of Capt. William and Sarah (Whartman) Sandford, of New Barbadoes, N. J.

7. ISAAC VREELAND, bap. Jan. 14, 1683; m. at Hackensack, March 23, 1706, TRINTIE SIMESE VAN WINCKEL. Mr. Winfield gives this name Tryntje Newkirk, with date of marriage as above. Isaac and Trintie Simese (Van Winckel) Vreeland had two children bap. in the Church at Hackensack, viz., Simon, bap. June 5, 1709, and Annetie, bap. March 18, 1712.

8. ENOCH VREELAND, bap. Aug. 4, 1687; m. Oct. 22, 1709, MARIA ST. LEGER, widow, nee Van Horne. She was probably the dau. of Cornelis Janszen and Anna Maria (Jans) VAN HORNE; she was bap. July 23, 1681. Enoch and Maria (Van Horne) Vreeland had issue bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Enoch, bap. Oct. 4, 1710; 2. Cornelus, bap. Jan. 28, 1713; and 3. Effe, bap. Aug. 12, 1722.

ENOCH MICHELSE VREELAND and AEFJE JORIS VAN HORNE, his third wife, had four children bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, as given below, his name appearing in the baptismal record as Enoch Michielse, Enoch Michielse Vrelant, and Enoch Vrelant, Sen. The youngest son, Benjamin, must have been over three years old at the time of his baptism, as that event took place long after the death of his father.

9. JACOB VREELAND, bap. March 28, 1705.

10. HELENA VREELAND, bap. Jan. 14, 1713.

11. ELIAS VREELAND, bap. March 4, 1715.

12. BENJAMIN VREELAND, bap. December 11, 1717.

4. iii. JOHANNES², bap. Feb. 25, 1652; frequently called Jan Janszen Meyer, and by trade a carpenter; joined the Church in New York, August 4, 1669; m. June 13, 1677, ANNETJE VAN VORST, sister of his brother Andrie's wife. In 1686, they were living in Smit Straat, now William, below Wall Street. About 1694, he removed to Tappan, where his two youngest children were born and baptized.‡ They had issue bap. in New York. 1. Jan,³ bap. March 27, 1678; 2. Catharina,³ bap. Feb. 4, 1680; 3. Iden,³ bap. Jan. 27, 1682; 4 and 5, Johannes³ and Judith,³ twins, bap. May 11, 1684; 6. Ide,³ bap. Jan. 16, 1687; 7 and 8. Hillegond³ and Dirckje,³ twins, bap. Aug. 30, 1689; 9 and 10. 5. iv. LYSBETH,² bap. Jan. 31, 1655; m. Dec. 29, 1678, ELIAS CORNELISZEN, from New Castle on the Delaware, then living in New York. They had two sons baptized in New York, viz., Cornelis, bap. Sep. 3, 1679, and Johannes, bap. Jan. 14, 1682, of whom and their parents we have no further account.

6. v. PIETER,² bap. March 25, 1657; m. Jan. 16, 1678, BATJE [Betty, or Elizabeth] JANS, Van Haert in Gelderland. She joined the Dutch Church in New York, Feb. 26, 1673, while it appears he was never a member. In 1686 they were living in Marketfield Street. In 1703, his family consisted of one male, one female, and five children.* He had issue bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Catharina,³ bap. Nov. 8, 1678; m. August 9, 1696, ZACHARIAS WEEKS, from New England. 2. Marritie,³ bap. Jan. 20, 1680; died young. 3. Cornelia,³ bap. Oct. 6, 1681; died young. 4. Cornelia,³ bap. Dec. 10, 1682; she is probably the Cornelia Meyer who m. April 23, 1704, CORNELUS TIMMER or TIMBER, who was prob. son of Wydt Cornelis Timmer and Jannetje Joris Van Alst. She became a widow, and married second, Jan. 17, 1718, MICHEL BASSETT, and was again a widow the same year. She had no children by either husband bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. 5. † DR. JAN OF JOHANNES VAN BUREN, said to have been born about 1678 (N. Y. G. & B. RECORD, vol. vii., p. 46), was a native of Amsterdam, a graduate of the University of Leyden, and came to New York in 1700. About 1724, he removed with his family from New York to Flatbush, L. I. In 1728-9, he returned to New York, where he probably continued to reside until his death. He was living July 31, 1751, but deceased prior to Oct. 16, 1757, leaving his wife and at least five of his children surviving him. His name appears in the records of the Ref. Dutch Church in New York, indifferently as Van Buren, Van Beuren, Van Buren, and Van Büiren. His descendants, we believe, now spell the name VAN BUREN, in contradistinction to the VAN BUREN family of the Upper Hudson, of whom Cornelis Maas Van Buren was the ancestor. It is to be questioned, however, whether this orthography obtains among all his descendants. He had issue bap. in the Dutch Church in New York as follows:

1. PIETER VAN BUREN, bap. Sept. 18, 1709; died young.
2. CHRISTINA VAN BUREN, bap. March 2, 1711; died young.
3. PIETER VAN BUREN, { twins, bap. Jan. 21, 1713.
4. MARIA VAN BUREN, {
5. MICHEL VAN BUREN, bap. Jan. 26, 1715; died young.
6. CORNELIA VAN BUREN, { twins, bap. Jan. 30, 1717.
7. ELIZABETH VAN BUREN, {
8. CATHARINA VAN BUREN, bap. Aug. 31, 1718; m. at Flatbush, Aug. 3, 1743, GERRIT DE GRAUW, and had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. 1. Johannes, bap. June 21, 1747; 2. Walter, bap. June 22, 1749, and 3. Maria, bap. July 31, 1751.

9. ELIZABETH VAN BUREN, bap. Feb. 1, 1721; m. August 6, 1746, DR. ENGELBERT KEMMENA, sometimes written Kammega and Cammena. There were several of this name at Hackensack, N. J., in the early part of the last century, probably descendants of Hendrick Janszen Cammeka, of Flatbush, 1686-8, but I have been unable to trace any connection between them and the Doctor, and probably there was none. These were Henry Kammega, who m. at H. Feb. 9, 1717, Margariet Mattyse; Johanes Kammega, of New Utrecht, L. I., who m. at H., Jan. 19, 1723, Vrouwe Jonkbloet, widow; Daniel Cammena, from Long Island, who m. at H., Aug. 29, 1735, Geesje Loots; and Abraham Cammeka and wife, Lija Maris, who had dau. Maria bap. at H., April 10, 1726. DR. ENGELBERT KEMMENA was naturalized in 1750, and admitted a Freeman of the city of New York in 1765, being then engaged and for some years previously in practice there as a Surgeon. On the 3d of July, 1775, he endorsed the application of John Hammell for appointment as Surgeon in the Provincial Army, certifying that said Hammell had studied Physic and Surgery with him "full seven years," and recommending him as a proper person capable of practising the healing art. (Val. Manus., 1856, Hist. MSS. Rev. Papers 1-109.) He sold a lot of ground in "Market Street, formerly called Maiden Lane," on the 9th Sept. 1794, to Wm. Wilmerding, merchant, and was then a "Practitioner of Physic" in the city. This is the last notice found of him, and he probably died soon after, having survived his wife some years. He had no children bap. in the Dutch Church in New York.

10. MICHEL VAN BUREN, bap. Jan. 1, 1723. He was a Cordwainer to the city of New York, and admitted a Freeman of the city in 1765. His wife's name was JANNETJE HENDRICKS. They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Johannes, bap. May 19, 1757; 2. Elizabeth, bap. Jan. 31, 1759; 3. Johannes, bap. Dec. 17, 1760; 4. Daniel, bap. Nov. 10, 1762; 5. Elizabeth, bap. Sept. 16, 1764; 6. Beckman, bap. Aug. 31, 1766; 7. Michiel, bap. Sept. 15, 1770; and 8. Elizabeth, bap. Sept. 22, 1772.

7. vi. ELSJE, bap. Feb. 25, 1663; no further account.

1. MARTIN JANSZEN MEYER,¹ Van Elsvliet, married in New Amsterdam. Oct. 28, 1662, HENDRICKJE HERMANS from Amsterdam. Their marriage is also recorded in the Brooklyn Church Records under date of Nov. 19, 1662. It is not improbable that he is identical with the Martin Janszen, also called Martin Janszen Van Breuckelen, who was a resident of Amersfort, L. I., as early as 1653, and a magistrate there in 1656-7, and 1658. He followed the occupation of Blacksmith, and his name frequently appears in the records as Martin Janszen Smit, and sometimes Martin Meyer Smith; at the baptism of his youngest dau., Helena, it is recorded Martin Smidt. It appears that neither he nor his wife were members of the Dutch Church of New Amsterdam.* On the 17th July, 1664, he obtained a patent for a lot, garden, and orchard in Smith's valley, then without the city limits, and in the vicinity of the present Pearl, north of Wall Street. This was in exchange for his former premises, situated under the city fortifications, which, with a number of others was—in order to strengthen the city defenses—ordered to be demolished, by an ordinance passed Oct. 16, 1673. On the 22^d November, 1683, he and his wife conveyed a portion of this property to George Heathcote,† and December 17, 1685, a city commission of four persons was ordered to examine the grounds and report "what incon-

Catharina, bap. Aug. 4, 1771; died young; and 10. Catharina, bap. Feb. 14, 1773.

Dr. JOHANNES VAN BEUREN, and his wife, Maria Meyer,³ had besides the thirteen children above named, two sons, viz., JAN VAN BEUREN, JR., who m. Femetie —, and had bap. at New Utrecht, L. I., Maria, bap. May 18, 1729, and Jan, bap. Nov. 7, 1730, and probably others; and Dr. HENDRICK VAN BEUREN, born at Flatbush, Nov. 12, 1725; who m. First, at Flatbush, Nov. 28, 1747, Johanna Albertsen, dau. of Johannes Albertse, of Bushwick, L. I. He m. Second, Catryntie Van Voorhees, by whom he had son Johannes, bap. at Flatbush, July 21, 1754, and probably others. He was engaged in the practice of Physic and Surgery at Flatbush as early as 1754, and was a noted Loyalist in Kings County during the Revolutionary War.

* The number of persons who were not church members, was always large in proportion to the number of the residents of the city. In 1686, the population of New York was about 3,800, the majority of whom were of course Dutch, or of Dutch descent, while there were only 354 men and women, and 702 children belonging to the Dutch Church at that time. (Olden Time in New York, &c., New York, 1833, p. 45.) The whole number of communicants received in the church from 1649, to Feb. 1701 inclusive, was 1812.

† GEORGE HEATHCOTE came from the parish of Stepney, County of Middlesex, England. He was a Merchant and Shipmaster, in which latter capacity he was engaged in the English and West India trade from New York, as early as 1674-5. In August, 1676, he purchased a lot in Albany, which Professor Pearson says was probably held by him for the purpose of occasional trade, till 1684, when he sold it to Robert Sanders. In Oct., 1676, he was fined and his liberty to trade restricted, for alleged seditious words, and declaring he had not the privileges of an Englishman, &c. This fine was afterwards returned, and he was allowed to trade freely, though he had much trouble with the authorities, who charged him with frequent violation of the revenue laws. After 1692, he removed to Fall's Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, where he died in Nov., 1710. In his will he speaks of his two grandchildren, "the children of John Barber, in London, which he had by my daughter, Deceased;" also of his two sisters, Hannah Browne and Anna Lupton. Bequeaths a portion of his estate to his cousin, Caleb Heathcote, of the province of New York, who is appointed executor of the will.

venience or convenience the laying out of a street through the same " would cause to said Heathcote and Meyer.*

MARTIN JANSE MEYER and his wife Hendrickje, made a joint will dated in New York, March 16, 169 $\frac{2}{3}$, at the probate of which, Aug. 17, 1714, the fact is recited, " that Martin Meyer dying first some years ago, the said Hendrickje is also lately dec^d." The children named in their will are, Johannes Meyer, eldest son and heir; Hartman [Hermanus]; Martin; Elsie Meyer married with Burger Myndertz; Belitje Meyer married with Claas Gysbertsz; Helena married with Eduard Cock; Catharina and Anna Meyer "ongetrouwt." It is probable that they resided during a portion of their married life out of New York, as there is no record here of the baptism of three of their children. Issue:

2. i. ELSJE², bap. June 10, 1663; m. BURGER MYNDETSZEN, who in 1702, was a Blacksmith in New York. He was probably the son of Myndert Frederickse, one of the early settlers of Beverwyck, who came from Iveren, and married in New Amsterdam, Aug. 5, 1656, Catharyn Burcharts [Burger] of the latter place. " The unsettled condition," says Prof. Pearson, " of the early Dutch family names, is well shown by the descendants of Myndert Frederickse; some took the surname of Myndertse, his Christian name; whilst others took that of Van Iveren, the place from whence he came in Holland." Burger Myndertszen was born in 1660,[†] but the place and date of his marriage are unknown. He probably had, besides other children not traced, one son, Martin Van Iveren, who m. Feb. 1, 1718, Judith Holmes, and had son Burger, bap. Nov. 13, 1718, in the Dutch Church in New York.

3. ii. BELITJE², bap. Feb. 22, 1665, m. CLAAS GYSBERTSZEN, of whom we have no notice except that in his father-in-law's will.

4. iii. JAN², bap. June 12, 1657. This is probably the JAN or JOHANNES MEYER, of New York, who m. at Hackensack, N. J., Aug. 22, 1696, JANNETIE CORNELISE BANTA, of the latter place. They had a son Martin,³ bap. at H. Feb. 25, 1700, and probably others.

5. iv. ANNETIE², bap. Aug. 29, 1668; unmarried in March, 1693, the date of her father's will. There was an Anna Meyer—perhaps the same—wife of Samuel Lee, who had son Samuel, bap. Feb. 3, 1714, in the Dutch Church in New York.

6. v. HELENA², bap. Dec. 23, 1674, m. Oct. 12, 1692, EDWARD KOCK (Cock), of whom we have no further account.

7. vi. HARTMAN² (HERMANUS), named in his father's will, was admitted a Freeman[†] of the city of New York in 1698. He m. March 6, 1702, HELENA, dau. of Elias and Marritie (Cornelis) Post. She was bap. Sept. 29, 1680. They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Maria,³ bap. Oct. 4, 1702; 2. Martinus,³ bap. March 8, 1704; 3. Martinus,³ bap.

‡ The Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, in their petition Nov. 9, 1683, to Gov. " No freeman of ye City was to be arrested, or have their goods attatched, unless it was made to appear that they were departing or conveying away their estates to defraud their credit'rs."

" No person was admitted to trade up hudson's River except he was a Freeman, and had been an arrivall inhabitant in the City ffor ye space of 3 years, and if any freeman should be absent out of ye City ye space of 12 months, and not keep fire and candle, and pay scott and lott should loose his freeddom."—Valentine's Manual for 1844-5, p. 312.

Feb. 18, 1711; and 4. Hermanus,³ bap. Feb. 17, 1714. He died in 1714, and his widow, Helena Post, m. second, July 1, 1715, GERRIT BRAS, of New York, by whom she had 3 sons and 4 daus., bap. in the Dutch Church in New York.

8. vii. MARTIN² (MARTINUS), mentioned in his father's will; m. May 28, 1705, EMMETJE, dau. of Jacobus Franszen and Magdaleen (Cornelis) VAN DYCK. She was bap. Oct. 17, 1686. They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, one dau. Catlyntje,³ bap. April 24, 1706. She m. Nov. 19, 1726, PETER BOND, JR., sometimes written Bant, Band and Bondt. They had 8 children bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. She died in 1743, and her husband m. second, Aug. 7, 1744, Elizabeth Becker, widow of Jonathan Friend.

9. viii. CATHARINA², unmarried at the date of her father's will.

1. ADOLF MEYER¹ was from Ulfen in Westphalia, at least it is so stated in the record of his marriage, which took place in New York, April 29, 1671, to MARRITJE VER VEELEN, of Amsterdam. His wife was a near relative, perhaps a dau. of Johannes and Anna (Tjersvelt) Ver Veelen, who were among the first settlers of New Harlem. She joined the Dutch Church in New York Dec. 7, 1673; he joined March 1, 1674, and soon after removed to New Harlem. He was Corporal of the First Night Watch there, Dec. 6, 1675.* He was a farmer by occupation—a prominent man in public affairs—one of the patentees in Gov. Dongan's patent of March 7, 1686, confirming the New Harlem patent of Oct. 11, 1666, granted by Gov. Nicolls—and an Assistant Alderman from the Out Ward, as Harlem was then designated, in 1693-4. On the 11th of Dec., 1691, he was chosen by the freeholders of Harlem, in company with Jan Hendricks Brevoort, Samuel Waldren, and Peter Van Oblinus, to lay out the undivided land belonging to the town. These persons, as trustees of the town, confirmed to John Loweson Bogert certain of these lands on the 14th of Sept., 1706,† which is the last notice found of him. His wife was a widow, March 7, 1711. His will is dated Feb. 13, 1710, but not proven until Sept. 2, 1748. In it he mentions his wife Maria, and the following named children, 6 sons and 3 daughters:

2. i. JOHANNES², bap. Aug. 13, 1671. He was a farmer, and settled in Harlem; m. Jan. 30, 1702, TRYNTJE VAN DALSSEN (also written Dalden and Dalsing). They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, 1. Jacob³, bap. May 8, 1709, and, 2. Maria³, bap. May 6, 1711.

3. ii. HENDRICK², bap. Sept. 3, 1673; m. Dec. 10, 1697, WYNTJE RHEE, probably the dau. of Jan Rhee (Ree) and Claesje Dircks, who was bap. Feb. 18, 1682. They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Maria³, bap. May 14, 1699; died young. 2. Adolph³, bap. Oct. 29, 1701. 3. Johannes³, bap. Jan. 27, 1703; died young. 4. Johannes³, bap. July 9, 1704; died young. 5. Abraham³, bap. July 8, 1705. 6. Maria³, bap. Sept. 14, 1707. 7. Hendrick³, bap. Aug. 10, 1712; died young. 8. Hendrick³, bap. July 26, 1713; m. Sept. 23, 1735, Maria, dau. of Abraham and Mary (Leisler) Gouverneur. 9. Johannes³, bap. April 15, 1716; died young. 10. Johannes³, bap. July 5, 1719; m. Oct. 1, 1747, Anna Crommelyn.

4. iii. ANNA CATHARINA², bap. March 12, 1677; m. Dec. 24, 1698, ABRAHAM RYCKE, of the Poor Farm, or Bouwery.* Though married as Rycke, his proper name, or the one he afterward assumed, was ABRAHAM LENT. He was the son of Ryck Abrahamsen [Lent] and Tryntje Hercks, born March 10, 1674, and bap. May 12, 1675. His father was the eldest, and his uncle Hendrick the youngest, son of Abraham Rycken, "who for some reason not clearly ascertained, renounced their own cognomen and assumed that of Lent." Abraham Lent lived for some years in Westchester County, but in 1729 returned to Newtown, L. I. He died Feb. 5, 1746, and his widow July 21, 1762. For a very full account of their family see Riker's Annals of Newtown, p. 317, to which we are indebted for some of the particulars here given.

5. iv. MARIA², bap. April 26, 1679; m. July 29, 1699, SAMSON BENSON, JR., from Albany. His name is sometimes written Samuel in the Dutch Church records. They had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, 1. Johannes, bap. Feb. 4, 1700; and, 2. Catharina, bap. Jan. 10, 1705. There was a Samson Benson, Jr., perhaps the same person, who m., Dec. 10, 1710, Maria Bocke (Bocquet), dau. of Abraham and Tanneke (Andries) Bocke, and had 7 children, bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. This statement, however, must be regarded as entirely problematical.

6. v. ABRAHAM², bap. March 3, 1682. He was a farmer in Harlem, and owned a farm of 85 acres there in 1713. He m. May 10, 1706, ENGELTJE BUSSING, and had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, Abraham³, bap. Feb. 8, 1716.

7. vi. ISAAC², bap. April 13, 1684; was living at date of his father's will.

8. vii. JACOB², bap. May 16, 1686. He m. (1710?) ANNATJE HENDRICKSE KAMMEGA, and had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, 1. Adolph³, bap. March 7, 1711. They also had bap. in the Dutch Church in Hackensack, N. J., 2. Adolph³, bap. May 10, 1712; and, 3. Annatie³, bap. May 20, 1722, and probably others, the record of whose baptism is lost.

9. viii. ADOLF², bap. July 24, 1692; m., first, Oct. 25, 1716, MARGRITJE WALDRON, by whom he had no issue bap. in the Dutch Church in New York. He m., second, CATHARINA, dau. of PETER HARING (Herring.) By his second wife he had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, 1. Maria³, bap. Aug. 9, 1724; 2. Petrus³, bap. Oct. 22, 1729.

10. ix. ANNETJE², bap. Aug. 3, 1698; m. May 2, 1718, JOHANNES SICKELS, of Harlem. Of them and their descendants we have no account.

DE MEYER—DE MEYERT.

Perhaps no class among the early residents of New Amsterdam was more distinguished for the rapid strides they made to wealth and social distinction, in their adopted home, than those who came from the old commercial cities of Germany. The most prominent representative of this class—which included, among others, the heads of the Vander Beeck, Santford, Ebbing, Leisler, and Schrick families—was Nicholas De Meyer, a native of Hamburg, who settled here as early as 1655, engaged exten-

* This was a large farm "in the occupation and tenure (as early as 1654) of the deacons and officers of the Dutch Church at New Amsterdam"—situated at Newtown, L. I.—which was kept under cultivation by them for the benefit of the poor. It was called the Armen Bouwery, or the Poor's Farm, from whence the name of Poor Bowery, still applied to that section of the town.—(Riker's Annals of Newtown, pp. 35-36.)

sively in trade, and in less than twenty years became next to Fredrick Philipse, the wealthiest inhabitant of the city, his fortune being equalled only by that of one other person—Cornelius Steenwyck, from Haerlem. He was admitted to the rights of a small burgher April 14, 1657; Schepen, 1664; Alderman, 1669–1670 and 1675, and appointed Mayor of the city in 1676.* He was also an Assistant Alderman for the South Ward in 1686. He belonged to the anti-Leislerian party, and appears to have been more moderate and conservative in his politics than the majority of his political associates. In 1689–90 he was appointed a member of Gov. Sloughter's Council,† but had deceased before Sloughter's arrival, in March, 1691.

1. NICHOLAS DE MEYER¹, the ancestor of the DE MEYER family, of New York, m. first, June 6, 1655, LYDIA, dau. of Hendrick VAN DVCK. His name appears in the record of his marriage, and also in the list of members of the Dutch Church, without the prefix De, but it is always attached in the record of the baptism of his children. He joined the Church in New Amsterdam, in April, 1660; his wife was a member for some time prior to her marriage. She died about 1687. He m. second, SARA KELLENAER, of Kingston, who was, says Mr. Valentine, the widow of John Wicksteent. She joined the Dutch Church, in New York, Sept. 1, 1689, and was then the wife of De Meyer. He died in 1690, and had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, 3 sons, and 3 daus., all by his first wife, viz.:

2. i. JOHANNES², bap. Jan. 26, 1656. On the 13th August, 1680, John and William De Meyer and Mathias Mathisen, obtained a grant of about 60 acres of land at the fall of the Platte Kill, in Ulster County.‡ He is not mentioned in his brother Henry's will, dated Nov., 1692, but is probably the JAN DE MEYER, who by wife EVA MATHYSE, had son Mathys³, bap. March 10, 1697, in New York.

3. ii. WILHELMUS², bap. Nov. 21, 1657; m. Oct. 23, 1678, CATHARINA BAYARD, from Bergen op Zoom, an old and strongly fortified town near the sea coast, in Holland. She was a near relative of Balthazar and Anna (Stuyvesant) Bayard, probably a dau. of the latter and sister of the former. Soon after his marriage he removed to Ulster County, N. Y., having purchased, April 11, 1679, a parcel of land, with house and lot at Kingston. He was a witness at Kingston, Jan. 19, 1681, at a renewal of the treaty of peace with the Esopus Indians.§ In 1684, he returned to New York, rejoining with his wife the Dutch Church here, on the 5th Sept. of that year. He again removed a few years after to Kingston, where he was engaged in trade, as a merchant, and represented the county of Ulster in the Colonial General Assembly during the years 1691–1693 and 1695–98. In 1692, he bore the title of Captain, and some years later that of Colonel. He was Clerk of Ulster County, 1704, and living at Kingston as late as May, 1709, and probably died there. He and his wife Catharina Bayard had bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, one dau. Anna³, bap. Nov. 1, 1685. They probably had son Nicholas³, a freeholder and inhabitant of the County of Ulster, in 1701–2; also a dau. Lydia³, who became the second wife of Andries Douw, of Manor Rensselaerswick, and had dau. Catharina, bap. at Albany, Nov. 26, 1704.¶

In July, 1690, he is described in a deed made by William De Meyer, to him and others, as a resident of New Castle, in the Province of Pennsylvania, and in August, 1692, as a resident of New Castle, in Delaware, where, probably, he lived and died. They had hap. in the Dutch Church in New York:

1. SARA NEERING, hap. July 23, 1681.
2. LYDIA NEERING, hap. May 20, 1685.
3. JOHANNES NEERING, hap. May 22, 1687.
4. ELIZABETH NEERING, hap. May 17, 1691.

5. iv. DEBORA², hap. June 25, 1664; joined the Dutch Church, March 5, 1681. Married first, Sept. 17, 1684, THOMAS CRUNDALL, a young man from London. He was a merchant in New York, and Alderman of the Dock Ward, in 1686 and 1687. They lived "Along the Strand," then the most aristocratic quarters of the city. He was living in July, 1689, and was active in his opposition to Leisler and his adherents. She m. second, Oct. 2, 1691, THOMAS LYNDON (LYNDALL), a young man from old England. He was Sheriff of the city of New York, from March to October, 1691. His will is dated Aug. 27, 1694; proven, March 3, 1696-7; names only his wife Deborah, and dau. Frances, to whom he gives his estate; speaks of loving brother and four sisters in England, without naming them. She m. third, Oct. 10, 1697, WILLIAM ANDERSON. He was engaged in mercantile pursuits, in New York, was Treasurer of the city from 1703 to 1706, and Sheriff from Oct., 1708 to July, 1710,* and a vestryman of Trinity Church, from 1698 to 1717. His family, in 1703, consisted of 1 male, 1 female, 2 children, 2 negroes, and 1 negro child. His wife was living March 14, 1710, but died prior to June 18, 1712, at which date a bill was introduced into the Legislative Council, to enable William Anderson to sell ground in Queen Street, the estate of said William in right of Deborah his wife, deceased, for the payment of debts contracted by her before their intermarriage. She had no children hap. in the Dutch Church, except by her first husband. These were:

1. THOMAS CRUNDALL, hap. July 29, 1685.
2. SARA CRUNDALL, }
3. LYDIA CRUNDALL, } twins, hap. May 25, 1687.
4. LYDIA CRUNDALL, hap. Feb. 6, 1689.

Of her dau. FRANCES LYNDALL, no mention is found, except in her father's will.

6. v. LYSBETH,² hap. Aug. 29, 1666; joined the Dutch Church in New York, Feb. 25, 1685; m. Aug. 24, 1687, PHILIP SCHUYLER, of Albany, son of Col. Philip Pieterse Schuyler and his wife Margareta Van Slichtenhorst; born Feb. 8, 1666.† Soon after their marriage they removed to Esopus (Kingston), where he was engaged in trade. On the 1st of March, 1693, they both joined the Dutch Church in New York, by certificate or letter from the Church at Esopus. They had hap. in New York, one son, cial Assembly from Schenectady, in 1727-8; m. at Albany, Dec. 2, 1714, Elsie Wendel, and was buried July 8, 1748. He had bap. at Albany, 1. Elisabeth, Sept. 18, 1715; 2. Philip, Oct. 27, 1717, and at Schenectady, 3. Ariaantje, March 6, 1720, m. Col. Kiliaen Van Rensselaer, and died Oct. 17, 1763; 4. Harmanus, Jan. 28, 1722; 5. Catharina, Aug. 11, 1723, m. John Jacobse Lansing, gentleman, of Albany, Dec. 12, 1747; 6. Harmanus, b. April 2, bap. April 3, 1727; and 7. Johannes, Feb. 4, 1733. (See Pearson's First Settlers of Schenectady, p. 166, and Pearson's First Settlers of Albany, pp. 98, 130.)

7. vi. HENRICUS,² bap. Nov. 7, 1668. He was a prominent and successful merchant in New York, and m., May 14, 1689, AGNIETJE DE KEY, dau. of Jacob Theunissen and Hillegond (Theunis) De Key,* she was bap. July 6, 1670, and joined the Dutch Church in New York, Sept. 2, 1688. His will is dated Nov. 9, and proven Nov. 22, 1692; names wife Angenietta, dau. Lydia, and the child his wife "is now bigg withal;" his brother William De Meyer; his sisters, Anna Katharina Willems, wife of John Willems [Neering] of the town of New Castle; Deborah, wife of Thomas Lyndall, of New York, gentleman; and Elisabeth Schuyler, wife of Philip Schuyler, of New York, merchant. Appoints his wife and brothers-in-law, Theunis and Jacobus De Key, executors of his estate. He had issue bap. in New York: 1. Lydia,³ bap. Feb. 4, 1691; and 2. Henricus,³ bap. Nov. 13, 1692; he is probably the H. De Meyer who was a witness at Harlem, March 28, 1721, to a conveyance (unrecorded) of lands made by Elizabeth Benson, widow and executrix of Johannes Benson, late of the Island of New York, and others, to Sampson Benson.†

Agnietje De Key, the widow of Henricus De Meyer,² m. second, in August, 1696 (m. l. dated Aug. 11), WILLIAM JANEWAY, gentleman. He was an Englishman, and came to New York in 1693, as purser of H. M. Ship Richmond, commanded by Capt. John Evans. He was admitted a freeman of the city in 1695. In 1700 he was acting as Capt. Evans' agent, to whom an extensive grant of land had been made lying on the west side of Hudson River, about 40 miles in length, and 20 in breadth; but which was afterwards "cancelled for its magnitude, uncertainty, and want of consideration."‡ William Janeway was a vestryman of Trinity Church in 1697, and from 1702 to 1704.

* This name furnishes another illustration of the changes in early Dutch family names, which render the tracing of their pedigree so difficult and perplexing. The ancestor of the De Key family of New York was, JACOB TOENISZEN [Theunissen] Van Tuyt, in Guiderland, who married in New Amsterdam, March 29, 1658, HILLETJE [Hillegond] TOENIS [Theunis], born in the latter place. At the baptism of their first child Theunis, April 4, 1659, their names are recorded JACOB VAN THUYL and HILLEGOND THEUNIS. At the baptism of their next child, Jannekin, Dec. 15, 1660, the fathers name is recorded simply JACOB THEUNISZEN; at the baptism of their third child Johannes, Jan. 28, 1662, the fathers name appears JACOB THEUNISZEN DE KEY, while at the baptism of their fourth child Johannes, June 8, 1664, he comes out full fledged as JACOBUS DE KEY, which surname he ever after retained. There is reason for his being called VAN THUYL, after his native place, but why he adopted the surname of De Key remains a mystery. He was a man of some note in his day, and an active opponent of Lieut. Gov. Leisler, who caused his arrest and imprisonment.

His son CAPT. THEUNIS DE KEY, bap. April 4, 1659, married May 26, 1680, Helena Van Brugh. He was a merchant of good repute, an Assistant Alderman from the North Ward in 1685, 6, 7, 1691, and 1692, and one of the Church Wardens of the Dutch Church in New York, in 1698.

VAN DYCK.

HENDRICK VAN DYCK,¹ came from Utrecht to New Amsterdam about 1639-40—accompanied probably by his wife, DIVERTJE [DEBORA] CORNELISE, alias BOTJAGERS—as ensign in the service of the West India Company. In March, 1642, he was sent by Gov. Kieft in command of an expedition against the Weckquaesgeeks Indians in West Chester; and early in 1644, with Capt. John Underhill, against the Long Island and Connecticut Indians. He soon after returned to Holland; was commissioned Schout-fiscal, June 28, 1645, and again embarked for New Netherland, in company with Governor Stuyvesant, in December, 1646, the bickerings of the “Churlish Director” with Van Dyck furnishing the staple themes of scandal on the voyage. “At Saint Christophers,” says Brodhead, “the Fiscal Van Dyck, claiming a seat at the council board, to dispose of a captured prize, was rudely repelled—‘When I want you I will call you,’ was Stuyvesant’s haughty reply. Renewing his attempt at Curaçoa, the insulted fiscal met a still sterner rebuff, and was not allowed even a ‘stroll ashore’ during the three weeks the ship lay at anchor there.” It would be difficult to form an excuse for this outrageous treatment, on the part of the Director, of his chief officer. Upon their arrival he was admitted to a seat in the Council, and held office until March 28, 1652, when he was dismissed by Stuyvesant, from which action he appealed to the States General for redress. In September, 1655, he unfortunately killed an Indian squaw, whom he detected in stealing peaches from his orchard, situated a short distance below the present Rector Street. To avenge this murder the Indians invaded the town, wounded Van Dyck, cut down his next door neighbor Paulus Leendertszen Van der Grist with an axe, and in three days massacred one hundred inhabitants of the surrounding settlements, and carried one hundred and fifty more into captivity.* Divertje Cornelise, the first wife of Hendrick Van Dyck, became a communicant of the Dutch Church, in New York, May 30, 1672, shortly prior to her death. It appears somewhat remarkable that her husband’s name is not recorded in the list of Church members. He m., second, in Midwout, June 20, 1675, Magdalena [Jacobs] Ryssens, widow of Jacob [Van] Couwenhoven, both living in New York, by whom he had no issue. He and his first wife made a joint will, August 13, 1655, before the notary, Dirck Van Schelluyne, which was proved March 22, 1683, and in which they mention their dau., Lidia Van Dyck, married with Nicholas [De] Meyer; their dau. Rycke Van Dyck, married with John Durett; also their “two underaged children, by name, Cornelis Van Dyck, old thirteen years, and Janneke Van Dyck, old nine years.”

CORNELIUS VAN DYCK,² son of Hendrick; bap. in New Amsterdam, March 10, 1642; settled in Albany; became a Chirurgeon, and practised his profession there until his death in 1686. His first wife was Elisabeth Lakens; the second, Elisabeth Beck, the widow of Captain Sylvester Salisbury. For an account of his children see Pearson’s First Settlers of Schenectady, p. 219, and First Settlers of Albany, pp. 125-6. The other children of Hendrick Van Dyck named in his will were:

DARETH (Durett, Dret, Droit, De Ret), also from Utrecht, who soon after removed to Beverwyck, where he died in May, 1669 (Pearson.) They had no children baptized in the Dutch Church, in New York.

JANNETJE VAN DYCK,² born in 1644, in Enckhuysen, on the Zuider Zee, probably came to New Amsterdam with her parents on their return to New Netherland in 1647; joined the Church in New Amsterdam Oct. 12, 1664; m. March 22, 1665, JOHANNES COLY (Coely, Coelie, Cooley, Cooley), a young man from London. The most frequent form of this name in the records is COELY. He was a blacksmith, and furnished the iron work to repair Fort James in 1672-3, and also to repair it during the time of Gov. Sloughter in 1691.* Though his wife was a communicant of the Dutch Church, he was reputed to be, in 1696, one of the few Roman Catholics in New York. His will is dated in New York, Jan. 22, 1688; proven March 22, 1709. In it he mentions his wife, Jane, and 8 children, viz.: William Cooley, his "eldest and only son;" his daughters, Elizabeth, Deborah, Lydia, Hannah, Mary, Rickey, and Cornelia. Appoints his wife Jane sole executrix. They had baptized in the Dutch Church:

1. WILHELMUS COELY, bap. Dec. 20, 1665; died young.

2. LYSBETH COELY, bap. Aug. 28, 1667; joined the Dutch Church Feb. 25, 1685; m. Sept. 6, 1688, BERNARDUS, son of Abel and Annetje (Meynderts) HARDENBROOK. He was baptized August, 1662. They had baptized in the Dutch Church: 1. Anna, June 30, 1689; 2. Janneken, Oct. 25, 1691; 3. Anneken, Dec. 31, 1693; 4. Elizabeth, Dec. 15, 1695; 5. Maria, Jan. 9, 1698; 6. Abel, Nov. 19, 1699; and 7. Margareta, Dec. 17, 1701.

3. DEBORA COELY, bap. June 18, 1671; m. Aug. 26, 1694, NICHOLAS FIELDING. She joined the Dutch Church in New York, June 1, 1698. He was the first Sexton of Trinity Church, appointed Oct. 25, 1697, and described as "a person reputed of honest behaviour and conversation, who offered his service gratis, till the Corporation of the Church should be formally established." He held the office but a short time—about a year. (Berrian.)

4. WILLIAM COELY, bap. March 16, 1673; m. by Do. Dubois, June 7, 1700, to DINA, dau. of Cornelis Janszen and Heyltie (Pieters) CLOPPER. She was bap. March 15, 1675. They had bap. in the Dutch Church one dau., Heyltie, April 13, 1701, who married Jan. 10, 1725, Gerardus, son of Johannes and Sara (Van Laer) Hardenbrook. WILLEM COELY died about 1703, and his widow Dina m. second, Jan. 29, 1706, STEPHEN VAN BRAKEL (Ver Brakel, á Brakele, Brakele), probably son of Gysbert Geritse Van Brakel, and his wife Reintje Stephens. They had bap. in the Dutch Church: 1. Margrietje Van Brakel, Nov. 19, 1706; died young; 2. Reintje Van Brakel, Jan. 9, 1709; m. Sept. 1, 1727, John Stephens, Jr., and had son John, born Jan. 13, bap. Jan. 20, 1744, in the Presbyterian Church, in New York; 3. Margritje Van Brakel, April 11, 1711.

5. LYDIA COELY, bap. Nov. 24, 1674; m. April 7, 1695, PIETER MASKELT (Masjet, Machet, Makkett), and removed to New Rochelle, Westchester County, N. Y., where they resided until 1697, when they returned to New York. They had one dau. bap. in the Dutch Church, Lydia, Nov. 17, 1697, who m. VARLETH—VARLET—VARLEET—VERLET—VERLETH.

THE name of Varleth, in its various orthographic forms in the early records, has an unmistakable French structure, a corruption perhaps of Valet, and it is not improbable it was borne by some French exile who took refuge in Holland, in order to escape the religious persecutions of his native land, which prevailed during the latter part of the sixteenth century. The first members of the family in New Netherland were natives of Utrecht and Amsterdam, and though not to be deemed unprolific, their name, for nearly two centuries, has disappeared from the annals of our colonial and State history. It appears to have died out in the male line, in the third generation from the emigrant ancestor CASPER VARLETH,¹ but, as if to make amends for the swift decay of its male stem, we find the mater-lineal branches of the family blooming and fruitful with the historic names of Bayard, Schrick, Philipse, Brockholst, Schuyler, Livingston, Jay, Clarkson, French, Morris, Robinson, Van Horne and others, who, if perchance of equal worth, are of lesser note among the ancient families of New York.

The first notice of the name found in the records, is on the 21st of Sept., 1642—the substitution of Hendrick Van Dyck, as attorney of Peter Verlet & Co., and July 17, 1647, in the report of the referees on a difference between Augustine Hermans, agent of Catharina Verlet of Amsterdam, and David Provoost, respecting a legacy. In September and October, 1652, Anna Verlet, described as the wife of George Hack (Hawks?), was a party plaintiff and defendant in various suits in the court at New Amsterdam, in one of which she claims, as her private property, a certain lot of tobacco sent to her from Virginia by her husband.* It is probable she was a sister of Casper Varleth,² and assisted her husband in his business affairs, as well as engaging occasionally in trade on her own account, a not uncommon practice for merchants' wives at that time. Her husband was probably the George Hacke, who was one of the signers with other inhabitants of the county, of the "Engagement of Northampton," in Virginia, March 25, 1651, relating to the surrender of Virginia to the British Parliament, or rather to Cromwell, who had sent out a naval force to reduce the colony to his sway.† George Hack was in New Amsterdam in Sept., 1652, and his wife's name is frequently found in the records here as late as January, 1661, but Virginia was probably their permanent place of residence. There was an Abraham Varleth here in 1651, perhaps a brother or son of Casper,² if the latter, he had deceased before the death of his father in 1662. He was a sponsor, Jan. 1, 1651, at the baptism of Abraham, son of Nicholas Varleth,² which is the only notice found of him.

1. CASPER OR JASPER VARLETH,¹ the ancestor of the family bearing his name in New Amsterdam, was an early resident of the Dutch settlement of Fort Good Hope, at Hartford, Conn., and was there, according to Mr. Savage, perhaps as early as the completion of the Fort in 1633. He may have been domiciled for a short time at New Amsterdam, as we find reference made to an inventory of articles taken at his house in July, 1651, and that his son-in-law, Paulus Schrick, on the 17th of October, 1661, petitioned for a deed of a house and lot on the Fresh Water,* Manhattan Island, sold to him by his said father-in-law. He is mentioned by Savage as a Dutchman of some consequence at Hartford in 1656, "who may have lived there near thirty years," and died there in September, 1662, who had wife Judith who died before him, and children, Nicholas, Mary, Judith, and Jane.† Beside these he probably had Catharina, born in Amsterdam, who married Francois De Bruyn in New Amsterdam, in August, 1657.

A judgment against him and his son Nicholas,² dated Dec. 9, 1652, in New Amsterdam, for the payment of freight by the ship Fortune, indicates the fact that they were engaged in trade together, but their partnership seems to have been of a limited character. He was an active business man at Hartford, enjoying the respect of the English settlers there, and designated sometimes in the proceedings of the General Court of the colony as Mr. Varleet, an honorable distinction in those days—"the prefix Master or Mr., corresponding very nearly in meaning to the English word, gentleman,"‡ or the title "Honorable" as at present used. From the respectful terms in which the following request is couched, it may be inferred that he possessed also, in a high degree, the friendship and esteem of the authorities at New Amsterdam.

"To CASPER N[V]ERLEITH :

"At the request of the Burgomasters and Schepens of the city of New Amsterdam you will please to repair to the Stadt house of this city aforesaid, on the morning of to-morrow, the 21st inst., and there show the pass which you received from Jan Jongh [John Young], in so doing will confer on us a friendship with which we remain yours affectionately.

"Signed by order of Burgomasters and Schepens,

JACOB KIP, Secretary."

"New Amsterdam,

20 March, 1654."§

About this time he was engaged in aiding Johannes Van Beeck in his attempt to marry his daughter Maria, the peculiar circumstances of whose marriage we shall have occasion to notice hereafter. Judith Varleth, his wife, was associated with Anna, the wife of George Hack, before mentioned, in some business enterprises that gave rise, in September, 1652, to a suit in New Amsterdam, respecting a number of negroes and other property which Mrs. Varleth had purchased, and which were taken away in the night time by one Capt. Geurt Tyssen.¶ Casper Varleth,² and his wife Judith, appear to have been enterprising, industrious, and thrifty persons—qualities of character for which their descendants have also been noted. They had issue, one son and four daughters, which we give in the order of their marriage, as follows :

2. i. NICHOLAS VARLETH,² probably came to New Netherland with his father, and resided for some time with the family at Hartford. His daughter Susanna³ was born in Amsterdam, of which city he too was probably a native. His name first appears in the records at New Amsterdam on the 1st January, 1651, at the baptism of his son Abraham.³ His first wife was Susanna Jillis, supposed to have been a sister of Margaret Jillis, the wife of David Provoost. On the 14th of October, 1656, he married his second wife, Anna Stuyvesant,* widow of Samuel Bayard, and sister of Governor Stuyvesant, by whom he had no issue. This alliance, as well doubtless as his own personal merit, secured for him at once honorable position in the public service at New Amsterdam, and, subsequently, in the adjoining province of New Jersey. He was appointed April 7, 1657, Commissary of Imports and Exports, vice Adriaen Van Tienhoven, and the following year Searcher, Inspector, and Guager, vice Warnae Wessels dismissed. April 17, 1657, he was admitted to the rights of a small burgher, and April 23, 1658, took the oath of office as Collector of Duties on Exports and Imports to and from New England and Virginia. On the 27th Feb., 1660, he was commissioned, with Brian Newton, Ambassador to Virginia, and soon after concluded, with the General Assembly of that colony, a treaty of Amity and Commerce, highly satisfactory to both New Netherland and Virginia. He was one of the Commissioners that signed the articles of capitulation, on the surrender of New Netherland, Sept. 6, 1664, his name appearing in that document, NICH. VARLETH, which, among the diverse methods of spelling in the records, we have adopted as the correct orthography.†

He was, for some years, one of the chief merchants of New Amsterdam, and in June, 1660, a partner of his brother-in-law, Jacob Backer,‡ engaged

* ANNA STUYVESANT was the dau. of Balthazar Stuyvesant and his first wife MARGARET HARDENSTEIN. "The name is derived from stuiuen, to stir or raise a dust, and sand, being the same in both the Dutch and English." Her father was a clergyman, who settled, July 19, 1622, at Berlicum, a small town in Friesland, having come from Scherpenzeel in the same province, "where he was the minister previous to 1619." He left Berlicum in 1634, for Delft in Guelderland, where he died in 1637. His first wife died at Berlicum, May 2, 1625, aged fifty years. Gov. Peter Stuyvesant and Anna, and perhaps others, were the issue of this marriage. He married second, July 22, 1627, Syntie Pieters, of Harlem, by whom he had Margaret (two of that name) Trynckce (Tryntje?) and Balthazar. See Anthology of New Netherland, pp. 181, 182.

ANNA STUYVESANT married her first husband, SAMUEL BAYARD, in Holland, and by him had four children (Winfield's Land Tides), who came with her to New Netherland in 1647, in company with Governor Stuyvesant. These were—1. BALTHAZAR BAYARD, born in Amsterdam, m. in New Amsterdam, Nov. 12, 1664 (Family Bible), Marijtte Loockermans, 2. NICHOLAS BAYARD, born in Alphen, a small town near Utrecht, m. in New Amsterdam, May 23, 1666, Judith Verlet, 3. PETRUS BAYARD, born in Alphen, m. in New Orange, as New York was then called, Nov. 28, 1674, Blandina Kierstede, 4. CATHARINE BAYARD, born in Bergen Op Zoom, m. in New York, Oct. 23, 1678, William De Meyer.

‡ JACOB OR JACOBUS BACKER, a prominent merchant in New Amsterdam, came from Old Amsterdam, and married Oct. 30, 1655, Margaret Stuyvesant, from Delft in Guelderland, born there about 1635. She was the dau. of Rev. Balthazar Stuyvesant and Syntie Pieters, and half sister of Governor Stuyvesant, and of Anna, the wife of Nicholas Varleth. Mr. Backer's trading operations were extensive, and his wife actively aided him in his business enterprises. He was admitted to the rights of a small burgher April 11, 1657; Schepen in 1660, and President of the Board in 1664. Besides these and other official positions, he was one of the Provincial Agents to Holland in 1663, and a representative, from New Amsterdam, in the General Assembly held at that place, at the City Hall, April 10, 1664, also one of the signers, Sept. 8, 1664, of the ratification of the Articles of Capitulation on the surrender of New Netherland to the English. He returned to Holland in 1666, leaving his wife Margaret in charge of his business affairs, but his property having been heavily mortgaged before his departure to Jean Cossean, was foreclosed by him in 1670. It was reported that Mr. Backer died in the East Indies. He resided on the east side of Broad near Beaver Street, where he also had his warehouse. These premises were purchased in October, 1670, at public sale, by Mr. Balthazar De Hart a wealthy merchant, who died in 1672, unmarried, leaving most of his estate to his brothers Daniel, Matthias and Jacob. Among other bequests he makes one to his natural son Matthias and another to his "Natural son Daniel De Hart, procreated by Margaret Stuyvesant." This son Daniel was bap. in the Dutch Church in New York, Sept. 1, 1671, and is perhaps the same who had by wife in the Curaçao trade and importing tobacco from Virginia. He resided on the west side of the present Whitehall, between Pearl and State Streets, on property purchased in Feb., 1658, of Paulus Schrick, and which he subsequently sold to Jacob Leisler. Some time prior to October, 1665, he left New York, and settled permanently in Bergen, N. J., where he had acquired extensive landed possessions.

In March, 1656, Nicholas Varleth² was a resident of Hoboken, N. J., and his request for six or eight soldiers, for his defense, having been denied, "for fear of a collision with the Indians," he, at the same time, "asks permission to transport to New Amsterdam from Hoboken, a frame house which he had sold Michael Jansen [Vreeland] for 230 guilders." * How long he had resided there does not appear. On the 5th Feb., 1663, he obtained a patent for a tract of land at Hoboken, supposed to be the same that was in his possession previous to March, 1656. From Winfield's History of the Land Titles in Hudson County, N. J.—a work replete with valuable information concerning the early settlers of New Netherland, nowhere else to be found—we learn that "he was appointed Captain of the militia in Bergen, Gamoenepan [Communipaw], Ahasimus and Hooboocken, October 6, 1665; on the same day a member of the court at Bergen, and on the first of November following a member of Carteret's Council. These positions he continued to hold for several years. He died in the summer of 1675," leaving his wife, Anna Stuyvesant, and two children surviving him. His widow was living January 19, 1683, but the date of her decease is unknown. His children, both by his first wife, were :

1. SUSANNA,³ born in Amsterdam; m. June 8, 1673, JAN DE FOREEST, son of Isaac and Sarah (de Trieux) De Foreest; he was bap. March 27, 1650. In 1686, they resided in the present Beaver street, between Broad and William. They had issue bap. in the Dutch Church in New York: 1. Nicholas, bap. Feb. 4, 1674; 2. Susanna, bap. Jan. 4, 1676; 3. Sara, bap. April 10, 1678, and 4. Sara, bap. March 12, 1670. These children all died in childhood, except Susanna, who married Robert Hickman, of New Jersey.†

2. ABRAHAM,³ bap. Jan. 1, 1651. He was a clerk in the Provincial Secretary's Office in 1673, and one of the Commissioners the same year to administer the oath of allegiance to the inhabitants of the towns in Achter Col, and also to the inhabitants of the towns on Long Island, east of Oyster Bay.‡ From Winfield's Land Titles, we learn that "he left the Province in 1675, entered the Dutch East India Company's service, and afterwards died in the city jail at Ceylon."

3 ii. JANNETJE OR JANE VARLETH,² born in Utrecht. Married in New Amsterdam, Dec. 10, 1651 (1650) AUGUSTYN HERMANS (HARMAN HEERMANS) a native of Prague in Bohemia, whose life and history fills no inconsiderable space in the early annals of New Netherland. He was a man of good education, a surveyor by profession, skilled in sketching and drawing,* an adventurous and enterprising merchant—"the first beginner of the Virginia tobacco trade"—and possessed of little or none of that phlegmatic disposition which has often been ascribed as a characteristic of the Dutch settlers of New Amsterdam. A friendly notice of his speculative genius is given by Van der Donck, who speaks of him as a "curious man and a lover of the country," who made an experiment in planting indigo seed near New Amsterdam, "which grew well and yielded much," samples of which sent to the Netherlands, "were found to be better than common."† His wife was a member of the church here prior to her marriage, and though his name does not appear as a communicant, the evidence is not lacking that he was a man of deep religious feeling, and one who reverently recognized the Divine Power which controls in wisdom the destinies alike of men and nations.

Catharine Van Pelt, son Balthus [Balthazar], bap. in New York April 6, 1709, and who was living in 1695 in Elizabeth Town, N. J.

In April, 1676, Margariet Stuyvesant (named Margaret Baker in the patent) having obtained a patent for 224 acres of land there, became a resident of Elizabeth Town, N. J. On the 12th of March, 1677-8, was recorded a covenant of marriage "between Hendrick Droogestradt and Mrs. Margarita Stuyvesant, both of Elizabeth Town, in which Hendricus, Nicholas and Abraham Backer are mentioned as her children." (New Netherland Register. Valentine's Hist. of New York, p. 110. Hatfield's Hist. of Elizabeth, N. J., p. 250.)

JACOB BACKER and Margariet Stuyvesant had issue bap. in New York: 1. [Nicholas] bap. March 25, 1657; 2. Balthazar, bap. Sept. 18, 1658; 3. Hillebond, bap. Sept. 7, 1659; 4. Henricus, bap. Sept. 26, 1660, and 5. Abraham, bap. Nov. 23, 1664.

At what time Augustyn Hermans came to New Netherland is not precisely known. He was in the employ of the West India Company, and was in company with Arent Corsen in 1633, at the time of the Dutch purchase from the Indians of the lands, which included the site of Philadelphia, on the Schuylkill, near the mouth of which Fort Beversreede was subsequently erected.‡ He probably went back to Holland and returned again to this country under different auspices than those of his first adventure here. In June, 1644, he was with Laurens Cornelisson, an Agent of Peter Gabry & Sons,§ and Mr. Brodhead says he "came out under the patronage of the Chamber of Enckhuysen, as agent of the mercantile house of Gabry of Amsterdam."|| The same year he was established in trade of that general character common at the time, and afterward made several voyages to Holland in the prosecution of his commercial enterprises. Some years later we find him interested in privateering, and one of the owners, in 1649, of the frigate La Garce, engaged in depredations on the Spanish commerce. On the 6th of Dec., 1651, he purchased of the Indians, for Cornelius Van Werckhoven, an influential member of the provincial government of Utrecht, the "Raritan Great Meadows," and other large tracts of land in New Jersey, which acquisitions being objected to by the Amsterdam Chamber, Van Werckhoven was compelled the following year to abandon.¶

For reasons not apparent he was unfortunate in his business operations, and in September, 1652, "a fugitive" from his creditors, his affairs in the hands of assignees Paulus Leendertsen (Van der Griest) and Allert Anthony, who were finally discharged as such March 18, 1653. In May, 1653, he was granted "liberty and freedom" by the Council, and excused for having broken the Company's Seal, "having settled with his creditors;"

*A view of New Amsterdam, sketched by Augustyn Hermans, was engraved on Nicolas Jan Vischer's map Novi Belgii Novaeque Angliae nec non partis Virginiae, published in 1650-6, and also on a reduced scale from Visscher's map on the map prefixed to the second edition of Vanderdonck's Description of New Netherland. (Memoirs of the L. I. Hist. Soc., Vol. I., p. 230, foot note.) It will be found at the bottom of the latter map in the Coll. of N. Y. Hist. Society, Vol. I. (second series) facing the title; also in O'Callaghan's Hist. of New Netherland, Vol. II., p. 312. and in Valentine's Hist. of New York.

On it is this statement: "Virginia and Maryland; as it is planted and inhabited this present year, 1670: surveyed and drawn by Augustus Hermann Bohemiensis;" also a beautiful portrait of the original settler of Bohemia Manor. || Brodhead's Hist. of N. Y., I., 476. In Van Tienhoven's answer to the Remonstrance of New Netherland (Nov. 29, 1650), he says that "AUGUSTYN HEERMANS went out in the [ship?] Maecht Van Enckhuysen, being as he now is clerk to Gabri in the trading business."

the same month he was bearer of dispatches from Gov. Stuyvesant to the New England authorities at Boston respecting an alleged conspiracy of the Dutch and Indians against the English. In December, 1658, he obtained permission to make a voyage, doubtless for trade, to the Dutch and French Islands in the West Indies, and arrived at the island of Curaçao, April 18, 1659. He left there the 16th of May following for New Netherland, and the next year made arrangements for settling permanently in Maryland.*

In his public positions he rendered useful and important service to the colony. He was one of the board of Nine Men, organized Sept. 25, 1647, and held that office in 1649 and 1650; one of the Ambassadors to Rhode Island in April, 1652, and in the same capacity, in company with Resolved Waldron, was sent to Maryland in September, 1659. On this latter embassy they were instructed "to request the surrender of fugitives or threaten retaliation, and to demand reparation for the seditious proceedings and 'frivolous demands, and bloody threatenings' of Col. Utie on the South River." Hermans kept a journal of their travels and proceedings while on this service, and with his associate urged, with great ability, before the Maryland governor and his council, the rights of the New Netherland Government, in opposition to Lord Baltimore's claim to the South River. "Indeed, it may be safely claimed that the independent existence of the present State of Delaware is mainly owing to the very reasons which they maintained so ably" at that time. The authorities at New Amsterdam were not unmindful of his influence, when, upon despatching Capt. Newton and Varleth on their mission to Virginia, in Feb., 1660, they instructed them "to inquire in Maryland if danger threatened the South river, and to avail themselves of the 'aid and tongue of Augustine Heermans,' " who was then in Virginia. Nor was the proprietary of Maryland—to which colony he returned in 1660—slow to recognize his talents and accomplishments, for, in that year, "as a compensation for his services in preparing for Lord Baltimore a map of the country," he obtained a patent for a large tract of land, embracing upwards of twenty thousand acres, "situated at the junction of the Elk River and Bohemia River at the head of Chesapeake Bay, and lying mostly in the present State of Maryland, but partly in the State of Delaware," to which he gave the name of Bohemia Manor.† To this place,‡ described by the Labadist travellers as "a noble piece of land," the best they had seen in all their journey south, he removed with his family about the year 1664, and there spent the remainder of his days.

In the Journal of a Voyage to New York, &c., in 1679–80, by Jaspar Dankers and Peter Sluyter, translated by Henry C. Murphy, Esq., and published in the Memoirs of the Long Island Historical Society, vol. i., will be found many interesting particulars relating to Augustyn Hermans and his family. Dankers and Sluyter belonged to the community of Labadists—a religious sect founded by Jean de Labadie, born near Bordeaux, in 1610—who, having made an unsuccessful attempt to colonize at Suri-

‡ HERMAN, or HARMAN, as the name was afterwards changed to, was the first proprietor of the celebrated Bohemia Manor, consisting of eighteen thousand acres of land, which lays partly in St. George's and Pencader hundreds, in Newcastle county, and partly in Cecil county, Maryland. This land is supposed to be the best in Delaware. (Extract from Vincent's History of Delaware, vol. i. p. 319.)

nam, came to New York and the adjoining colonies, as detailed in their journal, on a tour of observation, having for its ultimate object the establishment here of a colony of their co-religionists. Ephraim Hermans, the oldest son of Augustyn Hermans, became tinctured with their doctrines, and persuaded his father into an agreement to convey a portion of his manor to Dankers, Sluyter, and others, with the view of drawing a large community near his domain, and thus enhancing its value. Afterwards, believing that some deceit had been practised upon him in the matter, he refused to make the conveyance, but was finally compelled to do so by the court. On the 11th of August, 1684, he conveyed 3,750 acres of his manor lands "to Peter Sluyter, alias Vorsman, Jasper Danckaerts, alias Schilders, of Friesland; Petrus Bayard, of New York; and John Moll and Arnoldus de la Grange, of Delaware, in company." Upon this tract, the Labadists settled, but "nothing of them remained as a religious community" five years after the death of Peter Sluyter, which occurred in 1722.

When the Labadist travellers first visited Augustyn Hermans at his Manor, Dec. 3, 1679, they brought a letter from his son Ephraim, and were treated with "every kindness," although he was sick "and very miserable, both in body and soul;" he had none but negroes to serve him, and his misery was increased "by a miserable, doubly miserable wife," so miserable that they "will not relate it here." In the entry of their journal, Dec. 26, 1679, they speak of the family as follows:—"Ephraim Hermans is the oldest child of Augustine Hermans, there being two brothers and three sisters, one of whom lives now at Amsterdam. They are all of a Dutch mother, after whose death their father married an English woman, who is the most artful and despicable creature that can be found. He is a very godless person, and his wife, by her wickedness, has compelled all these children to leave their father's house and live elsewhere." Full of self-righteousness, these men regarded every one outside of their own persuasion as special objects of God's wrath, and doomed to endless perdition. A part at least of this tirade was doubtless due to the fact that Hermans had as poor an opinion of their religious tenets as they had of his godliness, and, in his will, "speaks in emphatic terms of condemnation of the connection of his son Ephraim with the Labadists."

JANNETJE VARLETH, his first wife, died some time after their removal to Bohemia manor, and probably prior to 1666. In that year, "Augustine Harman, of Prague, in the kingdom of Bohemia, petitioned the Maryland Assembly for the naturalization of himself, his sons Ephraim Georgius, Casparus, and his daughters Anna Margaritta, Judith, and Francina."* The custom then obtained of naturalizing the wife, as well as the other members of a family, and as her name is not mentioned in this petition, there is little doubt she was not living at that date. His second wife was a MISS WARD, of Cecil County, Maryland,† by whom he probably had no issue; the statement made by Mr. Hanson that his daughter, Anna Margaret, was the fruit of this second marriage, is shown to be an error by the Labadists' account of the family, and the baptismal records of the Dutch Church in New York.

VARLETH, two sons and three daughters, baptized in the Dutch Church in New Amsterdam, viz. :

1. EPHRAIM GEORGIUS HERMANS, bap. Sept. 1, 1652. His second name, Georgius, is usually dropped in the records. He accompanied his father's family on their removal to Maryland, but, in 1673, was a resident of New York city. He was a man of note, and held several offices under the English government in New York and Delaware, to which latter place he removed about 1676, and settled at Newcastle. He subsequently became a Labadist, and his father, it is said, pronounced a curse upon him "that he might not live two years" after joining that sect. He married in New York, September 3, 1679, Elizabeth Rodenburg, who appears to have been a favorite with the Labadists. They speak of her as having "the quietest disposition we have observed in America," and as being "politely educated." For a further account of them and their children, see page 32, foot note.

2. CASPARUS HERMANS, bap. Jan. 2, 1656. On the 16th Feb., 1674, he and his brother, Ephraim, obtained a patent for a tract of land near Newcastle on the Delaware. In 1679, he was residing about twenty-two miles from his father's manor, on a place named Augustine, which the Labadists found well situated, and of which they remark, it "would not badly suit us." He was a member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly from Newcastle, in 1683, 1684, and 1685. There was a Casper Augustine Herman, perhaps the same with his name slightly "dutchified," a member of the Legislature of Maryland, from Cecil county in 1694.* His first wife was SUSANNA HUYBERTS, whom he probably married on the Delaware. He married second, in New York, August 23, 1682, ANNA REYNIERS. He had one son (and perhaps other children), named Ephraim Augustine Herman, who was a member of the Legislature of Maryland, from Cecil county, in 1715, 1716, 1728, and 1731.

3. ANNA MARGARETA HERMANS, bap. March 10, 1658. She was keeping house for her brother Ephraim, at Newcastle, when the latter was visited by the Labadists in December, 1679. They speak of her as "a little volatile, but of a sweet and good disposition." She complained to them "that she was like a wild and desolate vine, trained up in a wild and desolate country;" that she wanted to know more of God and to serve him, and hoped the Lord would be merciful to her. She treated them "with great affection, and received thankfully" what they said to her. She became the wife of MATTHIAS VANDERHEYDEN or VANDERLEYDEN, who was a member of the Maryland Legislature, from Cecil county, in 1709, 1713, 1715, and 1716. They had Issue :†

ember," after the Labadists left him, "they were informed that he was very sick and at the point of death." An account is then given of his "tombstone," which was taken by the Bayards (who, after his death, came into possession of that portion of the manor in which his grave was situated), for a door for their family vault. The inscription on it is as follows :—"AUGUSTINE HERMAN, Bohemian, the first founder and seater of Bohemian Manor, Anno 1669."

The Labadists visited him in December, 1679, and the error in the date on the tombstone (?) described by Mr. Vincent is so palpable, that it hardly seems necessary to point it out. May it not have been a stone inscribed with the actual date of the settlement of the Manor?

4. ARIANA VANDERHEYDEN m. Feb. 9, 1713, JAMES FRISBY, son of James and Sarah Frisby, of Cecil county, Maryland, and had Sarah Frisby, born Dec. 7, 1714; Ariana Margaret Frisby, born Sept. 18, 1717, and Francina Augustina, born Aug. 16, 1719. JAMES FRISBY, died Dec. 18, 1719, aged 35 years, and his widow, ARIANA VANDERHEYDEN, married Sept. 1, 1723, THOMAS BORDLEY, born 1682 in Yorkshire, England; he came to Kent Co., Md., in 1694, and finally settled at Annapolis; they had Issue: three sons, Thomas, Matthias, and John Beale Bordley. Thomas Bordley died Oct. 11, 1726, O. S., and his widow ARIANA married for her third husband, in Nov., 1728, EDMUND JENINGS, ESQ., of Annapolis, where they resided until 1737, when they went to England. She was inoculated for small-pox there, of which she died in April, 1741. He died in 1756, while on a visit to England. They had Issue: one son, Edmund Jenings, born in 1731, and one dau. Ariana Jenings.

4. JUDITH HERMANS, bap. May 9, 1660. Her name appears in the petition of her father to the Maryland Assembly, in 1666, for the naturalization of himself and children, and is the last notice found of her.

5. FRANCINA HERMANS, bap. March 12, 1662. She went from Maryland to Holland before 1679, but soon returned to this country. She joined the Dutch Church, in New York, by letter, or certificate, from the church in Old Amsterdam, Dec. 5, 1684, and was then single. She subsequently married JOSEPH WOODT (Wood), and had bap. in the Dutch Church, in New York, Jenneken Wood, bap. Oct. 18, 1693.

4 iii. MARIA VARLETH² was probably the second daughter of Casper Varleth¹ and his wife Judith. She was thrice married: 1st to JOHANNES VAN BEECK, 2d to PAULUS SCHRICK, and 3d to WILLIAM TELLER, whose widow she was at her death, in 1702. Her first marriage, in the spring of 1654, was the source of much trouble to the authorities of New Amsterdam. On the 10th of Feb., 1654, Johannes Van Beeck petitioned the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens that the banns of matrimony between him and Maria Varleth might be registered and proclaimed. This had previously been done through the court at Gravesend (L. I.), a proceeding which the New Amsterdam court objected to as contrary to the "practice and custom of our Fatherland," because the parties were not domiciled there. Upon the earnest prayer and remonstrance of Casper Varleth and Johannes Van Beeck, the Court, on the 19th of Feb., 1654, enquired more fully into the matter, and, in an elaborate opinion, preserved in their minutes, finally adjudged "that the aforesaid young persons having made their proper Ecclesiastical proclamation with the earliest opportunity, that they follow it up with the bonds of matrimony immediately thereafter." * On the 2d of March following, Governor Stuyvesant requested a copy of this opinion or resolution of the Board of Burgomasters and Schepens, with "the written reasons why such resolution was not submitted to the Director-General and Councillors for their approbation," and alleging that Johannes Van Buckley's [Van Beeck's] marriage was "not only without the knowledge of his Father but expressly against his prohibition against marrying abroad." † In the meantime Van Beeck had resolved to consummate his matrimonial purpose elsewhere, and, on the 27th Feb., 1654, posted notices in various places in New Amsterdam, setting forth the difficulties opposed by Director Stuyvesant to his marriage at Gravesend, and protesting against the same, also giving his reasons for leaving the neighborhood. On the same day an order for his arrest was made, and a letter of the Director and Council was addressed to all Governors, Deputy Governors, Magistrates, and Christian Neighbors, stating that he and Maria Varleth, assisted by Caspar Varleth and Augustine Hermans, had run off to New England to get married, and requesting them not to solemnize such marriage, but send back the runaways. It appears, however, that they were married at Greenwich by Richard Crabb, a noted character and Acting Magistrate of that place. On the 14th of Sept., 1654, by a decree of the Council in the case of Johannes Van Beeck, "who was married to Maria Varleth at Greenwich, Conn., by an unauthorized farmer named Goodman Crab," the marriage was declared unlawful, and the parties ordered to live separate. ‡ It is probable that this decree was finally annulled, for, after the death of Van Beeck, Maria was recognized by the court as his lawful widow.

JOHANNES VAN BEECK was probably a younger son of Isaac Van Beeck of Amsterdam, one of the Directors of the West India Company, and perhaps came here with his brothers, Nicholas and Joost Van Beeck, about 1650. § On the 9th of Sept., 1653, he obtained a deed from Ariaen Keyser of a house and lot in Pearl Street. From the following it appears that he was killed by the Indians in the terrible massacre of September, 1655: "9th Nov., 1655, Orphans' Court.—Whereas John Van Beck came to his death by the late misfortune [irruption of the Indians] leaving a widow and minor child, &c." . . . "16 Nov., 1655, The Court appointed Joost Van Beck, brother of the deceased, and Nicholas Verleth, brother of the widow, guardians, &c., of the child." . . . "20 Jany., 1656. Joost Van Beck refuses to serve as guardian, as he doubts the legality of the marriage and has a claim against the estate, so both he and Verleth are dismissed, and Paulus L. Van der Grist and Govert Loockermans appointed." || In May, 1656, Joost Van Beeck having obtained a judgment against Maria Varleth, widow of Johannes Van Beeck, she petitioned for its annulment. In the mean time he sued her for slander, to which she paid no attention; but the Council, on the 3d May, 1656, ordered her arrest for contempt in not answering his complaint. No further reference to the matter appears, and probably here her legal troubles ended. Johannes Van Beeck and Maria Varleth² had issue, one daughter:

§ In a letter from the Directors at Amsterdam, dated April 18, 1651, Gov. Stuyvesant was instructed that permission had been given the agents of Gerard Smith, Nicolas and Joost Van Beeck to select lands for their colonies in New Netherland and one or two lots in the Mannhattans (Cal. N. Y. Hist. MSS. Dutch, p. 276). Joost Van Beeck Isaacksen and his wife, Maria Anna Saffe, had a son, Petrus, bap. in New Amsterdam, August 22, 1655. He probably returned to Holland with his family before the English conquest.

1. JUDITH VAN BEECK, bap. May 9, 1655. She m. in Willemstadt (Albany) August 29, 1674, GABRIEL MINVIELLE, a native of Bordeaux in France. They both joined the Dutch Church in New York, Dec. 13, 1674. He afterwards became a communicant of the French Church, but returned to the Dutch Church again June 1, 1676. His wife's name not appearing with his at the latter date, and there being no further account of her, it is supposed that she died the year after her marriage, without issue. He was a merchant, one of the prominent men of his time, and Mayor of New York in 1684. He married, second, m. l. dated Jan. 25, 1676-7, Susanna, dau. of John Lawrence, and died in Sept., 1702, leaving no children. His widow married William Smith, m. l. dated Dec. 22, 1702.

MARIA VARLETH² m. second, Nov. 29, 1658, PAULUS SCHRICK, a native of Neurenberg (Nuremburg). He is noticed by Mr. Savage as of "Hartford, one of the little colony of Dutch from New York, that had planted before the English went thither," and his wife's name mistakenly given as "Mary, widow of Josephus Ambeck." On the 29th of Oct., 1652, he obtained a deed from Claes Janszen Van Naerden of a lot in Pearl Street in New Amsterdam, and was, perhaps, a resident here for a short time, his name first appearing in the records Dec. 24, 1651, as a sponsor at the baptism of Warnar, son of Hendrick Van Diepenbroeck. He was a merchant—a Free Trader—and resided chiefly at Hartford, Conn., until his death in 1663. His son Paulus was born there, and probably his daughter Susanna Maria, though both were baptized in New Amsterdam. He is frequently styled de Heer, or the Honorable, in the records, and was an important personage among the burghers of New Amsterdam and Beverwyck (Albany), to which places, and to Holland, his trading enterprises extended. Paulus Schrick and Maria Varleth² had issue, one daughter and son, both baptized in the Dutch Church in New Amsterdam the same day, viz.:

I. SUSANNA MARIA SCHRICK, bap. Sep. 2, 1663. Her second name, Maria, is dropped in the record of her marriage and baptism of her children. She joined the Dutch Church in New York, Nov. 30, 1676, and married at Albany, May 2, 1681, CAPT. ANTHONY BROCKHOLST.* This name was usually spelled Brockholes, but the Captain's autographs in the Secretary of State's office at Albany are written Brockholls, in the records of the New York Dutch Church it is Brockholst, Broeckholt, Brockholt, Brochols, Brochold, and Brokholes, while in the Surrogate's office it is written Brockholst and BROCKHOLST, which latter seems to have been the name preferred by his descendants.

When the Duke of York commissioned Major Edmund Andros in 1674 as his Lieutenant and Governor, Lieut. Anthony Brockholst, in case of his death, was to succeed him in the government of New York and its dependencies. Of a Roman Catholic family in Lancashire, England, seated at Claughton for many centuries, he was "a profest Papist." He was a member of Andros' first Council, and in his temporary absence from New York in 1677-8, administered the government. He succeeded Sylvester Salisbury, who died in the winter of 1680, as Commandant at Albany, and on the departure of Andros for England, in January, 1681, was appointed by special commission Commander-in-Chief, etc., of the New York Government, in which capacity he acted until the arrival of Gov. Dongan, in August, 1683. He was also a member of Dongan's Council, and in 1684 bore the title of Major. In October, 1688, he accompanied Gov. Andros on his journey to New England, and was left in command of Fort Charles (Pemaquid), Maine, in March, 1689, from whence he was sent to Boston the following month. In January, 1690, Lieut.-Gov. Leisler ordered his arrest, but it does not appear that he suffered much on this account.* On the 11th of Nov., 1695, Major Anthony Brockholst and Capt. Arent Schuyler, in behalf of themselves and their associates, Samuel Bayard, George Ryerson, John Mead, Samuel Berrie, David and Hendrick Mandeville, obtained a Patent (having purchased, June 6, 1695, the Indian title to the same) for 5,500 acres of land from the East Jersey proprietors at Pacquanac, now known as Pompton Plains, Morris County, N. J.† He was afterwards reported in June, 1696, as one of the ten Roman Catholics residing in the city of New York, but in that or the following year he and Arent Schuyler settled permanently on their Jersey lands in the Pompton valley, on the east side of the river, and were, in all probability, the pioneers in that region of country. He was living at Pompton in June, 1710, and is supposed to have died in 1723. An allusion is made to the exemplification of Major Brockholst's will in a letter of Michael Kearney to Isaac Bobin, dated at Perth Amboy, Sept. 5, 1723,‡ but where the original was entered of record we have been unable to ascertain. His wife was living April 8, 1722, and was at that date a sponsor at the baptism in the Dutch Church, in New York, of Anna dau. of Philip French. Anthony Brockholst and his wife Susanna Schrick had seven children baptized in the Dutch Church, at New York, and one in Albany. Beside these, they had a son Henry, whose baptism is unrecorded. Only Mary, Henry, Judith, Susanna and Jannetie or Johanna, of their children, were living in November, 1701, the date of Maria (Varleth) Teller's will. Issue :

Jan. 1, 1725, of Elizabeth, dau. of Philip French, and Sept. 6, 1741, at bap. of Charles, son of Gulian Verplanck. Henry Brockholst Livingston, the fifth son of Gov. William Livingston, of New Jersey, was named after him, he being his maternal uncle. He resided probably all his life in New Jersey. In 1755, a division of a part of the land acquired by his father in 1695 at Pompton was made between him and Philip, son of Arent Schuyler, and the sons of Samuel Bayard. His will is recorded at Trenton. His property was bequeathed to his nephews and nieces, the same as his sister Mary's. He died March 4, 1766.

MARIA VERPLANCK, wife of Henry Brockholst, was a sponsor with David Clarkson at the bap. July 13, 1735, of Anthony, son of Frederick Philipse. At the bap. of Adriana, dau. of Gulian and Maria (Crommelin) Verplanck, July 13, 1748, Charles Crommelin and his wife, Maria Brockholst, were sponsors. It is not improbable that this Maria Brockholst, of whom we have no other mention, was the dau. of Henry and Maria (Verplanck) Brockholst, and the first wife of Charles Crommelin, his second being Sarah Roosevelt, whom he married Sept. 29, 1750.

At the bap. in the Dutch Church, in New York, March 30, 1726, of Maria, dau. of Frederick and Johanna (Brockholst) Philipse, DIRK VAN VEGTEN and his wife, Judith Brockholst, were sponsors. He was probably the son of Michael Dirkse Van Veghten and Maria Parker, of Albany, where he was bap. Jan. 26, 1690. From an old deed, dated April 20, 1742 (for a synopsis of which I am indebted to Mr. G. H. Van Wagenen, of Rye, N. Y.), it appears that Michael Van Veghten removed from Albany to New Jersey as early as 1724. In this deed, Dirck Van Veghten, of Somerset Co., N. J., Gentleman, described as the son and heir of Michael Van Veghten, late of said county, deceased, conveys jointly with his wife Judith, to John Watson, merchant, of Perth Amboy, N. J., a lot of land in PERTH AMBOY, which was purchased by his father, Sept. 30, 1724, of William Loveridge, of Perth Amboy. It is probable that Judith was his first wife, and his second Elizabeth Ten Broeck, who became a communicant of the First Ref. Dutch Church in New Brunswick, in March, 1744, of which it appears he was a member as early as 1732-5.*

8. SUSANNA BROCKHOLST, born Feb. 19, bap. Feb. 23, 1696; m. in 1720, PHILIP FRENCH, son of Philip French, Jr., and Anna (Philipse) French; he was bap. Nov. 17, 1697. His father, who is described in the record of his marriage (July 6, 1694) in the Dutch Church in New York as Mr. Philip French, "Van London," was a native of Kelshall, Suffolk County, England, born in 1667, and came to New York in June, 1689. He was a prosperous merchant, and an active anti-Leislerian. He was Speaker of the Assembly in 1698, and Mayor of the city in 1702. In his will, dated May 29, 1706, proven June 3, 1707, he mentions his wife, Anna, son Philip, and daughters Elizabeth, Anna and Margaret, and refers, not by name, to the children of his brother John.*

PHILIP FRENCH probably lived in New York city until about 1727, when he became a resident of New Brunswick, N. J., where he owned a large estate in land, comprising it is said the greater portion of the present site of that town. In 1732-5 he was a member of the First Ref. Dutch Church there, of which he or his son, Philip, was a liberal benefactor in 1765. His wife, Susanna, died in Holland, whither he accompanied her for the benefit of her health in 1729-30. He married second about 1732, ANNA FARMER. He had four daughters by his first wife and one son by his second, all baptized in the Dutch Church in New York, viz.:

1. ANNA FRENCH bap. April 8, 1722. At her baptism her mother's name is recorded Susanna Brokholls, Jr.; the sponsors were Adolph Philips and Susanna Brokholls, who was without doubt the wife of Major Anthony Brockholst. She m., Sept. 25, 1744, DAVID VAN HORNE, son of Abraham and Maria (Provoost) Van Horne; he was bap. July 20, 1715. They had issue one son and six daughters, viz.: 1. Capt. David Van Horne, of the Revolutionary Army, subsequently known as Gen. David Van Horne, m. Sarah Miller; 2. Mary, m. Levinus Clarkson; 3. Cornelia, m. Philip P. Livingston; 4. Catharine, m. Gen. Jacob Reed; 5. Elizabeth, m. Charles Ludlow; 6. Susan, m. George Trumbull; 7. Anne, m. William Edgar.

She m., about 1745, WILLIAM LIVINGSTON, son of Philip and Catharine (Van Brugh) Livingston; he was bap. at Albany, Dec. 8, 1723. Governor of the State of New Jersey from 1776 to 1790. He died July 25, 1790. His wife died July 17, 1789. They had thirteen children, six of whom died during the Governor's life-time,† viz.: 1. a son, born 1746, died in infancy; 2. a son, born 1747, died in infancy; 3. Susannah, born 1748, m. John Cleve Symmes; 4. Catharine, born Sept. 16, 1751, m., first Matthew Ridley and second John Livingston; 5. Mary, born Feb. 16, bap. Feb. 25, 1753, m. James Linn; 6. William, born March 21, bap. March 31, 1754; 7. Philip Van Brugh, bap. July 28, 1755; 8. Sarah Van Brugh, born Aug. 2, 1756, m., April 28, 1774, John Jay;

3. ELIZABETH FRENCH, born Dec. 27, 1724; bap. Jan. 1, 1725; the sponsors were Henry Brokholst and Elizabeth Van Hoorn. She m., May 3, 1749, DAVID CLARKSON, JR., second son of David and Anna Margareta (Freeman) Clarkson, and grandson of Matthew Clarkson, Secretary of New York from 1689 to 1702; he was born June 3, bap. June 8, 1726. He was an opulent and prosperous merchant in New York for many years before the war of the revolution, but as he was an uncompromising whig during the war, nearly the whole of his fortune was lost by his devotion to the popular cause. His death occurred Nov. 14, 1782. His wife died June 14, 1808, and was buried by his side in the cemetery of the Dutch Church, at Flatbush, L. I. They had issue seven sons and one daughter, viz.: 1. David, b. July 30, 1750; d. young. 2. David, b. Nov. 15, 1751, a captain in the Rev. Army, m. Jane Mettick, and d. s. p. June 27, 1825; 3. Philip, b. April 4, 1754, d. young. 4. Freeman, b. 4. MARIA FRENCH, bap. June 19, 1726; the sponsors were Fredrik Philips and Johanna Brocholst, his wife. She became the second wife of HON. WILLIAM BROWNE, of Beverly, Mass., son of Samuel Browne, of Salem, Mass., and had issue: 1. Anne, b. Aug. 25, 1754, and d. unmarried in New York. 2. Sarah, b. 9. JOHANNA BROCKHOLST, born Feb. 15, 1700, bap. Nov. 6, 1700; m., about 1719, FREDERICK PHILIPSE, only son of Philip and Maria (Sparks)

Philipse, and grandson of Frederick* and Margaret (Hardenbroeck) Philipse, of New York. He was born at Spring Head, so-called, on the estate of his father, in Barbadoes, in 1695. Left an orphan in 1700, he was sent to New York the next year by desire of his grandfather, who immediately sold the Spring Head estate, so that his grandson might not afterwards be induced to settle in Barbadoes, an arrangement that gave great displeasure to his mother's relatives. His grandfather died Nov. 6, 1702, leaving him a large estate, including the "Yonkers plantation," and by the death of his uncle, Adolph Philipse, the whole manor of Philipsburg, in Westchester County, with the upper Highland patent of Philipstown, in Putnam County, became vested in him as the nearest male heir of his grandfather, Frederick.† He died in New York, July 26, 1751, of consumption, and was buried in the family vault in the Dutch Church, at Sleepy Hollow, near Tarrytown. The following notice of his death is from the New York Gazette, etc., for July 29, 1751: ‡ "New York, July 29, 1751: Last Friday Evening departed this Life, in the 56th year of his Age, the Honorable FREDERICK PHILIPSE, Esq., one of his Majesty's Justices of the Supreme Court of this Province, and a Representative in our General Assembly for the County of Westchester. He was a Gentleman conspicuous for an abundant Fortune; but it was not his Wealth that constituted his Merit; his Indulgence and Tenderness to his Tenants, his more than Parental Affection for his Children, and his increased Liberality to the Indigent, surpassed the Splendor of his Estate, and procured him a more unfeigned Regard than can be purchased with Opulence, or gained by Interest. There were perhaps few Men that ever equalled him in those obliging and benevolent Manners, which, at the same Time that they attracted the Love of his Inferiors, created him all the Respect and Veneration due to his Rank and Station. That he was a Lover of his Country, is gloriously attested by his being repeatedly elected into the Assembly for the last 27 Years of his Life. He had a Disposition extremely social, and was what few ever attain to be, a good Companion. But what I have said of his Character is far from being a finished Portrait; it is only a sketch of some few of his Excellent Qualities, many features I am sure, have escaped me; but I dare say, that those I have attempted, are not set off with false colours, but drawn faithfully from the Life."

He left surviving him his wife Johanna, two sons, Frederick his heir, and Philip, to whom was devised (in equal portions with his sisters) the upper highland patent of Philipstown, and three daughters, Susannah, wife of Mr. Beverley Robinson, Mary, whom he calls in his will his second daughter, and Margaret, called his youngest. They had nine children baptized in the Dutch Church in New York, but their dau. Mary's baptism (who married Col. Roger Morris) does not appear here, if the published date of her birth, July 5, 1730, is correct.§

His wife was killed by a fall from her carriage, on the Highland estate, in 1765. Frederick and Johanna (Brockholst) Philipse, had issue; though holding an elevated position in Colonial society, he was not a prominent actor in public affairs. He was, however, a member of the Assembly and Colonel in the militia. On account of his loyalty to the British crown during the war of the Revolution, his estate, one of the largest in the province, was confiscated by the New York Legislature, and upon the withdrawal of the British troops from New York in 1783, he went to England, where he died at the city of Chester, April, 30, 1785.* He married ELIZABETH RUTGERS, a widow, the dau. of CHARLES WILLIAMS, ESQ., and had with other issue, Frederick, Jr., for an account of whom see Burke's Dictionary of the Landed Gentry, etc., and Bolton's History of Westchester, vol. 1, p. 322.

2. SUSANNA PHILPSE, bap. Feb. 3, 1723. The sponsors were Henry Brockholls and Catharina Philips. She died young.
3. PHILIPPUS PHILPSE, bap. Aug. 28, 1724. The sponsors were Philip French and Maria Brokholst. He was a merchant for some years in New York,† and died there, May 9, 1768. He married MARGARET, dau. of Nathaniel MARSTON, and had with other issue, Frederick, for an account of whom see Burke's Landed Gentry and Bolton's History of Westchester. His widow married Rev. John Ogilvie, m. l., dated April 15, 1769, afterwards the Rev. John Ogilvie, D.D., who was at the time of his death (Nov. 26, 1774), Assistant Minister of Trinity Church in New York, and whose first wife was Catharine, dau. of Lancaster Symes.
4. MARIA (MARV) PHILPSE bap. March 30, 1726. The sponsors were Dirk Van Vegten and Judith Brocholst, his wife. She probably died young.
5. SUSANNA PHILPSE, bap. Sept. 20, 1727. The sponsors were Henry Brokholst and Susanna Brokholst, the wife of Philip French. She married, about 1750, CAPT. BEVERLEY ROBINSON, son of Hon. John Robinson, of King and Queen County, Virginia, and where he was prob. born in 1722. His father, on the retirement of Sir William Gooch as Governor of Virginia, in August, 1749, became President of the Council of that Colony, but died a few days thereafter. His mother, Catharine Beverley, was a dau. of Robert and Catharine (Hone) Beverley, of Virginia, and a sister (not the dau., as Bishop Meade has it) of Robert Beverley, author of the history of that colony, first published in 1705.‡ He came to New York as early as 1746, and was Captain of a "Company of Foot lying in Fort George," in November of that year. His marriage made him wealthy, giving him as it did, the possession of his wife's large estate on the Hudson River, near West Point. He was living here at the commencement of the Revolution, and opposing the separation of the colonies from the mother country, he raised the Loyal American Regiment, and sought to prevent that glorious result. Of this Regiment he was commissioned Colonel. In the treason of Arnold, Col. Beverley Robinson's name is conspicuous, and it is supposed he was aware of that officer's defection, before any other person. It is said he was much opposed to Major André's trusting himself to the honor "of a man who was seeking to betray his country." After the capture of that unfortunate gentleman, he was conveyed, Sept. 26, 1780, to Col. Robinson's own house, which Arnold had occupied as headquarters, and then used by Washington temporarily as such. He and his wife and his son Beverley, Jr., were included in the "Act for the Forfeiture and Sale of the Estates of Persons who have adhered to the Enemies of this State, etc," passed by the New York Legislature, 22d October, 1779, and the whole of their immense estate passed from the family. The British Government granted him the sum of £17,000, which was considered only a partial compensation for his loss. At the conclusion of peace in 1783, Col. Robinson left for England, where he lived in retirement at Thornbury, near Bath, and died there in 1792, aged 70 years. Susanna his wife died at the same place, in November, 1822, aged 94.* For an account of their children, see Burke's Landed Gentry, Burke's Peerage and Baronetage, and Sabine's Loyalists of the American Revolution, vol. 2, p. 221 to 229.

6. MARY PHILIPSE, born July 5, 1730. The association of this lady's name with that of Washington, lends attractiveness to her personal history, and is so interesting, that more than a brief allusion to it is deemed necessary. In February, 1756, Col. Washington left Winchester, Virginia, to have a personal interview concerning his rank in the Virginia forces, with General Shirley, Commander-in-chief of the British Army in America, at Boston. Upon this journey, performed on horseback, in the depth of winter, he was absent seven weeks. "While in New York," says Mr. Sparks, "he was lodged and kindly entertained at the house of Mr. Beverley Robinson, between whom and himself an intimacy of friendship subsisted, which indeed continued without change till severed by their opposite fortunes twenty years afterwards in the Revolution. It happened that Miss Mary Philipse, a sister of Mrs. Robinson, and a young lady of rare accomplishments, was an inmate in the family. The charms of this lady made a deep impression upon the heart of the Virginia colonel. He went to Boston, returned, and was again welcomed to the hospitality of Mr. Robinson. He lingered there, till duty called him away; but he was careful to intrust his secret to a confidential friend, whose letters kept him informed of every important event. In a few months intelligence came that a rival was in the field, and that the consequences could not be answered for, if he delayed to renew his visits to New York. Whether time, the bustle of a camp, or the scenes of war, had moderated his admiration, or whether he despaired of success, is not known. He never saw the lady again, till she was married to that same rival, Captain Morris, his former associate in arms, and one of Braddock's aids-de-camp.* Burke declares positively that she "refused the hand" of Washington, while Mr. Sabine regards this statement as very doubtful, and says, "the passage just cited seems to utterly disprove the assertion." Mary Philipse was married, Jan. 19, 1758, to COL. ROGER MORRIS, of an ancient English family, who was born in England, Jan. 28, 1727. He was a Captain in the 17th Foot, at the age of 17, one of General Braddock's aid-de-camps, and wounded at the defeat of that officer, July 8, 1755, on the Monongahela. He accompanied Wolfe in 1759 to Quebec, and participated in the battle on the plains of Abraham. On the 19th of May, 1760, he was made Lieutenant-Colonel of the 47th Foot, and in June, 1764, retired from the army. He settled in New York, and was a Member of the Council, from 1765 to the commencement of the war. Col. Morris' country-seat was situated on the high bank of the Harlem River, at the present 169th Street. The premises are now better known as the late Madame Jumel's estate. Adhering to the Crown during the war of the Revolution, his property, including the large estate of his wife, was confiscated by the New York Legislature in 1779. He received from the English government the same amount that Col. Robinson did, £17,000, as "compensation money." It appears, however, that, owing to his marriage settlement, the Confiscation Act did not affect the rights of Mrs. Morris' children, and in 1809, they sold to John Jacob Astor their reversionary interest in the estate for £20,000. In 1828, Mr. Astor received from the State of New York, for the rights thus purchased, the sum of $500,000. At the close of the war, Col. Morris went to England, where he died, Sept. 13, 1794, aged 67. His widow died, July 18, 1825, aged 96. The remains of both were deposited near Savionr-gate Church, York.† She and her sister Susanna were remarkable for their longevity, considering the fact that their father died of consumption, and three of their sisters and two brothers in infancy. Col. Roger and Mary (Philipse) Morris, had with other issue Henry Morris, for an account of whom see Burke's Landed Gentry and Sabine's Loyalists.

7. MARGARITA PHILIPSE, bap. Feb. 4, 1733. The sponsors were Adolf Philipze and Margarita de Peyster. She is supposed to be the Margaret named in her father's will as his youngest daughter. She died in July, 1752, unmarried.
8. ANTHONY PHILIPSE, bap. July 13, 1735. The sponsors were David Clarkson and Maria Ver Plank, the wife of Henry Brockhols. Died young.

II. PAULUS SCHRICK (son of Paulus and Maria (Varleth) Schrick), bap. Sept. 2, 1663, the same date as his sister Susanna Maria. He was born at Hartford, Conn., and joined the Dutch Church, in New York, March 5, 1681. He was a merchant, and engaged in the Virginia trade. He married May 11, 1686, MARIA DE PEYSTER, dau. of Jan (or Johannes) and Cornelia (Lubberts) de Peyster.* She was born Sept. 5, bap. Sept. 7, 1659, and became a communicant of the Dutch Church, June 10, 1682. This lady, whom we regard, by reason of her birth and alliances, as one of the most remarkable women born in New Amsterdam, was thrice married, and it is hazarding little of historical accuracy to say that a complete account of her family connections, by birth and marriage, would include a fuller history of the civil and military affairs of colonial times than the same account of any other person, born during the Dutch possession of Manhattan Island.

PAULUS SCHRICK, her first husband, died Oct. 11, 1685, just five months from the day of his marriage—an event which Dominie Selyns doubtless deemed sufficiently noteworthy, from the high social position of the young couple, to place in the church records. Their dwelling during their brief married life was on the east side of the Heeren Gracht (Broad Street.) They had no issue.

She married, second, Aug. 26, 1687, JOHN SPRATT, of Wigton, in Gallo-way, Scotland, and had three daughters and one son baptized in the Dutch Church, in New York.

* JAN (or JOHANNES) DE PEYSTER, the ancestor of a distinguished race of noted public men in the civil and military affairs of New York, was born at Harlem, in Holland, and came to New Amsterdam as early as July, 1649. His ancestors were originally from France, of noble descent, and fled to Holland to escape the persecution of Charles IX. against his Protestant subjects. Possessed of a considerable fortune by inheritance, he engaged in mercantile pursuits upon his arrival here, his trading operations being chiefly with the home country, and soon became in wealth and influence one of the prominent men of New Amsterdam. He was a Schepen in 1655-1657, 1658, and 1662; Alderman, 1666, 1667, and 1669; Burgomaster, 1673; Alderman, 1673 and 1676, and Deputy Mayor in 1677, having declined the Mayoralty in that year, on account of his imperfect acquaintance with the English language. It has been supposed he died prior to 1686, but as no mention of his widow's name (as such), who survived him many years, is found till 1689, it is probable his death occurred near the latter date. He married in the Dutch Church in New Amsterdam, Dec. 17, 1651, CORNELIA LUGBERTS, also from Harlem. She was a near relative of the De La Noys, and probably the sister of Marritie Lubberts, wife of Abraham De La Noy, who was keeper of the City tavern in 1652, and the first of that family in New Amsterdam. She made her will Jan. 19, 1699, with two codicils; the first dated Dec. 22, 1711, and the second ——— 17, 1714. It was admitted to probate Sept. 25, 1725. Supposing that to have been the year of her death, and that she was eighteen years old when married, her death must have occurred at the advanced age of 92 years. Johannes De Peyster and Cornelia Lubberts had nine children baptized in the Dutch Church, in New York, viz.:

1. JOHANNES DE PEYSTER, bap. Aug. 1653; died in infancy.
2. JOHANNES DE PEYSTER, bap. Oct. 7, 1654; died in infancy.
3. ABRAHAM DE PEYSTER, bap. July 8, 1657; m. at Amsterdam, Holland, April 5, 1684, Catharine De Peyster; Mayor of New York in 1691-2, and 1693; died Aug. 8, 1728. His wife was born July 19, 1655. They had issue, thirteen children, of whom eleven were bap. in the Dutch Church, in New York.
4. MARIA DE PEYSTER, born Sept. 5, 1659, and married as noticed in the text.
5. ISAAC DE PEYSTER, bap. April 16, 1662; m. Dec. 27, 1687, Maria Van Balen [Van Baal], dau. of Jan Hendrickse and Helena (Teller) Van Baal, of Albany. They had ten children bap. in the Dutch Church, in New York.
6. JACOB DE PEYSTER, bap. Dec. 23, 1663; d. s. p.
7. JOHANNES DE PEYSTER, b. Sept. 21; bap. Sept. 22, 1666; m. at Albany, Oct. 10, 1688, Anna Bancker, dau. of Garrit and Elizabeth Dirkse (Van Eps) Bancker; Mayor of New York in 1698, and died Sept. 25, 1711. His wife was born April 1, 1670. They had twelve children bap. in the Dutch Church, in New York.
8. CORNELIS DE PEYSTER, bap. Oct. 4, 1673; m., first, Sept. 20, 1694, Maria Bancker, probably dau. of Evert and Elizabeth (Abcel) Bancker, and had seven children bap. in the Dutch Church, in New York. He m., second, July 21, 1711, Cornelia Dishington (or Dissenton), widow of Alexander Stewart, by whom he had five daughters. He made his will Aug. 8, 1729; proved Aug. 22, 1752; names wife Cornelia, daus. Cornelia, Maria, Johanna, Catharina, Margaret, Jane, Elizabeth and Sarah.
9. CORNELIA DE PEYSTER, bap. Dec. 4, 1678; d. s. p.

She married, third, January 28, 169 $\frac{8}{9}$, DAVID PROVOOST, JR., Mayor of New York in 1699, by whom she had no issue.

- In the year 169 $\frac{8}{9}$, the 28th of January, I, David Provoost, was lawfully joined in marriage with Maria Depeyster, widow of John Spratt, of blessed memory.
 In the year 1659 was born my wife Maria, between the 4th and 5th of September, at 2 o'clock in the night, at New York.
 In the year 1701, on the 3^d of May, died in the Lord my beloved wife Maria, in the afternoon, between 6 and 7 o'clock, aged 41 years, 7 months, and 29 days, of which we lived together 2 years, 3 months, and 3 days, until the Lord separated us. She was buried in Col. Abraham De Peyster's vault, in the churchyard.

(ALTHOUGH only connected by marriage with the Varleth family, it is believed that a further account of JOHN and MARIA (DE PEYSTER) SPRATT and their descendants will not be deemed inappropriate in this place. It is corrected, with some additions, from the author's notice of the family in the Genealogical Notes of the Provoost Family, pages 18 and 25.

JOHN SPRATT' was a native of Scotland, from Wigton in Galloway. The first notice found of him is in the ante-nuptial agreement entered into by him and Maria Schrick, widow, August 5, 1687. He was then a merchant in New York. At the time of this agreement, the parties made a joint will, which was proved January 5, 1696-7; this date of course approximates nearly that of his decease. He became a communicant of the Dutch Church in New York February 29, 1688; was an Alderman of the Dock Ward, 1688 and 1689-90; one of the Representatives from the city and county of New York, and Speaker of the Assembly, which convened under Leisler's authority in April, 1690. * MARIA DE PEYSTER, bap. 7th Sept., 1660 [1659]; espoused, first, PAULUS SCHRICK, &c. (De Peyster Genealogy, pp. 21-2.) It appears that she is not put down as the widow of Paulus Schrick, in the family Bible, but she is so called in the Dutch Church marriage records, and we note in this connection the omission in the Bible of the birth and baptism of CATHARINA SPRATT, her youngest daughter. She was bap. in the Dutch Church, in New York, Oct. 25, 1696, and the sponsors were Cornelis De Peyster and Catharina De Peyster, the wife of Col. Abraham De Peyster.

His performance of the ceremony accounts for the entry of their marriage in the Brooklyn church records.

He was a farmer at Schenectady, and at the burning of the village in 1690 was carried away captive by the French and Indians to Canada. He was much reduced in property by that event, in consideration of which, his father conveyed to him on the 20th of June, 1700, a house lot, and his lands in Schenectady. He made his will May 15, 1725, and spoke of sons Johannes, Willem, and Jacob; and daughters Margareta, wife of Jacob Schermerhorn; Maria, wife of Abraham Glen; and Annatie, wife of Harmanus Vedder. He died May 28, 1725.*

WILLIAM TELLER, SEN., and his second wife, MARIA VARETH², had issue, viz.:

8. CASPER TELLER, born at Albany. Certificates dated Sept. 16, 1692, that he had transported men from Albany to New York, with their accoutrements, etc., are noticed in the Calendar of N. Y. Hist. MSS., English, from which it may be inferred that he was a skipper on the North River. He was a sponsor at the bap. in New York, Sept. 18, 1692, of Jenneken, dau. of Major Anthony Brockholst, and had deceased before March 19, 1698, the date of his father's will.

9. JANNETIE (JOHANNA) TELLER, m. at Albany Nov. 26, 1684, CAPT. ARENT SCHUYLER, son of Col. Philip Pieterse and Margarita (Van Schlichtenhorst) Schuyler. He was born in 1661, was a trader, and removed from Albany to New York, as early as 1694, himself and wife joining the Dutch Church there on the 28th of February of that year. She died June 22, 1700. He married second, m. l. dated Dec. 12, 1702, SWANTIE DYCK-HUYSE. His third wife was MARIA WALTERS,† of New York, and perhaps the second dau. of Robert and Catharina (Leisler) Walters.

In 1696 or 7, Capt. Schuyler having purchased with others, as stated ante, page 90, a tract of land in what is now known as Pompton Plains, Morris Co., N. J., settled there in company with his brother-in-law, Major Anthony Brockholst. They located themselves, according to Mr. Schenck's statement, near to each other, on the east side of the river, just below the steel-works; Brockholst on the spot where Major William Colfax now resides (1871), and Schuyler, as near as can be ascertained, on the site of the residence of Dr. William Colfax. They were thus, in all probability, the pioneers in the settlement of this region, and the first to open up what was then a wilderness, "unless the tradition that Joost Beam settled at Wynockie as early as 1660 is true."*

How long he remained here is not known, but in April 1710, he had become a resident of New Barbadoes Neck,† in Bergen Co., N. J., where he lived until his death, which probably occurred in the latter part of the year 1730. His will is dated Dec. 17, 1724, with codicil Oct. 30, 1730; proven February 27, 1730-1. He had issue, twelve children, six by his first wife, and the mother of the others we are unable to identify.

In 1755, a division of part of the land which he inherited from his father, called the "Upper Pacquanac Patent," at Pompton, N. J., was made between him and Harry Brockholst (to whom the right had come from his father) and the sons of Samuel Bayard, the son and heir-at-law of Col. Nicholas Bayard. 9. PETER SCHUYLER, born about 1710; m. MARY, dau. of John WALTER, of New York. Col. Peter Schuyler was one of the prominent men of New Jersey in his day, and a brave soldier who did honor to his country. A sketch of his life and military services will be found in Winfield's History of Hudson Co., N. J., pp. 536-541—in the Schuyler Genealogy—to which we are indebted and the reader is referred. He died March 7, 1762. He had issue, a dau., Catharine, who m. ARCHIBALD KENNEDY, Earl of Casselis. 5 iv. CATHARINA VARLETH,² probably the third daughter of Casper Varleth¹ and his wife Judith, was born in Amsterdam, and married, in New Amsterdam, August (?), 1657, FRANCOYS DE BRUYN (BRUYN, BROWNE). It has been supposed by some that this Francoys De Bruyn was identical with Francis Browne, or Frans Bruyn, a soldier at Curaçoa in 1643, and living, in 1647, in New Amsterdam; but they were doubtless different persons, as the latter was from Yorkshire, while the former was a native of Amsterdam. Francoys or Francis De Bruyn was a member of the church in New Amsterdam prior to 1660. He removed to New Utrecht, L. I., as early as 1663—was a Schepen there in 1663–1664, and in August, 1673, was appointed Secretary of the Five Dutch Towns on Long Island, and Auctioneer, vice Corteljoſ, in January following, which is the last notice found of him. His wife, Catharina Varleth, probably deceased before September, 1662—the date of the death of her father. They had the following-named children baptized in the Church at New Amsterdam, viz.:

1. CASPARUS DE BRUYN, bap. Sept. 14, 1659. The sponsors at his baptism were Nicholaes Verleth and Otto Bagelaer.
2. AGATHA DE BRUYN, bap. Jan. 26, 1661. The sponsors at her baptism were Johannes De Peyster and Anna Verleth.
3. JACOB DE BRUYN, bap. March 5, 1662. The sponsors at his baptism were Anthony De Mill and Anna Stuyvesants.

6 v. JUDITH VARLETH,² born in Amsterdam, was probably the youngest daughter of Casper¹ and Judith Varleth. She resided for some time with her parents at Hartford, Conn., and in 1662 was imprisoned there on a "pretended accusation of witchery." In that year Ann, daughter of John Cole, "who lived near a Dutch family" at Hartford, "was seized in a strange manner with Fits wherein her Tongue was improved by a Demon," &c., who confounded her language, so that she "made Uterances in Dutch of which Language she knew Nothing." * It was probably in this case the accusation of witchery was made against Judith Varleth. Through the interposition of Gov. Stuyvesant she escaped her peril,† and it is related "that as soon as the suspected Witches were executed or fled Mrs. Cole was restored to Health." In happier hour, says the not always prosaic Mr. Savage, Judith Varleth's power of fascination was sufficient to ensure her marriage with NICHOLAS BAYARD, one of the patrician families of the neighboring province of New York. She married May 23, 1666, in New York, Nicholas, son of Samuel Bayard and Anna Stuyvesant, born at Alphen, in Holland, who accompanied his widowed mother and uncle, Gov. Petrus Stuyvesant, to New Netherland in May, 1647. In 1654 he was Clerk in the Secretary's office at New Amsterdam, and possessing, with other scholarly attainments, a knowledge of the English language, was appointed, July 1, 1657, English Secretary, and August 16, 1663, was made Commissary of Imports and Exports, vice Jacob Sam, who had returned to Holland. In August, 1673, he was commissioned Secretary of the Province, and, on the 20th of September following, Receiver-General. He was Mayor of New York in 1685, and for many years a prominent member of † Gov. Stuyvesant sent the Deputy Governor and General Court at Hartford, in October, 1662, the following letter in her behalf: "Honored and worthy Sirs: By this occasion of my brother in law [Nicholas Varleth] being necessitated to make a second voyage to ayd his distressed sister, Judith Varlet, imprisoned, as we are informed, upon pretend accusation of witchery, we realey believe, and, out of her well-known education, life, conversation, and profession of faith, we dare assure that she is innocent of such a horrible crimen, and wherefor, I doubt not he will now, as formerly, finde your honour's favor and ayde for the innocent." the Legislative Council. As the "Dutch head of the English party," he was among the most active of Leisler's opponents, and was imprisoned in the Fort by Leisler's orders for more than a year. Upon the arrival of Gov. Sloughter in New York, he was foremost in urging Leisler's execution. He was tried and condemned to death for high treason in March, 1701; but this judgment was reversed by Act of the Legislature during Lord Cornbury's administration. While ostensibly a brewer by occupation, he was from early youth an office-holder, and essentially a politician, with all the name implies. He died in 1709, leaving a large estate to his widow and only son Samuel; and it may be regarded as a fitting commentary upon the slackness of genealogical and biographical investigations in New York, that among his numerous and respectable descendants, male and female, the biography of a man who filled so large a space in the early history of the Colony remains unwritten. His will is dated May 9, 1707, in which he styles himself "of the city of New York Merchant," and names only his wife Judy, and son Samuel, whom he makes executors of his estate.

NICHOLÁS and JUDITH (VARLETH) BAYARD had issue :

His eldest son, Samuel, according to the statement in Stevens' Chamber of Commerce Records, p. 129, was born at New Brunswick, though it appears by the records he was bap. in New York. His dau. DITELOFSZEN.—DIEDELOOS.—DOREN. (?)

THIS name (not given in the following list of aliases) provokes inquiry, from the different forms in which it appears in the New York Dutch Church Baptismal Register, whether CLAES DITELOFSZEN or DIEDELOOS may not have been the ancestor of the DOREN family. Let us examine the record :

CLAES DITELOFSZEN and his wife Aeltie Samsons had a son Ditelof, bap. Feb. 1, 1662; their next child, daughter Catharyn, was bap. Dec. 31, 1664; at her baptism his name is recorded CLAES DUDLOOS; on the 13th Feb., 1667, their second son Samson was baptized, the father's name being registered CLAES DIEDELOOS. At each of these baptisms, Rutger Willemszen was a sponsor. On the 12th of January, 1681, DIDLOF DOORN (called DOREN in the Baptismal Register), married Elsie Jeuriaens, both living in the city suburbs. I suspect that this Didlof Doren was the eldest son of CLAES DITELOFSZEN, who was bap. Feb. 1, 1662. His first child, Diedlof (I follow the orthography of the record), was bap. May 25, 1681, Rutger Willemszen being present as one of the sponsors. DIEDLOF DOREN's other children were, Claes, bap. Feb. 7, 1683; Catharina, bap. May 4, 1684; Cornelis, bap. Nov. 1, 1685; and Jeuriaen, bap. Sept. 14, 1687.

To those interested in this family I suggest that it is not improbable that CLAES DITLO, or DIDLO, was identically the CLAES DITELOFSZEN above mentioned, and that he had a second wife AELTJE RUTGERS, but when and where married I am uninformed.

CLAES DITLO and his wife AELTJE RUTS, or RUTGERS (who was probably the dau. of Rutger Willemszen), had the following named children bap. in the Dutch Church, viz. :

1. GYSBERTIE, bap. Nov. 6, 1675; sponsors, Ruthger Willemszen and Magdalena.
2. GEERTRUYD, bap. Oct. 10, 1677; sponsors, Joris Walgraef [George Walgrave, of London], Geertie Jans, and Magdaleentie Rutgers.
3. HANS, bap. Oct. 30, 1680; sponsors, Willem Wessels and Geertie Siecken.

DUTCH ALIASES.

THE following list gives all, or nearly all, the aliases of males that appear in the Baptismal Records of the Reformed Dutch Church in the city of New York, from 1639 to 1756. The dates at the end of each name denote the years in which the baptism of the children of the person mentioned is recorded, and in which his two first names, or his first and sur-name, are given. Considerable care has been taken in making up the list, and it is offered as a help to those engaged in tracing the pedigrees of the early Dutch Families of New York.

KIP'S OF KINGSTON AND RHINEBECK, N. Y.*

We are greatly indebted to Mr. Gerrit H. Van Wagenen for the following account of the descendants of Hendrick and Jacobus Kip, sons of Isaac Hendrickszen Kip, noticed ante pages 50 and 51. Mr. Van Wagenen has, as will be seen, kindly favored us with an emended copy of his paper published in the NEW YORK GENEALOGICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL RECORD, Vol. XII., p. 29, containing many additions to his article as there printed. The materials comprised in the following account were gathered by him mainly from the records of the Dutch churches of Kingston and Rhinebeck, N. Y.

9. HENDRICK KIP, oldest son of ISAAC HENDRICKSZEN KIP, and Catalyntje Hendrick Snyers (Snyder), was baptized February 8, 1654. He settled at Kingston, N. Y., at an early date. He purchased from the Indians, July 28, 1686, a tract of land on the east side of the Hudson River, opposite Rondout Creek. This deed mentions no boundaries, and does not appear on record in Ulster County, but the original deed is in the possession of Wm. Bergh Kip, Esq., of Rhinebeck. This tract, and a tract of land adjoining it, purchased from the Indians by Gerrit Artsen, Arie Rosa and Jan Elton (Elting), June 8, 1686, the deed for which is recorded at Kingston, are covered by a patent granted by Governor Dongan, June 2, 1688, to Gerrit Artsen, Arie Rosa, Jan Elton, Jacob Kip, and Hendrick Kip. This patent is recorded at Albany in Book 6, page 328, of Patents. The original patent is in the possession of the family of the late William Kelly of Rhinebeck, whose lands are all within the territory covered by the Indian deed to Artsen, Rosa, and Elting. Hendrick Kip, whose wife's name appears in the baptismal records of Kingston to have been Annetje Jans (Van Putten), had only three children of whom I find any record, viz. :

61. JAN, bap. at Kingston, March 31, 1678; married, at Kingston, Sept. 28, 1703, Lysbet Van Kleeck. Their children were : 1. Henricus, bap. Sept. 3, 1704. 2. Baltus, bap. Mar. 17, 1706. 3. 62. HENDRICK, bap. at Kingston, July 7, 1688; married, at Kingston, Sept. 28, 1715, Jacomynte Newkerk. Had one child, named Jannetje, bap. at Kingston Sept. 23, 1716. A deed from Hendrick Kip and Jacomynte his wife, dated April 16, 1719, assigns to Matthys Sleight, Jr., his brother-in-law, "The one just half of two-thirds of the lands of Hendrick Kip, late of Dutchess County, father of the said Hendrick, which land was conveyed to said Hendrick and Catholynte his sister, by their eldest brother, John Kip, eldest son of Hendrick Kip, deceased."
